Henry Darling, D.D., LL.D., from Acts 10 : 19, 20: "While Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee. Arise, therefore, and get thee down, and go with them, doubting nothing: for I have sent them."

After the sermon, the Assembly was constituted with prayer.

The Committee of Arrangements presented their report, which was adopted, and is as follows:

The Committee of Arrangements recommend—

Allen.

The Standing Committee on Ministerial Relief presented their Report, which was accepted. The Assembly was then addressed by the Rev. George Hale, D.D., Corresponding Secretary of the Board of Relief. The Report was adopted, and is as follows:

There is not a more lovely and Christlike charity in the Church than this. It is doing something for Christ's children, in their want, and sorrow, and anxious care. She, who poured the precious ointment on the Saviour's feet and wiped them with her hair, did not for him a more acceptable service than the Church, the bride, the Lamb's wife, does when she ministers lovingly, in the name of the Master, to the needs of his disciples. It is not a burden laid upon us. It is a duty indeed, but more than that, it is a sweet privilege, as it is for strong sons to sustain the trembling limbs of an aged father, or of fond daughters to minister to the mothers who bore them.

So the churches begin to understand the work of this blessed Board. Year after year its power of blessedness grows with the growing heart of the Church, and last year the stream flowed in with a broader and deeper current than ever before. We have to count its means of usefulness by dollars and cents, and it is good to know that $67,981.60 were given by churches and individuals to relieve the wants of suffering ministers, or their widows and orphaned children.

But what is this sum among so many? It has been divided among four hundred and sixty-six; of these, two hundred, save four, are living ministers of the gospel, two hundred and forty-four are widows, and twenty are orphans; all these families looking only to God, in the person of his Church, to feed them as with manna from heaven. All these have suffered for Christ in the ministry of the word; for these widows and children have had their share in the burden and heat of the day; they have gone down with the faithful pastor into the valley of the shadow of poverty and then of death; the young wife was his pride and strength in the day of their espousals; she became the mother of his children, whom they gave to God in baptism; she cheered him in his toil, nursed him in his sickness, wiped the death-sweat from his brow, and caught his departing spirit on her lips of love; blessed was he to die in Jesus and go to his throne and crown. She lives, and the little ones live, for the Church to feed and clothe. Is there a work more dear to Christ and his Church than the care of those who have thus suffered for the Church and Christ? And what does this great strong Church do for this forlorn and feeble band of four hundred and fifty-six? Hear it, O Israel! and cover thy face with shame. It gives them less than forty cents a day. "Tell it not in Gath, publish it not in the streets of Askelon, lest the daughters of the uncircumcised triumph."

Yet the Board does the best it can in the premises. It manages its trust with great economy, fidelity, and wisdom; and deserves the warm approval of the Assembly. The Permanent Fund is safely invested, and should be largely augmented by special donations; while church contributions ought to be immensely increased.

Some large Presbyteries, with wealthy churches in them, actually are beneficiaries of the Board themselves, taking out of this treasury large sums and putting in smaller far! And, were it not that, in some bright cases which the eye of Him who sitteth over the treasury sees and marks with a smile, a few Presbyteries pour in largely, while they draw out nothing or less than they put in, the treasury would be bankrupt and the aged and poor would starve.

We would not have such an endowment that every minister and family should be insured against want. That was never the divine idea of the Christian minister's life. But we would lay it on the heart of the Church, that these our brethren are a part of the household of faith, to whom we are bound by all the ties of the divine kinship to be fathers and brothers in their time of need. Every Presbytery should have a Relief Committee, as far as in it lies, to relieve every minister and family destitute without applying to the Board; enabling them to help themselves, and shielding them from the added pain of being known as receiving aid from the Church; and then taking care that every congregation, and every Christian in the Church, and every minister in the Church, pastor or not a pastor, every minister who may himself yet be on this fund, gives something every year to maintain and comfort these sons and daughters of the Lord Almighty, that their gray hairs may not go down in sorrow to the grave.

In 1879 the Board was obliged, by a general rule, to reduce all of its appropriations one fourth; but that has now been rescinded, and each case is examined and the relief furnished according to the circumstances. This is well; but the state of the treasury never enables the Board to meet the applications with such a measure of assistance, as the Church ought to give cheerfully to its ministers who look to it for bread.

An Overture from the Presbytery of Lackawanna, and an Overture from the Synod of Philadelphia, were returned to the Assembly as not properly coming before the Committee, and recommended to be referred to the Special Committee on Ministerial Support; also, an Overture from the Presbytery of St. Louis, in regard to a form of application to the Board of Relief.

Congratulating the Board and its officers on the efficiency of their service during the past year, and praying still larger measures of Divine benediction upon them and the dear servants of God whom they serve, the Committee would close their Report by recommending the re-election of the following persons, whose term of service will expire with this Assembly, to wit: Rev. J. H. Mason Knox, D.D., Rev. J. Frederick Dripps, John A. Linn, Esq., Jacob Wilson, Esq.

The following message, from the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, was read by the Moderator:

ATLANTA, GA., May 20th, 1882.

To the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America:

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, at Atlanta, Ga., sends cordial Christian salutations, wishing you grace, mercy, and peace.

R. K. SMOOT, Moderator.

The Assembly then passed to the consideration of the order of the day, viz., the Report of the Standing Committee on Freedmen. The Report was presented and accepted. The Assembly was then addressed by the Rev. Richard H. Allen, D.D., the Secretary of the Committee of Missions for Freedmen; also, on invitation, by the Hon.

Shelby M. Cullom, the Governor of the State of Illinois, and by others. The Report is as follows:

The Standing Committee on Freedmen respectfully report to the Assembly, that they have carefully examined the records of the Committee, and recommend their approval as far as written. Also, that they have considered the Annual Report of the Committee. From this Report of the work of the past year, there are many indications of progress and success, which ought to cheer the Church and stimulate the people of God to greatly enlarged benevolence in the work of educating and Christianizing the freedmen.

The following are some of the indications, as they come to us, from this great mission field:

1. In the last year there has been an increase of the contributions from the colored churches and schools above the previous year, aggregating more than $1000. When it is remembered, that the permanent success of this work must be measured by the readiness with which our schools and churches reach a condition of self-support, it will be seen that the $10,828.18 raised on the field brings us a most encouraging assurance that our labor is not in vain.

2. Out of the 174 missionaries and teachers employed last year, 140 are colored people. This clearly indicates the wisdom and success with which these missions have been conducted; for it is a fact, demonstrated in all our Christian missions, that pastors and teachers must be raised up among the people who are to be evangelized. From the beginning, the Church has been seeking to train and secure workers of the colored race to educate and preach the gospel to their people. The decided success which has attended this is further indicated by the fact that we have now an ordained colored minister for every three churches which have been organized among the freed people; indicating clearly that the Committee should press forward its work of organizing churches, and extend its work of evangelization among the larger populations towards the Gulf. The millions in the Gulf States, in which we have as yet no church organization, and the rapidity with which pastors and teachers have been prepared, unite in pressing this work of evangelization both upon the Committee and the enlarged benevolence of the Church.

3. The success of the last year is emphasized by the increasing number of young men and women, who are pressing for admission into the University and Seminaries established for their higher education. The equipment of these institutions is entirely inadequate to the accommodation of the students who ask for admittance. This is specially true with regard to the girls and young women who are seeking the training of the Scotia Seminary. The Committee would here call the attention of the Assembly and the Church to this Female Seminary, as worthy of special mention, both because of the great success which has attended its work, and because of the marked fidelity and devotion of its founder and superintendent, Rev. Luke Dorland and his Christian wife. For seventeen years they have worked and prayed for the success of this enterprise, and their prayers have been answered in a remarkable progress. The pressing of pupils into this Seminary has demanded enlargement of the buildings, and in the last year $7000 have been secured through the patient devotion of this servant of God, and the new building is already well under way. There can be no clearer evidence of success in the work among this people than that which is shown in this work of Scotia Seminary, in educating the future wives and mothers of this race.

4. A fourth sign of progress in the work is found in the number of marriages and infant baptisms reported by the missionaries. These clearly indicate progressive improvement in the social and religious condition of the people. The establishment and sanctification of all family relations according to God's great covenant not only secures a purification of society among the people, but gives assured confidence to the Church that our work is upon a permanent basis.

5. A fifth indication of success in this mission is found in the fact that, of the 164 students now in Biddle University, 127 are professors of religion, and 56 are studying for the ministry, and, in all the schools under the care of the Committee, there are 87 young men who are preparing for the ministry of the Presbyterian Church. If we are obeying the direction of the Master to pray the Lord of the harvest to send forth laborers into this harvest-field, these facts do most clearly show that the prayer is not in vain. These indications of success are so clear and expressive, as to warrant the Assembly in commending the fidelity, wisdom, and efficiency of the Committee and their Secretary, as well as in pressing the mission among this poor and ignorant people upon the whole Church for an enlarged liberality and hearty support.

In close connection with their great Church work, the Freedmen's Committee have under their care a system of schools, which may be classified as follows:

1. Parochial Schools, taught for the most part by the colored ministers in connection with their churches, upon which schools the success of our whole evangelical work amongst the freedmen largely depends.

2. Graded Schools, of which there are three, where the brighter pupils have the advantage of a somewhat more liberal training.

3. Normal Schools, of which there are two for the education of teachers, doing a noble work, one of which, Fairfield Institute, located at Winnsboro, S. C., stands badly in need of a new college building.

4. Chartered Institutions, of which there are three: Wallingsford Academy, Charleston, S. C., with its 600 pupils; Scotia Female Seminary, Concord, N. C., with its 200 girls, the future centres of 200 refined Christian homes; and, crowning the whole system, Biddle University, for the education of teachers for the higher schools, and ministers for the constantly increasing colored churches. This Institution, which, in the language of a prominent Southern Presbyterian minister, "has a mission second to none on the continent," is sadly crippled for want of room, and we would heartily commend the effort, which the Assembly's Committee on Freedmen are making to secure a new college building for this noble Institution, to the generous liberality of the churches.

In regard to the finances of the Committee, we learn that there has been, during the year, an increase of one hundred and three contributing churches. The growth in the receipts has enabled the Committee to expend, on account of missions, $60,467.34, against $48,- 102.59 during the former year. The receipts from all sources, for the support of both the missions and the schools, have exceeded the receipts of last year, for the same purpose, by about $20,000, of which, as stated above, $10,828.18 have come out of the deep poverty of our colored brethren on the field. But it gives us pain to be obliged to say, that 3369 of our churches, being a majority of 1140 of the whole, have given nothing to this Cause. We earnestly commend to our people the example of the colored churches, of which only 13 out of 151 churches have failed to contribute.

Meanwhile, a great recruiting field spreads out before us in the regions beyond, in the great States of Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, and Arkansas, with a colored population of 2,360,381, whom we have not yet reached with either a mission or a school. We are encouraged to extend the sphere of our labors, by the growing favor towards them of the Southern people. Our brethren of the Southern Presbyterian Church, especially, in many parts of the country, stand ready to co-operate with us; many of their churches feel kindly toward our missionaries and teachers; not a few of their people are ready to help us in building up our schools and extending our churches.

The Committee submit for the consideration of the Assembly the following resolutions:

1. The diligence and fidelity of the Committee of Missions for Freedmen, and of the Secretary, are hereby warmly commended.

2. The Committee are urged to press forward the erection of buildings for the use of the schools of higher education and for their permanent endowment, to the end that a body of well-trained and godly ministers of the word, catechists, and teachers may be raised up from among the colored people. And our congregations throughout the land are invited to contribute liberally to this good work.

3. In view of the large number of non-contributing churches, pastors and church-sessions are hereby earnestly exhorted to furnish their congregations an opportunity, at least once annually, to contribute to this great and important Cause of Christian benevolence.

4. The Committee are also advised to extend the missions and churches into the Gulf States, as soon as the means at their disposal will allow that to be done.

5. The Committee are also advised to urge upon the colored people the importance of aiming at self-help, up to the point of self-support, first in their churches and then in their schools.

6. The Committee are further advised, in the enumeration of their published Reports, to begin with the first Report which was made by the Committee to the General Assembly about seventeen years ago, according to the method adopted by the Board of Foreign Missions.

7. The Committee are hereby authorized to apply to the proper civil authorities in Pennsylvania for a charter, under a corporate name to be suggested by the Committee. The charter, if obtained, should be laid before the next General Assembly, together with a plan of organization under the same.

The Rev. John Gillespie, D.D., one of the most useful members of the Committee, has removed to a distant field of labor. We recommend the appointment, in his place, of the Rev. John M. Richmond, of Pittsburgh, and the re-election of the following as members of the Committee:

Laymen—James B. Lyon, Robert C. Totten, John C. McCombs, Robert S. Davis, William C. Aughinbaugh, Charles W. Hubbard.

The recommendations of the Committee were adopted.

The Special Committee on the Apportionment of Time presented their Report, which was adopted, and is as follows:
The Committee to arrange the time to be occupied in the consideration of the Standing Committees' Reports on the several Boards of the Church, and also to limit the time of speakers, beg leave to recommend:
1. That the Boards of Home Missions and of Foreign Missions have each two and a half hours, and that the Boards of Education, Publication, Church Erection, Ministerial Relief, the Temperance Committee, and the Freedmen's Committee, have each one and a half hours.
2. That the Secretaries be requested to make their statements within the limits of half an hour.
3. That the members of the Assembly be restricted to ten minutes in speaking at any one time, and without extension, and that the Moderator be requested rigidly to enforce this rule.
4. That the popular meetings, held in the evenings, be subject to the same rule as to the limit of time for addresses.

The Report of the Special Committee to consider the modes of operation of the Board of Home Missions in its relation to the Presbyteries was presented and accepted.

TUESDAY, May 23d, 2 o'clock P.M.

The Assembly met, and was opened with prayer.

The Assembly proceeded to the order of the day, viz., the consideration of the Majority and Minority Reports of the Special Committee to consider the modes of operation of the Board of Home Missions in its relation to the Presbyteries.

After extended consideration, the Reports of the Committee were referred to a new Special Committee, to report to the next Assembly.

The unfinished business was then resumed, and the recommendations of the Report of the Standing Committee on Home Missions were adopted. The Report is as follows:

The Standing Committee to whom was referred the twelfth Annual Report of the Board of Home Misssions respectfully report, that they have had the same under patient consideration, and find the following matters worthy of the attention of the General Assembly:

This year has been made memorable, in the history of the Board and of the Church, by the removal by death of the honored and beloved Secretary, Rev. Cyrus Dickson, D.D. Hearty in his friendship, consecrated to his work, untiring in his labors, and grandly eloquent in speech, the Presbyterian Church will long preserve his memory as a faithful man of God, and feel the impulse of his piety and enthusiasm.

The Board has elected to the place, thus made vacant, the Rev. William C. Roberts, D.D., whose long experience in the affairs of the Board, and approved gifts and culture, give large promise of usefulness in the great work to which he has been called.

We have to record the death, during the year, of an unusually large number of the Missionaries of the Board. Fourteen soldiers have laid down their armor and entered upon their rest.

With gratitude to the great Head of the Church, we record the general progress of the work along the entire line of operations. There has been extension in many directions. During the year the Board has had 1303 missionaries in its service, who have preached the gospel at stated intervals, at not less than 3000 places; have organized 196 Sunday-schools, and have under their care a total of 116,501 Sunday-school scholars. They report the organization of 155 churches, and the addition of 11,485 communicants—5290 by letter, and 6195 on confession of faith.

Many of the fields occupied by the Board have peculiar interest at the present time. The growth in population of Colorado has been marvelous. From 1870 to 1880 it was 386 per cent, and this very largely of Americans. Our Church has more than kept pace with this advance. In 1870 we had one church member to every 275 of the population; now one to every 80. Still "it is said that not less than three fifths of the population of Colorado, exclusive of the Mexicans, are without the preaching of the gospel in any form."

Dakota, until recently an almost unknown land, is crossed and recrossed with great railroad lines, and is filling rapidly with an intelligent and energetic, and, in the northern part of it, largely Scotch Presbyterian, population. In this field we may expect rapid results, as is indicated in the fact that, in four years, the Presbyterian churches of the Red River Valley have increased from four to twenty-four, and in Southern Dakota the churches have increased, within five years, from one to twenty-nine.

Montana, the region of our National Park, by its temperate climate and fertile valleys and splendid forests, is attracting people from every part of our own country, and from foreign lands; the character of the population being indicated by the fact, that Montana writes and receives more letters per capita than any other part of the United States. This field is noteworthy more in the splendid opportunity it offers than in anything that has been done to meet that opportunity. The call from Idaho is equally loud and pressing.

And beyond Montana is the new Empire of the Northwest, where a single Synod covers an area greater than six States of the size of New York. On this grand field, missionaries were the advance guard of occupation. Into it great tides of population are pouring. A few years will largely decide its character. Our Church has made a noble beginning there; but we cannot be too swift, or enter with too large a force.

The necessities and activity in a few far-away fields, thus sketched, are substantially the same from the Missouri to the Pacific, and from the upper peaks of the Rocky Mountains to the Gulf of Mexico; while the Central West is full of calls for new work, and of positions taken that must be held and enlarged.

The work among the Mormons is represented by a force of 19 Missionaries and 46 Teachers, having in charge 33 Day-schools and 37 Sabbath-schools, with about 1800 children under instruction, many of them of Mormon families.

More missionaries and teachers are earnestly called for. A line of school-houses and missionary stations, reaching from Idaho to Arizona, will solve the Mormon problem more rapidly and effectively than lines of soldiers and volumes of legislation.

Among the Indians, work is being done in Alaska, Washington, Arizona, and the Indian territories, in New Mexico, Nebraska, Michigan, and Utah.

The Government is moving, we are thankful to recognize, along the right path toward the reform of our Indian service—but how slowly! Meantime some tribes are verging rapidly towards extinction, and whatever is done for their civilization and salvation must be done speedily.

The disparity between the opportunity and the work remains, as in other years, and increases constantly. It is the old story, growing more emphatic year by year, as our national horizon enlarges, of the urgent necessity outrunning the consecration and activity of the Church. We have not yet reached the point wherein we may be said to be overtaking our responsibility. Great as has been our work, our field is greater, and those we have sent out to our extreme frontiers have been able to do little beyond "prospecting," measuring the land, and reporting how rich and well-nigh boundless is the future heritage of the Church if she be alive to her opportunity and faithful to her duty.

It is the old call, emphasized more by every year of our history, of the need of money and need of men, that we may occupy the land for Christ. More miles of railroad have been laid during the year than in any similar period of our history. More immigrants and of better classes are entering our ports than ever before. They are distributed in every part of the country—in Pennsylvania and New York, as well as in Montana and Idaho. In the older regions of the country they are forming States within States, and in the Far West they are creating States out of wildernesses, as if by magic.

How shall we feed this so great multitude? How, but by honoring in our faith and our conduct the power and the grace of the Redeemer to whom all these people belong, and who, in his providence, has doubtless brought them to our wilderness regions, not only that they might make them bloom as the garden, but also that he might feed them with the bread which he alone can supply for their urgent necessities.

The following features of the work seem to us worthy of special notice:

1. The relation of Home Mission work to our rapidly increasing foreign populations. The Board has a goodly number of churches among the Germans. We have two German Theological Seminaries to supply ministers to the German people. But the fact remains, that our force in this direction is wholly inadequate. Our deficiency as to other foreign immigrants is even greater. We have only one Scandinavian minister, and not one church, though many Swedes and Danes would be specially accessible to any ministers of our Church qualified to preach to them. The same holds true of other European immigrants. We are far behind Methodist and Baptist Churches in this regard.

We urge, that particular attention be given by the Presbyteries and the Board to the claims of all the foreign elements of our population, supplying them with preaching, and organizing Sabbath-schools wherever practicable, and, so far as possible, gathering them into our churches. And we suggest, for consideration by the Board, the expediency of appointing a sound, pious, and discreet German minister, who shall labor among the German population of the country, by seeking worthy and pious young men for the German Seminaries, placing graduates of these Seminaries, and German ministers who may be approved as to piety and soundness in the faith, among the German people in various parts of the country.

2. Home Mission work in the great cities of the country presents urgent features. Forty large cities contain one fifth of all our population, and that population is rising. In vain we evangelize at the extremities, unless we also hold these great centres of social, civic, and moral power. Fully bearing in mind, then, the necessity of occupying the outlying regions, whether East or West, we may not overlook the centralizing tendencies of national life at the present time; and we suggest to the Board a wise but liberal endeavor, in co-operation with the Presbyteries, to extend our work in the large cities. In our judgment, in the older cities of the country, the churches on the ground should carry on their own church extension by colonizing, and thus forming new centres of self-supporting life and power, and allowing the funds contributed for our general mission work to go to the new and poorer parts of the Church. But there are a score of new and rapidly rising cities, towards our frontiers, where the churches are unable to carry on their own mission work, where our Cause can be adequately advanced only by a policy of liberal expenditure, for a short time, and when such expenditure will be truest economy and the wisest policy. We must save the cities if we would save the land.

3. The Sustentation Department of the Home Mission work is not, as at present constituted, meeting the expectations of its friends. The Board complains that its provisions are too stringent to enable churches to meet them, and that, thereby, the general successful operation of it is greatly impeded.

Your Committee are of the opinion—

1. That this scheme, which works so admirably in Scotland, is especially adapted, as to its essential idea, to the more settled parts of our own country, and is worthy of our most patient, persistent endeavor to work it out to a large success.

2. That the experiment has shown that some of the restrictions put upon the churches, with regard to it, are excessive, practically operating to keep churches from adopting it, or to keep them from succeeding in their attempt to work it out. Also, that it is inconsistent with what should be the fundamental idea of the scheme, namely, the support of the churches too weak to sustain themselves, and too valuable in their work to be permitted to die. There are many such churches in the older States. They are advancing very slowly, perhaps not at all; but they furnish young men for our cities, for the West, for our schools and the ministry, and they are worth what it costs to maintain them in existence. Such churches need a sustentation scheme with such provisions as shall be within their reach. We submit, whether it would not be wise to reconstruct this department of our work on more generous and equitable principles. We refrain from specific recommendations touching modifications of the plan, because we understand the consideration of it is yet in the hands of a Committee appointed by the last General Assembly, and we earnestly commend it to the attention and consideration of this Assembly.

3. Our work at the South has peculiar difficulties. Your Committee recommend that the utmost care be exercised, to avoid all conflict or attrition with the churches of our sister-body in the Southern States, and that the work there be conducted in the spirit of the Christian union toward which we believe we are moving. We express our readiness, also, to co-operate with our Southern brethren on any fields and in any way that may help the progress of the Cause so dear to us both.

4. We recognize, gratefully, the answer to the progress of the Church, in the large numbers of young men who, in our Theological Seminaries, are offering themselves for the mission service of the Church. At the same time, we have to lament that so few, comparatively, are going from our Colleges to our Seminaries; and we urge upon God's people everywhere a spirit of prayer, that the suffering vacant fields of our land may not be left without reapers. Still in the judgment of missions a man is more precious than gold, and Christ's kingdom more precious than either. Oh, that fathers and mothers would so read the signs of the times, and consecrate their goodliest and best to the service of the Redeemer!

5. The work of the Woman's Executive Committee of Home

Missions presents many interesting and gratifying features, as it relates to the prosecution of the great and important special work of the women of the Church among the exceptional populations of our country. This work consists in the organizing and sustaining of schools for the education of Mormons, the Indians, and the Catholic populations of New Mexico—a work that cannot be measured, because it operates upon the children of these populations and moulds their characters, and prepares them for the responsibilities of future citizenship in this great republic.

It is gratifying to record an advance in their work, both in its more efficient and thorough organization among the Synods and Presbyteries, and in its results in the field.

There have been collected and distributed by the Women's Societies	$63,689 00
In boxes of clothing and bedding	25,245 00
	$88,934 00

Showing the gratifying increase of receipts, over last year, of $25,327 in cash, and about $18,000 in boxes, and a total increase of $43,327.

The money thus contributed has been expended in organizing new schools, building chapels, and supporting teachers.

Twelve new teachers have been sent out during the year, which, added to those already in the field, makes a total of one hundred.

Your Committee recommends the following for adoption by the Assembly:

1. The fidelity, zeal, and efficiency of the Home Board and its officers are hereby heartily commended.

2. The paper, Presbyterian Home Missions, is hereby commended to the attention of the churches, in the conviction that it will be of great value in giving a more intelligent interest in the Cause; and the duty of securing for it a general circulation is urged upon pastors and sessions.

3. The Assembly hereby reiterates its former recommendations, that the several Synods appoint Ladies' Synodical Committees to cooperate with the Woman's Executive Committee, in more thoroughly organizing the work in the Presbyteries and churches, and that thus this most important work may be more efficiently done.

4. Whereas, the Board annually reports the amount given by Synods and Presbyteries for the work of Home Missions, it is recommended that a column be added to the statistical tables of the Board, in which the sums given to the Synods and Presbyteries for Home Missions within their bounds shall be stated.

5. The work so great in the past year must be greater in the next. A half million of dollars is absolutely needed. An appreciation of the work and the united determination of the Church can easily secure it. This Assembly lays it upon the conscience of all pastors, sessions, and church members to strive, by more earnest prayers and more generous gifts, to be worthy of our heritage that it may become the heritage of the Lord.

In place of that Class of the Board whose term of service expires with this Assembly, we recommend the election of the following persons:

Ministers—John Hall, D.D., John R. Paxton, Henry M. Booth, D.D. Elders—George W. Lane, George R. Lockwood.

And in place of Rev. William C. Roberts, D.D., resigned, the Rev. Alfred Yeomans, D.D.

An Overture from a member of the Assembly, asking a definition of the word "Congregation" where it appears in the Form of Government in connection with the election of ruling elders, was referred to the Standing Committee on the Polity of the Church.

An invitation to the Commissioners, and all persons attending this General Assembly, to a public reception by Governor and Mrs. Cullom, at the Executive Mansion, on Thursday evening next, from 8 to 11 o'clock, was cordially accepted with thanks.

The Moderator was requested to forward the Christian salutations of the Assembly to the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church at Monmouth, Ill., and to the State Congregational Association, in session at Geneseo, Ill.

Adjourned to meet at 8 o'clock P.M.
Closed with prayer.

TUESDAY, May 23d, 8 o'clock P.M.

The Assembly met, and was addressed, in accordance with previous arrangements, in the interest of the work of Home Missions.

Adjourned until to-morrow, at 9 o'clock A.M.
Closed with prayer.

WEDNESDAY, May 24th, 9 o'clock A.M.

The Assembly met, and engaged for the first half-hour in devotional services.

The minutes of yesterday's sessions were read and approved.

The Special Committee on Education, appointed by the Assembly of 1881, to which was referred the Report made to that Assembly by the Committee on the Special Functions of the Board of Education, presented the following Report:

The Special Committee on Education reports that, after consultation by correspondence among the ministers on the Committee, it was agreed that, pending the settlement of questions regarding the Assembly's modes of operation, it would be a needless expense to the Assembly to convene the Committee.

The Committee, by its Chairman, has in the mean time been in correspondence with various educational institutions, has been collecting information, and obtaining the materials for the forming of a wise judgment. If, in the opinion of the Assembly, the continuance of this Committee is desirable, it is respectfully requested, that another person be placed at the head of the Committee, with more time at his disposal than can be given by the present Chairman.

The Report was accepted, and the Committee continued.

The Report of the Committee on Sabbath Observance was made the second order of the day for Friday, A.M.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures reported:

Overture, No. 1, from the Presbytery of Morris and Orange, on the subject of an earlier printing of the Minutes of the General Assembly. The Committee, believing that such diligence as is consistent with accuracy is already exercised, recommend that no action be taken in the matter.

Overture, No. 3, a petition from the Presbytery of Kalamazoo, asking that the word "vacant" be stricken from a recommendation of the Assembly of 1881 concerning the Minutes, so that each church, as well as each minister, shall receive a copy of the Minutes. The Committee recommend that no change such as is proposed by the petition be made in the recommendation referred to.

Overture, No. 5, from the Presbytery of St. Lawrence, relating to the expense of maintaining the several Boards, particularly the Board of Ministerial Relief, and suggesting the desirableness of uniting some of the treasurerships in one person, and also of having all salaries paid by the several Boards published separately and distinctly in their Reports. The Committee recommend that so much of this Overture as relates to the expenses of the Board of Ministerial Relief be referred to the Standing Committee on Relief for their careful consideration, and that no further action be taken in answer thereto at this time.

Overture, No. 6, from the Presbytery of Holston, in regard to printing Presbyterial certificates for Sunday-schools, as recommended in the Westminster Teacher for March, 1882. The Committee deem action by the Assembly on this subject unnecessary, and recommend that it be left to the action of the Board of Publication.

Overture, No. 7, from the Presbytery of Kalamazoo, asking for the publication of a cheaper edition of the Westminster Quarterly for the use of our Sunday-schools. The Committee recommend its reference to the Board of Publication for their consideration and action.

Overture, No. 8, from the Presbytery of St. Louis, in regard to the publication of a Hymn-book for use in the Sunday-school and the Prayer-meeting. The Committee recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

1. That a collection of hymns suitable for use in meetings for social prayer and in the Sunday-school should be provided by the Presbyterian Church for use by its churches.

2. That the Board of Publication be directed to take this subject into consideration, and to prepare and publish, at as early a date as practicable, a collection of hymns, such as is contemplated by this Overture, and furnish the same at such prices as shall place the collection within the reach of our Sunday-schools.

Overture, No. 9, from the Presbytery of Newark, relating to the employment of a missionary to look after arriving emigrants in the city of New York. The Committee recommend that this Overture be referred to the Presbytery of New York, for such action as may seem to be required.

The Special Committee on the Complaint of the Presbytery of Bloomington presented their Report, pending the consideration of which,

The Assembly proceeded to the order of the day, viz., the Report of the Standing Committee on Foreign Missions, which was presented and accepted. The Assembly was then addressed by one of the Secretaries of the Board, the Rev. John C. Lowrie, D.D., by the Treasurer, Mr. William Rankin, and by others. The Report is as follows:

The Standing Committee on Foreign Missions present to the Assembly the following Report:

They have examined the recorded Minutes of the Board for the year now ending, and also the printed Report of the Board for the same period.

A large amount of business has been transacted, much of it involving minuteness of detail; yet your Committee are impressed with the fact, that the affairs of the Board have been conducted with the utmost care. This is shown in four particulars:

1. In the appointment of missionaries.
2. In the purchase and protection of property.
3. In the inauguration of new enterprises.
4. In dealing with those interests which, unless carefully handled, are likely to create divergence of view on the part of those occupying the same mission field.

A mere glance at the operations of the Board for the year is sufficient to reveal, not only the vigor with which its work has been pushed forward, but the rich and varied spiritual fruitage gathered in the Master's name. In the hands of the Board, labor and achievement, sowing and reaping, have gone hand in hand.

The Board has under its management ten great mission fields. Three are located in the Western Hemisphere, one in Africa, and six in Asia.

In the churches under its supervision, gathered out of the darkness of superstition and heathenism, are a company of God's children numbering sixteen thousand four hundred and eighty-four (16,484).

Appointed by the Board and laboring under its direction are three hundred and fifty-two (352) ministers of the gospel, who are assisted by six hundred and seven (607) American and native helpers.

In the schools of the Board, instruction is given to twenty thousand and sixty-four (20,064) children.

Providence seems to be timing events in the interest of Christian evangelization. Changes that formerly required years to accomplish are now wrought in a day. From the cities of China, the mountains of Persia, and the plains of Brazil, the cry is heard which ages ago greeted the missionary apostle in the night vision at Troas, "Come over and help us." In Syria and Africa, in India and Idaho, among the Mexicans and Siamese, doors are being opened, barriers removed, and the way unexpectedly and gloriously prepared for the advance and triumphs of the cross.

During the past year, in the Mexican Mission, 1141 persons have confessed their faith in Christ, a larger number than in any one of all Synods except five. The evangelization of the Indians has been considered in some quarters the most difficult and hopeless task undertaken by the Church; and yet we find that among these people the gospel, as preached by our missionaries, has had such a transforming power, that the Board this year finds itself ready to transfer a part of its Indian missions to the care of the Presbyteries.

Other fields present facts no less significant, as showing the thoroughness and efficiency with which the work of the Board has been prosecuted.

It is with devout thankfulness the Committee are able to state that, for the third time in succession, the Board of Foreign Missions reaches the close of its fiscal year without debt.

The gifts of the women of the Church and Sabbath-school bands indicate a growing zeal in the Cause of Missions.

The aggregate contributions of the female societies are rapidly approximating the amount received in the usual church collections. The sum of $210,066.35 was received from the churches, and $178,180.27 from the Women's Boards. The gifts of the congregations this year have fallen below those of last year by $12,186.35, while the contributions from the Women's Boards have increased $7876.04.

It is painfully evident, that the aid afforded by many churches to the Cause of Missions falls far below the measure of material prosperity they enjoy. It is to be feared that, in not a few church members, a lessening sense of personal responsibility is cherished and excused on the ground of the increased liberality of others, whereas the enthusiasm of those who so recently have come to the aid of the Mission Cause, in the form of organized societies, should inspire with greater liberality those whose efforts they have so generously undertaken to assist.

The Committee respectfully offer the following resolutions and recommendations:

1. We gratefully recognize the work done by our Christian women in kindling a zeal for missions in the heart of the Church, and would express the earnest hope, that their devotion and liberality may both intensify and enlarge the interest of our congregations in the regular contributions of the Church, upon which the Cause of Missions should chiefly depend for its support.

2. In view of the fact that, among heathen nations, new and inviting fields are opening on every hand, and that, to supply the demand for missionary labor, the Board feels constrained to enlarge its operations, we recommend that the Assembly declare its firm resolve to stand by the Board in this onward movement, and urge upon our churches the necessity of increasing their contributions to Foreign Missions at least $100,000 over and above the gifts of last year.

3. We recommend the General Assembly to call upon our pastors, on whom the duty of maintaining and extending this work chiefly depends, to seek to advance the Cause of Missions in their own congregations, by Scriptural teaching and disseminating missionary information, to make their people know and feel their personal responsibility.

4. We recommend that each pastor be required to give this Cause at least one annual presentation and call for a contribution; and that all use their utmost endeavors to make sure, that the offerings of their congregations keep pace with the increasing demands of this great and growing work.

5. We recognize the increasing value of The Foreign Missionary, and recommend it to our pastors and churches as indispensable to an intelligent interest in the Cause of Foreign Missions.

6. The General Assembly recognizes with gratitude the goodness of God in continuing the life and usefulness of its venerable senior Secretary for Foreign Missions, the Rev. John C. Lowrie, D.D., until he has completed fifty years of faithful and continuous labor in this blessed service. The Assembly thanks the Secretary for his fidelity, hopes that he may live to see the annual income of the Board $1,000,000, and prays that after this life he may enjoy an everlasting crown of righteousness in the kingdom of glory.

The present is a crisis in the history of missions. The whole world is waiting for the gospel. The great want of this Church is consecrated men, to carry the news of salvation to the ends of the earth. In view of this want, the General Assembly last year enjoined upon the Church to pray the Lord of the harvest to send forth laborers into his harvest, and appealed to young men in our Theological Seminaries to give themselves to this work. That prayer has been answered. During the past year an unprecedented number of men have responded to the call, and now the responsibility of this onward movement is thrown back upon the churches. The question to-day is, "Shall the thirty young men now under appointment be sent out and supported?" Further: "Shall young men of succeeding classes in our Seminaries be encouraged to follow their example?" Dare we check the rising tide of missionary enthusiasm in these Institutions, by saying to gifted and godly men, ready to leave their homes for the foreign field, "We cannot send you"? Who will claim that we have reached the full measure of our ability and duty? In this glorious day of opportunity for which the Church has waited and prayed, shall we, who should joyfully rally to the standard of our King, and glory in the privilege of being his instruments for the spiritual conquest of the world, retard, by any obstacle whatever, the wheels of his advancing chariot?

The Committee would recommend the re-election of the following-named persons to serve as members of the Board for three years—1882 to 1885,—their terms of service expiring with this meeting of the Assembly:

Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst, D.D., Hon. William E. Dodge, Hooper C. Van Vorst, LL.D., George A. Coe, Esq.; and the election of Robert Lenox Kennedy, Esq., to serve in the place of Rev. Llewelyn D. Bevan, D.D., who has resigned.

The minutes of the Board are also recommended for approval.

The recommendations of the Committee were adopted.

The Committee on Elections reported the names of the following Commissioners, who were duly enrolled: Minister—Joshua L. Russell, from the Presbytery of Philadelphia, Central; Elder—William Hart, from the Presbytery of Chicago.

The orders of the day for Thursday P.M. were reconsidered, and the Reception of Delegates from Corresponding Bodies was made the order of the day for 2 P.M.

The following message, from the General Association of Congregational Churches of Illinois, was read:

GENESEO, ILL., May 24th, 1882.

The General Association of Congregational Churches of Illinois, in session at Geneseo, to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church:

Dear Brethren: Grace, mercy, and peace be multiplied unto you. We give you fraternal and earnest greeting in the faith and fellowship and hopes of the gospel; we rejoice greatly in the manifest favor of God characterizing your testimony and your work; and our prayer is that, in the future, exalting still more the faith once for all delivered to the saints, you may know the love of Christ which passeth knowledge, and be filled with all the fullness of God.

In behalf of the Association,

EDWARD P. GOODWIN, Moderator.

Adjourned to meet at 2 P.M.

Closed with prayer.

WEDNESDAY, May 24th, 2 o'clock P.M.

The Assembly met, and was opened with prayer.

The Report of the Standing Committee on Publication was presented and accepted. The Assembly was then addressed by the Rev. William E. Schenck, D.D., the Corresponding Secretary of the Board of Publication, and by others. The Report is as follows:

The Standing Committee on Publication, having had under consideration "the forty-fourth Annual Report of the Board" and the various Resolutions and Overtures referred to this Committee, would respectfully report:

1. The resolution of the Assembly requires, that we "take into consideration the expediency of establishing branch depositories in the cities of Chicago and St. Louis."

2. The Presbytery of Chicago "overtures the Assembly, to take steps to re-organize the scope and work of the Board of Publication, so as to bring it into closer connection with our churches, looking to the opening of denominational bookstores and publishing houses, in such places, North and West, as the pressing work of our denomination demands."

3. The Presbytery of Chicago, also, expresses "the matured opinion" that "the time has fully arrived, when the interests of our benevolent church work imperatively demand, that the Boards of our Church be officially represented at Chicago;" and that their Commissioners to the Assembly be instructed to present and urge the matter upon the attention of this judicatory.

4. The Presbytery of Clarion sends up an Overture, and asks that the price of Sunday-school periodicals be reduced, especially that the prices of The Westminster Primary Leaf, The Westminster Lesson Leaf, and The Westminster Quarterly be reduced.

The publications of the Board are, as they have ever been, of the highest order. The Board has preserved to our Church a pure and truthful literature. No other establishment can provide for our families and our churches all that we demand. The publications of the Board command the confidence of all our people. We do not hesitate to commend them to households, to churches, to Sunday-schools, and to all seeking reading matter harmonizing with the truth as we hold it. We repeat what the Assembly said, one year since: "We feel convinced, that an intelligent survey of the issues of the Board will elicit general approval and satisfaction."

These publications, and whatever is true, and whatever enforces and exemplifies the truth, our Church should seek and strive to place in the reach of the people. Every effort should be put forth to disseminate such publications. We should bring them close to the people, and we should use our best efforts to interest the whole Church therein. Neither our Church nor our country lies as once, in the main, east of the Allegheny Mountains. Both have pushed their borders far beyond the Interior, and toward the West. The people, wherever we find them, the Church, wherever it raises its banner, must have the truth, and all that aids in disseminating and enforcing the truth. To aid in such a work, we advise that a Depository of all the publications of the Board, and such other publications as may be approved, be established in the city of Chicago; and that another of like character be established in the city of St. Louis; and that, at these Depositories, not only the publications of the Board, but the approved publications of other houses, be kept continually for sale. This recommendation complies with the request of the Resolution directing your Committee to take into consideration the expediency of establishing such Depositories, and, also, with the overture of the Presbytery of Chicago on the same subject.

Your Committee are impressed with the belief, that it is well to interest as many in the Church as we can in church work. The services that we render increase our love for the cause we serve. It is right, that those who reside away from Philadelphia should aid in the counsels and work of the Board. Members of the Board residing at Chicago and St. Louis may not attend very many of the meetings of the Board; but they can always be ready with information and counsel, touching the work and interests of the Board. They will be nearer and more accessible to very large and rapidly increasing portions of our Church. They must know more about the work to be done, and about the wants of the Interior and Western portions of our country; and, therefore, must render important assistance in this great work. We, therefore, recommend and nominate one member of the Board residing at Chicago, and another residing at St. Louis.

Your Committee sympathize with the earnest desire expressed, that all the publications of the Board be furnished at the lowest price consistent with the safety of the business of publishing its books, tracts, and periodicals. It is matter of congratulation that the business has been conducted so well, so wisely, and so safely, as to inspire confidence in the management. The business has ever been so transacted as to entitle all members of the Board, and its officers and agents, to the highest commendation for uprightness and integrity. This being true, we must trust the entire business to their wise and discreet management. We can only advise and express the wish, that the Board may furnish its publications at as low a price as may be business-like, wise, and prudent. This is especially to be desired in relation to all Sunday-school helps.

The Receipts into the Treasury, during the year, from all sources, including the balance of $39,506.95 from last year, were $270,230.02, and, exclusive of that balance, $230,723.07.

The entire Expenditures of the year have been $231,643.47.

The Balance in the Treasury, at the end of the year, March 31, 1882, is $38,586.55.

The Aggregate of Sales has been $180,502.62.

The term Missionary is the correct word to describe the man engaged in the work of the Board of Home Missions. When the same term is used to describe the field laborer, engaged in the service of the Board of Publication, it produces confusion. Hence the Board asks "the approval, by the Assembly, of the resumption of the title Colporteur." This is right. The work of the two Boards ought not to be confounded.

The Sunday-school work of the Board demands the highest consideration of the Assembly. By some means, it is not rightly understood and appreciated by the Church at large. No small portion of the Church seem to suppose, that, when collections are taken up for the Board, the same are to be used in the Publication Department; whereas the same are only to be used for the Colportage Fund and for the Sunday-school work of the Board. This should be clearly and sharply defined, when collections are to be taken up. We are persuaded that if this be done, the amount contributed by the churches will be increased, that the Publication Department will be enabled to retain large sums of money, and use the same in extending and increasing the publication of useful books, tracts, and periodicals at reduced prices.

Your Committee desire to call special attention to what is said, in the Report of the Board, about the Sunday-school work. It ought to have the prayerful and careful consideration of the whole Church. The sessions of our churches cannot afford to neglect the Sunday-school, and they cannot afford to disregard the injunction laid upon them to exercise rule over the whole house of God, including the children of the covenant and the Sunday-school.

To the excellent periodical literature, published by the Board, is added Forward, "an illustrated monthly paper, sixteen pages, quarto, to meet the wants of our young people who have outgrown the children's papers, and who demand something more mature." Like all the publications of the Board, its periodical literature will compare most favorably with any like publications in the country.

We recommend the adoption of the following Resolutions, viz.:

1. That a careful examination of the Financial Report, made in schedules giving minute details of the Publishing, Commercial, and Colporteur Departments of the Board of Publication, re-assures us of the fidelity of the members and officers of the Board to these great interests of the Church.

2. The General Assembly approves the use of the term Colporteur for that of Missionary, as proposed in the Report of the Board.

3. That the Board be directed to establish a Depository at Chicago and one at St. Louis, each to be liberally supplied with all the publications of the Board, and such religious literature as may be needed to meet the demands of a first-class bookstore for these great centres.

4. That the Board be requested carefully to consider the matter, and furnish all its publications, especially its Sabbath-school helps, having particular reference to the Westminster Primary Leaf and the Westminster Lesson Leaf, at as low a price as can be done with prudence and safety, and at the same time maintain their present standard of excellence.

5. That the Assembly heartily and cheerfully commends the District Superintendents appointed by the Board, for their fidelity and for the efficient services they have rendered to the Board and to the cause of Christ and his Church.

6. The Assembly approves the transfer of the Superintendence of the Colportage work of the Board to the Corresponding Secretary, Rev. William E. Schenck, D.D., whose long and efficient services entitle him to the confidence and support of all our Presbyterian people.

7. The Editorial Secretary, Rev. John W. Dulles, D.D., and the Secretary of Sabbath-school work, Rev. James A. Warden, in their respective offices, have rendered this Board and the Church an inestimable service, as abundantly shown in the great excellence of the literature, and the increased interest in the Sabbath-school work in our churches.

8. The Assembly recommends, that a Standing Committee on Sabbath-schools be appointed, by each Presbytery and Synod, for the purpose of holding Sabbath-school Institutes, stimulating Normal Classes, guarding against the intrusion of outside Lesson Helps, purifying the literature of Sabbath-school libraries, and to obtain statistics for the use of the Secretary of this Department.

9. That pastors and sessions be urgently requested to maintain a careful supervision of the objects for which collections are made in the Sabbath-schools, and to secure their contributions to our own benevolent Causes, giving due prominence to the Sabbath-school work of this Board.

10. The Assembly earnestly recommends the sessions of all our churches, in the exercise of their right, to appoint the Superintendent, and maintain a careful and authoritative supervision of all the Sabbath-school work of their congregations and mission enterprises.

11. The increase in the number of contributing churches and Sabbath-schools, and in the amount given to the benevolent work of this Board, is an encouraging token of divine favor, which is thankfully acknowledged; and a renewed and earnest appeal is made to pastors and sessions, to give all under their spiritual guidance an opportunity to contribute to this cause.

The Term of Office of the following members of the Board expires in May, 1882, viz.: Ministers—William P. Breed, D.D., William E. Schenck, D.D., Roger Owen, D.D., Charles A. Dickey, D.D., John Henry Sharpe, Thomas J. Shepherd, D.D., Samuel A. Mutchmore, D.D., Loyal Young Graham; Elders—Charles H. Biles, John A. Linn, Archibald McIntyre, Hon. John K. Findlay, Samuel C. Perkins, William Brockie, Robert N. Willson, and Hon. John Hill.

Your Committee recommend and nominate the following-named persons as members of the Board, to serve until May, 1885, and until their successors be appointed, viz.: Ministers—William P. Breed, D.D., William E. Schenck, D.D., Roger Owen, D.D., Charles A. Dickey, D.D., John Henry Sharpe, Thomas J. Shepherd, D.D., Samuel A. Mutchmore, D.D., and Loyal Young Graham; Elders—Charles H. Biles, Henry C. Blair, Archibald McIntyre, George F. Wiggan, Samuel C. Perkins, William Brockie, Robert N. Willson, and Robert C. Ogden.

We also recommend and nominate Rev. Herrick Johnson, D.D., to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rev. Rufus S. Green, to serve until May, 1883, and until his successor be appointed.

We also recommend and nominate William F. Reynolds to fill the vacancy of James T. Young, resigned, to serve until May, 1883, and until his successor be appointed.

We commend the Board of Publication, and its great work, to the great Head of the Church.

The recommendations of the Committee were adopted.

THURSDAY, May 25th, 2 o'clock P.M.

The Assembly met, and was opened with prayer.

The Standing Committee on Correspondence presented their Report, which was accepted, adopted, and is as follows:

The Standing Committee on Correspondence beg leave to report:

1. That the Rev. Thomas S. Childs, D.D., Delegate from the Assembly to the General Synod of the Reformed Church in the United States meeting in 1881; the Rev. William K. Hall, Delegate to the General Council of the Reformed Episcopal Church; the Rev. Conway P. Wing, D.D., Delegate to the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church; and the Rev. Edwin L. Hurd, D.D., Delegate to the General Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, have reported to this Assembly that they discharged the duty assigned to them respectively; the two former by personal visitation, and the two latter by written communications.

2. The Committee have had placed in their hands a letter addressed to the General Assembly, from the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

3. The Committee make the following recommendations:

That the Rev. John D. Matthews, D.D., be appointed Delegate to the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, now in session in Huntsville, Ala., and the Rev. Legh Richmond Janes, Alternate; and that if they are, neither of them, able to visit that Assembly in person, they be directed to prepare and send a letter which shall convey to that body the assurance of our fraternal regard.

4. The Committee remind the Assembly that the Third General Council of the "Alliance of the Reformed Churches throughout the world holding the Presbyterian system" is to convene in the city of Belfast, Ireland, in the early part of the summer of 1884. And, in view of the extreme importance that the churches of our communion should be worthily represented in the Council, and the forty Delegates whom the General Assembly is to send, and their Alternates, shall be selected with deliberation and care, we recommend that a Nominating Committee, consisting of five ministers and two elders, be appointed by the Moderator, who shall present to the next General Assembly the names of such persons as they may deem most suitable to be chosen by the Assembly to represent it in that Council.

The Committee on Correspondence introduced the Rev. Christian Van der Veen, the Delegate from the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America, who addressed the Assembly. The Moderator responded to the address.

The following action was taken with reference to the Final Report of the Special Committee on the Revision of the Form of Government and Book of Discipline:

Resolved, That the consideration of the Report of the Committee on the Revision of the Form of Government and Book of Discipline be postponed until the next Assembly, and that the printed Report be sent down to the Presbyteries for their consideration and examination, and that the Stated Clerk be instructed to send a copy to every minister and church session.

The Report of the Standing Committee on Benevolence was presented and accepted. The Assembly was then addressed by the Rev. Arthur Mitchell, D.D., the Chairman of the Permanent Committee on Systematic Beneficence, and by others. The Report was adopted, and is as follows:

The Standing Committee on Benevolence present to the Assembly the following Report:

After examining with care the Third Annual Report of the Assembly's Committee on Systematic Beneficence, we gather from it a few facts that will serve to bring the general subject before the Assembly and the Church. But few items of deep or general interest, concerning this department of church work during the past year, have been brought to our attention. The meagreness of materials for a report has been painfully manifest, and your Committee have not felt that a discussion of the abstract subject of Beneficence, its principles, and relation to the general welfare of the Church, was especially required, or would be peculiarly profitable to the Assembly. The subject is a trite one, on which little can be said that is new, and little need be said that is old.

The enlargement of the Permanent Committee, by the Assembly of last year, to twelve members, indicated, at least, the belief that the subject was one of importance, and, also, the hope that it would yet command, throughout the Church, the attention which its importance merits. The Committee have discharged their duties with commendable zeal and fidelity, and have sought, in such ways as were open to them, to quicken the general liberality of the Church. A circular, entitled "The work revised and renewed," was sent to every pastor and session, giving hints and instructions as to the work to be done. A Blank for Statistics, authorized by the last General Assembly, was also prepared and sent to the churches. The results have not been remarkably successful or satisfactory.

The reports from the Presbyteries were few in number and fragmentary in character. This was due in part, doubtless, to the peculiar character of the Blank furnished by the Committee, which was so complicated in structure as well-nigh to defy attempts to meet its requirements. We are happy to be assured by the Committee, that the abilities of pastors and church sessions will not be tested again so severely.

The reports which were received in response to the circulars of the Committee revealed some facts of an encouraging nature. Many of the Presbyterial Committees on Beneficence are found to be earnestly and faithfully at work, in instructing and prompting the churches, and their efforts have been rewarded in some cases by greatly enlarged contributions.

A number of instances are given which show very large increase in gifts to the Boards. In one Presbytery the gifts to Home Missions were doubled, and to Foreign Missions nearly trebled.

In a few instances the reports to the Committee show a decrease in the amounts given to the Boards, and in the number of contributing churches.

The number of Synods and Presbyteries organized for this work of securing systematic and enlarged giving, by the appointment of committees is about the same as last year. The changes involved in the reconstruction of the Synods have to some degree interfered with the efficiency of the work.

An advance has been made, during the past year, in the total contributions of the Church to Benevolent work. Even the encouraging report of last year has been surpassed.

Except in the two Departments of Education and of Sustentation, there has been an advance in the contributions to the various Boards. The net increase last year to all the Boards was $85,662; this year it amounts to $125,775. The entire amount received by the several Boards from all sources, during the year, was $1,478,056, including balances from last year.

With the single exception of the Board of Home Missions, the Boards have closed the work of the year with balances in their treasuries. In the case of Home Missions there is a deficit of nearly $16,000, although the contributions to this Cause were larger than ever before. The enlargement of its work has left upon this Board the debt referred to. This prosperity of all our regular agencies for church work affords reason for special rejoicing and thanksgiving to God, who has enriched his people and disposed them to liberality.

It is a matter of special encouragement that there has been, during the past year, so decided an increase in the amounts received by the Boards, directly from the churches; for to this source must we look for the regular supply of funds to carry on the benevolent operations of the Church. The contributions obtained through individual and special donors, and by legacies, are subject to great fluctuations, and cannot be depended upon with confidence to supply a regular income. We must turn to the regular offerings of the whole people from Sabbath to Sabbath. Spasmodic and irregular gifts do not meet daily wants. The heart of the whole Church must be kept living, warm, and active, that the streams of beneficence may never cease to flow, and may flow from year to year with an increasing fullness.

It is also encouraging to note that the number of contributing churches increases each year, and in much larger proportion than the multiplication of new churches. The last year shows 2216 more blanks filled than in the preceding year. There stills remains, however, the evidence of great unfaithfulness and neglect, on the part of many of the churches, in the matter of contributing to all the Boards of the Church.

Twenty-two thousand four hundred and four blanks are unfilled. That number more of collections should have been taken in the churches. Had they been taken, tens of thousands more of the gold and silver, which are the Lord's, would have been in his treasury. It may be safely stated that there is not, in all the land, a Presbyterian church so poor that it cannot give something to help in extending the kingdom of the Divine Lord of the Church. It was the splendid encomium paid by an inspired apostle to the churches of Macedonia, that "their deep poverty abounded to the riches of their liberality." Many of our churches are sickly, and some are dead, because they have not obeyed the clear laws of spiritual life, they have not given as they have received. They have suppressed and strangled their own vitality. Retrenchment in giving strikes at the roots of spiritual life. It is pleading for the life of the Church to plead for an enlarged liberality. "There is a withholding more than is meet, and it tendeth to poverty." God's plan of spiritual blessedness and power for us would make us givers, as is he. Love grows on what it expends. Faith enlarges by believing. There is not a grace in the whole round world of perfected Christian character that is not strengthened and glorified by the blessed self-denials of Christian charity.

The report of the Permanent Committee reveals the fact, that the average of gifts per member, for all objects outside of the individual church, i.e., for those objects that are strictly benevolent, is less than $2.50. If we add to this small sum the amount paid to congregational expenses, $10.90 per communicant, we shall have for all church purposes less than $13.50 per member. If this is one tenth of the income of each member, then must our Presbyterian families be the poorest in all the land. That this is so, no sane man will assert. Our Church, favored of God, is rich in worldly wealth. Its members are generally intelligent, thrifty, industrious, accumulative. They press into all the avenues of business and trade, and lead in the occupations and professions whereby competence and wealth are secured. They are not poor. The Lord has given them liberally of the things of this world. Their homes, their schools and colleges and churches, are the indisputable proof of their pecuniary power. One tenth of Presbyterian incomes, poured into the treasury of the Church, would astound us with its amount.

It is clear that we are, as a Church, still far from filling up the measure of our responsibility. We have scarcely begun to deal with the primary elements of the religion which we profess. Giving is a vital, an essential thing, in Christian character. It is the signal and proof of spiritual healthiness. Christ in the soul is the enthronement of charity, or the spirit of benevolence, which must go forth with open hand and generous deed or it dies.

The Reports from the Boards of the Church declare what grand and blessed opportunities God has placed and is holding before the Church for the largest activities. But what are these but mighty condemnations, if we let the Mammonism of the world that perishes smother the impulses of the Divine life in us?

Your Committee are fully persuaded, that but little can be accomplished by the ablest Committee which the Assembly can appoint, in the real work that is needed to be done. Enough they can do to fully warrant their appointment, and to justify the payment of their trifling expenses by the Assembly. They can give suggestions and instructions by circulars and tracts. They can propose plans of systematic giving. They can aid in securing and distributing among the people a sound and inspiring literature on this subject. But they are still too far away from the people. Their voice is but the sound of a cold officialism, and their appeals may reach but few of the members of the Church.

The great work of instruction, of leadership, of inspiration, belongs to the pastor and the associate bench of elders. The Permanent Committee can do little beyond an attempt to awaken ministers to their duty. If they shall succeed in this, the way grows clear. To the pastors of our churches belongs the duty of persistently and patiently inculcating the spirit and the practice of benevolence among the people, as well as of inculcating the spirit and practice of truthfulness, of temperance, of charity, or of any other virtue. It belongs to them to make it clear as light to the people, that practical benevolence—giving, giving often—freely, largely, according to ability, is as essential a part of real religion, as is honesty or the spirit of forgiveness. If the Church ever rises to that height of practical charity which Christ commended when he was among men, it will be accomplished mainly through the courage and love of the men who, from the pulpit, teach the people what Christ has commanded in this matter. Nor alone in what they teach and preach, but in what they and their brother rulers and guides in the Church exemplify in their own deeds of benevolence.

The leaders of the people must practice themselves what they urge upon others. They are to be examples.

The discussion of the subject of systematic beneficence, throughout the Church, has done great good. The mind of the Church has been awakened. But the heart of the Church will be stirred and moved, along the lines of practical benevolence, only when pastors, with tenderness, courage, and persistence, present to the people Christ's claim for love, and his law for its demonstration. It is for them to smite the shallow reasonings of the selfish heart, as it pleads for ease, and comfort, and pleasure, as a part of the plan of a kind Heavenly Father for us, with the light of that higher wisdom of God which declares that "he that giveth his life shall lose it, and he that loseth his life shall keep it unto life eternal;" and that the Great Giver reserves his largest bounties of blessing for him whose soul, like his own nature, is filled with the spirit of benevolence.

It is for them to show God's people, that his purpose of love and law of life for them must be read in the smiling face of that Christ who, because he could give nothing greater, gave himself to our poverty, that we too might enrich the world by sacrifices akin to his own. It is for them to make the Church aware of it, that, as of old, her Divine Lord "sits over against the treasury," to see what his redeemed will cast in,—what love, and an answering gratitude for the love of the cross, will do. And who dare say that our Lord sees all that is his own cast in?

One year ago we cried to God for more men for our mission fields at home and abroad, and the answer has come marvellously. Christ challenges now the love of his Church, and asks us, "How shall they preach except they be sent?" The Church must respond; and your Committee are persuaded, that the angels of the churches must evoke the response. The duty and joy of giving must be persistently inculcated and exemplified. The selfishness of the human heart will withstand innumerable assaults upon it. The grace of giving is a plant in an inhospitable soil, and demands continual nurture.

Your Committee would direct the attention of the ministry and eldership to the publications of our Board on the subject of Christian giving. Most of them are in the form of small and cheap tracts, adapted for general circulation, and admirably fitted to awaken in the minds of readers a deeper interest in the subject. At very small cost, these tracts could be widely circulated among the people, as a means of education to larger benevolence. In conclusion, your Committee would recommend for adoption the following resolutions:

1. That the Permanent Committee on Systematic Beneficence, consisting of the following persons, viz.: Ministers—Arthur Mitchell, D.D., Charles S. Pomeroy, D.D., Henry M. MacCracken, D.D., I. Williams Cochran, Arthur T. Pierson, D.D., William T. Wylie, Francis A. Horton; Elders—Dan P. Eells, Archibald McClure, William Bakewell, Thomas Kane, Walter Carter, H. C. Noble,—be appointed for the coming year; and that the labors of the Committee be commended to the hearty sympathy and co-operation of the whole Church.

2. That each Synod and Presbytery be directed to appoint a Committee on Systematic Beneficence, and enter into communication with the Assembly's Committee.

3. That our ministers be urged to faithfully instruct the people, both in regard to the vast work of the Church in our own land and throughout the world, and in regard to the personal responsibility of every member of the Church, to help bear the burden of sustaining the cause of the Redeemer in all lands.

4. That our church sessions be urged to adopt some thorough plan of systematic giving, by which all the people will have an opportunity to contribute to each of the Boards; and that they, as the leaders of the people, co-operate by word and example with the ministry, in unceasing efforts to elevate the standard and enlarge the practice of Christian giving throughout the whole Church.

5. That our churches everywhere be reminded that their gifts are not merely "Collections for the Boards," but the offerings of thankful love to our Divine Lord; and that they be urged to secure, in all the families of God's people, the training of the children of the Church in the principle and habit of giving to their Covenant Redeemer; that they be permitted in the Sabbath congregation, and the Sabbath-school, and as often as possible, to have a share in the great work of the Church, to the end that, in the near future, we may have a generation of earnest workers and generous givers.

6. That the Board of Publication be recommended to print, for the Committee, such documents, bearing upon their work, as may meet the judgment of the Publishing Committee.

7. That the expenses of the Permanent Committee, for clerical services and postage, amounting to $224, be paid by the Assembly.

The Committee on Elections reported the names of the following Commissioners, who were duly enrolled: Minister—Alfred E. Myers, of the Presbytery of Cayuga; Elder—Newell S. Vanderbilt, of the Presbytery of Lyons.

The Standing Committee on the Narrative of the State of Religion within the bounds of the Church, for the past year, presented their Report. The Stated Clerk then read the Necrological Record for the year, after which the Assembly engaged briefly in devotional services.

The Narrative and the Necrological Record were approved, and ordered to be published in the Appendix to the Minutes of the Assembly.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures presented

Overture No. 10.—On the subject of Communion Wine, signed by Rev. Henry K. Hennigh. The Committee are of opinion that an Overture coming from a private individual, instead of from a lower church judicatory, should not be regarded as properly before the Assembly. This was so held by the Assembly of 1870 (see Digest, p. 547).

But if this point could be considered doubtful, the deliverance of the Assembly of 1881 fully covers the subject of this Overture, and a reference thereto is a sufficient answer. We, therefore, recommend that no further answer be given.

Overture No. 11.—A Memorial from Rev. Jonathan Edwards, D.D., LL.D., and Rev. Raymond H. Leonard, in relation to the use of the New Version of the New Testament, by the Board of Publication, in its Sabbath-school Helps. This Memorial is affected by the same rule referred to in answer to No. 10. It comes up to the Assembly through none of the lower judicatories of the Church. But, if the right of the Memorialists to be heard is considered, the Committee are not aware of any action of the Board relating to the New Version, or of any use made of the same in its Sabbath-school Helps, except as an aid to a proper understanding of the text of the Standard Version. No action, therefore, seems to be needed.

Overture No. 12 is a Memorial from the Presbyterian Historical Society, calling attention to its work during the year just closed. The Committee recommend the adoption of the following minute in relation thereto: The Assembly expresses its satisfaction at the very successful work which is being accomplished on behalf of our own denomination by the Presbyterian Historical Society, and Resolves, First, that it recognizes the expression made by the last Assembly of its warm interest in the work of the Society, and the commendation of it to the active sympathy and assistance of all our people; Secondly, that it earnestly recommends to each of its Synods and Presbyteries to appoint a Committee to co-operate with the Society, to procure material for it, and in all practicable ways to further its interests for the benefit of our entire Church.

Overture No. 13.—From the Presbytery of Cairo, relating to the need of preparatory schools, tributary to our Colleges, which shall be under the care of the Church, as relating to the functions of the Board of Education.

Overture No. 14.—A Memorial from the Synod of Kansas, on the same general subject.

Overture No. 15.—From the Presbytery of Austin, asking the General Assembly, through the Board of Education, to authorize the organizing and endowing of a Presbyterian College within the bounds of the Synod of Texas.

Inasmuch as this whole subject is under consideration by a Special Committee of the Assembly, your Committee respectfully submit and recommend, that these Overtures and Memorials, numbers 13, 14, and 15, be placed in the hands of the Special Committee on Education.

Overture No. 16.—A Communication from the Synod of Kansas, relating to the Nez Perces Indians. Your Committee recommend, that the Assembly call the attention of the Board of Home Missions, under whose care the missions among these Indians are, to the subject of this communication, and request them to investigate the present condition of these Indians, and their claims to be returned to their former homes; and, if satisfied of the propriety of so doing, to co-operate with the Synod of Kansas in its efforts in their behalf.

The Special Committee on the Binding and Distribution of the Reports of the Boards presented their Report, which was adopted, and is as follows:

Overture No. 2.—From the Presbytery of Elizabeth, on the matter of printing and distributing the Annual Reports of the Boards and the publication of special organs by any of the Boards. The Committee recommend that, as the Boards of Home and Foreign Missions are publishing their monthly periodicals in new and attractive styles, to the general satisfaction of the Church, and as the Monthly Record seems necessary to present briefly the work and the collections of the benevolent agencies of the Church, it is deemed unadvisable at this time to disturb the present acceptable arrangement.

Overture No. 4.—From the Synod of Iowa, in relation to directing the Board of Publication to bind for each year, in one volume, the Reports of the several Boards, and to furnish one copy thereof to every church and Sabbath-school which shall contribute to that Board a sum equal to the cost of binding. The Committee recommend that, as there has been no large demand for such bound copies, and as it is very uncertain how many will be called for, and, moreover, as it would seem unjust to the Board of Publication to require it to collect, bind, and distribute the Reports of the other Boards without proper remuneration,—the Board of Publication be directed only to collect and bind in one volume, at the least possible cost to the church or Sabbath-school applying for them, such a number of the Annual Reports of the various Boards only as, in its judgment, shall be necessary to meet the demand.

The unfinished business was then taken up, viz., the consideration of the Report of the Standing Committee on Education. The recommendations of the Report were adopted. The Report is as follows:

The Standing Committee on Education present the following Report:

1. It has always been the policy of the Presbyterian Church to maintain a high standard of qualification for the holy ministry, and to furnish, as far as practicable, the aid needed by the Candidates in their course of preparation for it. Matthew Pool, the great critical commentator of the seventeenth century, associated with him a large number of Presbyterian divines of the Westminster Assembly and the Provincial Assembly of London, in the formation of a model for students, securing them the necessary aid to prosecute their studies at the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge. In 1641, the Kirk of Scotland enacted, "that every Presbytery consisting of twelve ministers shall maintain a bursar of divinity, and where the number is fewer than twelve they shall be joined with those out of another Presbytery whose number exceeds; when this course is not already kept, that it be begun without delay; and every Provincial Synod is ordained to give an account of the number of bursars constantly entertained by their province to the next ensuing Assembly." It was further enacted, in 1645, "That every bursar of theology have yearly paid him for his maintenance £100 Scots at least;" "That the time of the bursar's abode at the schools of divinity exceed not four years; that all bursars of theology bring sufficient testimonials, yearly, from the universities where they are bred, of their proficiency and good behavior, and that they be also ready to give proof of their labors to the several Synods, if it shall be required; and, if they be found deficient, that they be denuded of the said benefice, and others more hopeful placed in their room." "And it is recommended to the Presbyteries to make choice of such for the burse as are of good report, inclined to learning, and have passed their course of philosophy, and to try their qualifications before they send them to the universities."

Dr. Chalmers, in the last address which he ever wrote, and which he had prepared to submit to the Assembly on the morning of his death, stated that this species of endowment by scholarships is indispensable to the prosperity and permanence of all collegiate institutions, and that, without it, all attempts to foster them into a state of health and productiveness would prove in a great measure abortive. "It is to such endowments," says Dr. Chalmers, "that all the seminaries of our higher literature are indebted for their strength and well-being; and we instance more particularly the higher colleges of England, whose glory has filled the world. Like almost all other seats of learning, whether at home or abroad, which have either given birth to the greatest names in science and theology, or have sent forth the largest number of well-educated ministers, they have been based on endowments."

Resting upon such precedents as these in the Presbyterian Churches of Great Britain, our American Presbyterian Church has carried on its work of aiding students in their preparation for the ministry through the Board of Education, and by means of scholarship endowments in connection with the various Colleges, Universities, and Seminaries connected with our Church. We have now the honor to report that our Board of Education has aided, in their preparation for the ministry, more than one third of the present ministry of our Church. An equal number have doubtless been aided by the scholarships of our Colleges and Seminaries, so that it is fair to conclude, that at least two thirds of our present ministry are indebted, either to scholarships or appropriations of the Board of Education, for their present position in the ranks of the ministry.

2. During the past year the Board of Education has furnished aid to 51 academic students, 196 collegiate students, and 223 theological students—470 in all; 74 of whom are colored, 24 German, 3 Bulgarian, and 1 Hindoo. These have received aid to the amount of $44,613. This is an increase, above the previous year, of 39 students, and $3043. The year closes with a balance of $212.65. This shows a gratifying improvement, but hardly in keeping with the necessities of the case.

The Board is commended for its diligence and faithfulness in the execution of the trust committed to it, and is enjoined to be strict in the enforcement of the rules of the General Assembly as to the qualification of Candidates.

It is also recommended to the Board of Education, that the salary of the faithful and laborious Secretary, Dr. Poor, who has done so much to revive an interest in the Cause of Ministerial Education, be restored to the original amount of $3500, specified in his call, the cost of living having increased, and the financial stringency which caused the reduction having passed away.

The members of the Board whose terms expire this year are: Ministers—Samuel A. Mutchmore, D.D., John H. Munro, Edward B. Hodge; Elders—James F. Gayley, M.D., Charles H. Mathews, Esq., Joseph Harvey. It is recommended that they be re-elected as members of the Board for the next three years.

3. The number of churches contributing to the Board has increased 93 beyond the previous year; yet the lack of interest is shown by 3102, more than one half of our churches, which contribute nothing; by 1164 churches, which contributed no more than $5 each, a merely nominal sum in most of these cases; and also by the fact, that a considerable number of our large and wealthy Presbyteries and Synods receive more, from the treasury of the Board, for the support of the students under their care, than the amount contributed by their churches. Where, we may ask, is the gratitude to the Church for its benefactions, on the part of the pastors who have been its beneficiaries in former years, that they do not press the Cause of Education upon the minds and hearts and consciences of their people?

4. This lack of interest is surprising, in view of the past experience of the Church; and it is alarming, in view of the serious decrease in the number of Candidates for the ministry, declining from 703 in 1876 to 622 in 1881, while the number of churches has grown in the same period from 5077 to 5598; as also on account of the large number of ministers whom we have received from other denominations—68 in 1881 against the 141 graduates contributed by our Theological Seminaries, or one third of the whole. At the same time, the demands of the Home and Foreign Mission fields for men have largely increased, on account of the immense tide of immigration that is pouring like a great flood from Europe over our land, and running in great streams of population into our new States and Territories. These mission fields need all the men the Seminaries are able at present to furnish, leaving none to supply the ranks thinned by reason of the deceased and the disabled. It is safe to say that the supply is vastly short of the demand. It is becoming more and more serious every day; so that a famine of ministers for at least three years more is now inevitable.

5. Various reasons have been assigned for this decrease in the number of Candidates; such as the spiritual decline of the churches, the inadequate support of the ministry, the lack of means to enable the student to pursue the nine years of study required by the Church, the unpopularity in many quarters of the beneficiary system, the disinclination of spirited young men to accept the grudged gifts of the churches, the dissatisfaction as to present methods, and the dispute about new methods; but probably the chief reason is the large number of unemployed ministers during the period of financial distress, occasioned by the inability of the churches to maintain them at the time, and the continuance of the effects of that superabundance of ministers long after the causes ceased to exist, on account of the circumstance that an average of five years or more must intervene between the decision of a student to enter the ministry and his graduation and entrance upon his life-work. Two of these five years of insufficient supply have passed—three years still remain; and it will require all the energies of the Church to prevent the continuance of the evil in the years to follow.

6. The greatest need of the Presbyterian Church of our day is more godly, capable, and well-trained ministers, and, in order to this, more Candidates for the ministry. This lies at the foundation of all the missionary work and all the pastoral work of the Church. The issue is forced by Providence upon us, How may the Candidates be supplied? Without them the whole missionary work of the Church will soon be crippled and retarded, and real aggressive work rendered impossible.

7. As the ministry are called of God to their holy office, the first remedy for the destitution is, prayer to the Lord of the harvest to send forth reapers into the harvest, prayer by the whole Church throughout its borders, that God by the Holy Spirit will call pious and talented young men into the service of Christ and his Church.

8. As the ministry are ordained by the Church to be the responsible teachers, pastors, and governors of the Church, they must be carefully trained to exercise the functions of their office. For, while all Christians are to labor for Christ and his kingdom in their several spheres, and according to their capacities in the exercise of the universal priesthood of all believers, yet the prophecies of unordained evangelists and local exhorters, however useful these may be, can never take the place of that body of men called of God, clothed with authority by Christ and ordained by his Church for the peculiar work that the ministry has to do. For this work a long and thorough preparation in Academy, College, and Seminary is no less requisite than piety and native talents. Our pastors should preach upon this theme, and carefully discriminate the works of the ordained and thoroughly trained ministry from all other work by Christian men and women, that the importance of the one may not be over-valued at the expense of the other.

9. The Presbyteries not only have the solemn responsibility of licensing and ordaining men to the work of the ministry, but also of seeking out the men who may be called of God, separating them from those who are not called by a careful sifting examination, encouraging the modest, the hesitating and timid, and discouraging the self-reliant, the self-confident and boastful, who would press into the ministry. Young men of parts should be sought out by parents, teachers, pastors, and Presbyteries, and trained for usefulness in the Church; and the best of these urged to consider, with prayer and consecration, the needs of the Church for the harvest of the world, that the call of the Master may flow through these churchly channels, if it may be, into the hearts and consciences of the young men of the Church.

10. Presbyteries should at once take such Candidates under their care, and watch over them with love and pastoral faithfulness. While guarding the holy ministry from the dull, the sluggish, the rude, the self-seeking, and the unconsecrated, they should encourage the bright, active, and hopeful, by loving care over them in their entire course of training, in Academy, College, and Seminary, with faithful counsel, wise supervision, and heartfelt sympathy and interest, not dealing with them in a perfunctory, official, cold and formal, critical and suspicious manner, as is too often the case. Presbyteries should require of their Candidates semi-annual reports from their Teachers and Professors, and should aid the young men in securing opportunities of Christian work under their supervision and direction during the vacations. And then, when it comes to the examinations for licensure and ordination, all personal considerations should be waived, that the students may be subjected to close, searching, and thorough examinations, so that the strong may stand out in their strength, the moderate appear in their proper character, and the weaklings fall by their weakness and be debarred from the holy ministry, which they might disgrace by their incompetency, slackness, and ignorance.

11. In the thorough training of Candidates for the ministry, there are needed Presbyterian Academies, Colleges, and Theological Seminaries. Those institutions which have been established should receive the sympathy and support of the churches. In the judgment of your Committee, there is a sufficient number of institutions of learning in the older States of our country; and it is a wiser policy to strengthen those that have been established than to establish new ones; but, in the newer States and Territories of the Northwest and Southwest, and west of the Mississippi, institutions of learning should be speedily established and endowed through the united efforts of the whole Church. No better agency could be desired than the Board of Education to mediate in this matter between the churches and the institutions.

12. It is exceedingly desirable that the appropriations of the Board, and the scholarships of the Seminaries and Colleges, should be the same in amount and rules of appropriation, and that the Church should aim to secure, as soon as possible, a sufficient number of endowed scholarships to supply the needs of the Candidates. In order to do this, we would recommend that the Board of Education invest the permanent funds in its charge, amounting to $43,950, in scholarships, yielding each $200 a year, with the design of increasing them to $250 as soon as practicable; these scholarships to be given to students whose grade of scholarship is high, and who do not receive aid from any other source.

13. It is also recommended that the sums received, from time to time, refunding the amounts given in aid in former years, and also the larger bequests to the Board of Education, be set aside by the Board for the increase of the permanent scholarships as above described.

14. It is also recommended that the whole Church be called upon to raise, by gifts of individuals, churches, or Presbyteries, permanent scholarships of $5000 each in connection with the Board of Education, the various Theological Seminaries, or Presbyterian Colleges, in accordance with the preference of the donors.

15. In the mean while, to satisfy the immediate and pressing necessities of the Church for Candidates, it is recommended that all our churches be enjoined to contribute to the Board of Education, and that the effort be made to raise $100,000 for the Board during the present year, in order that an increased number of students may be supported, and that their appropriations may be increased to $150 on account of the increased cost of living.

16. In view of the facts and considerations adduced, namely, the uniform practice of the Presbyterian churches to aid Candidates in their long course of preparation for the ministry; the lack of interest in the subject in many quarters, due largely to a failure to appreciate its importance; the great scarcity of Candidates in our Colleges and Seminaries; the need of permanent scholarship endowments, and temporary provisions for the aid of students, the necessity of sustaining existing institutions and of establishing new ones; and above all the large and loud demands for men that come to us from the broad fields of the world's harvest in the Home and Foreign Missions,—all these urge us to recommend to this General Assembly, that the ministers of the Church be enjoined to preach upon the need of a well-trained, godly, and talented ministry, at some time during the next autumn, and to lead their congregations in prayer to God that he may call, by his grace, pious and capable young men into the service of Christ and his Church.

The Judicial Committee reported

Judicial Case, No. 1.—The appeal of Heber Donaldson from the decision of the Synod of Erie. The Report was accepted and placed on the Docket.

Adjourned until to-morrow, at 9 o'clock A.M.
Closed with prayer.

FRIDAY, May 26th, 9 o'clock A.M.

The Assembly met, and engaged for the first half-hour in devotional services.

The minutes of yesterday's sessions were read and approved.

The Rev. George W. Chamberlain, of Brazil, addressed the Assembly on the subject of Foreign Missions.

The Standing Committee on Finance presented their Report, which was accepted, and is as follows:

The Standing Committee on Finance report that they have given careful attention to the following-named papers placed in their hands:

1. The Annual Account of the Treasurer of the General Assembly, showing a balance in his hands, on the 15th inst., of $5865.65. Your Committee have compared the vouchers for the last year's expenditures with the account, and find the same to be correct. Also, the account of the Treasurer of the General Assembly with the Elisha Taylor Legacy Fund, from which it appears that $18,756.34 have been received during the year, and the same paid to the Treasurers of the Boards of Home Missions, Church Erection, and Publication, each receiving $6252.11, as shown by the vouchers accompanying the account. The whole amount received from this legacy, since December 2, 1875, is $61,050.62, and the same has been divided equally between the three Boards named.

2. The Annual Account of the Treasurer of the Presbyterian House, from which it appears that there was a balance of $13,775.31 in his hands at the commencement of the year, and that he received $5108.52 during the year for interest on investments, besides $22.15 from other sources. Total amount to be accounted for, $18,905.98. Of this sum, $9900 has been re-invested, and $5018.98 paid to sundry trusts, leaving a balance in the Treasury of $3987 awaiting investment. The invested funds of the House aggregate $104,458. An Auditing Committee, consisting of John C. Farr and Alexander Whilldin, certify to the correctness of the Treasurer's account, and also state that they have seen the securities in his hands, and that they all stand in the name of the Corporation.

3. The Balance Sheet of the Ledger of the Treasurer of the Trustees of the General Assembly.

4. The Annual Report of the Treasurer of the Trustees of the General Assembly, for the year ending March 31, 1882, certified to as correct by their Committee on Accounts, showing the receipts to have been $41,115.52, and the balance in the Treasury at the commencement of the year, $8644.97. Total $49,760.49, which has all been expended except $1604.19, remaining in the Treasury. The Committee on Accounts, also, certify that they have examined the Stocks, Bonds, and Bonds and Mortgages, held by the Treasurer, and that they all stand in the name of the Corporation, with the following exceptions: three $1000 coupon bonds issued by the Delaware and Raritan Canal, and Camden and Amboy Railroad and Transportation Company.

5. A detailed statement of the Income received from investments.

6. Memorandum of the Investments of the bequests of the late Joseph Eastburn, showing the income to have been $554.94.

7. A detailed statement of the additions to the Permanent Funds, also of the Investments made. The amount received, including the balance from last year, was $33,360.68; and the amount invested, $32,000; all in bonds and mortgages on property located in the city of Philadelphia. Balance on hand, $1360.68. This statement is attested by George Junkin and Thomas J. Shepherd, Committee on Finance.

8. A tabular statement of the total Investments of the Trustees to March 31, 1882, aggregating $300,112.49,—an increase from last year of $12,000. The Finance Committee certify to the correctness of this statement, and say that the investments are all made in the name of the Corporation, and are only transferable on the order of the Finance Committee, or by special resolution of the Trustees.

Your Committee recommend the approval of the financial reports and accounts herein referred to, and that they be published in the Appendix to the Minutes of this General Assembly.

The recommendation of the Committee was adopted.

The Special Committee on Mormonism presented their Report, which was adopted, and is as follows:

The Special Committee on Mormonism respectfully recommend to the General Assembly the adoption of the following Resolutions:

Resolved, 1. That the Presbyterian Church regards the doctrines and practices of the Mormon Institution with loathing and abhorrence, and the continued existence, in this country and age, of an organization that encourages and defends polygamy, as a foul blot on our national character and institutions.

2. That we have noticed with great gratification the recent vigorous action of Congress in the enactment of laws for the suppression of this great evil, and look with confidence to the Government of the United States for their prompt and vigorous execution.

3. That, in view of our profound conviction that the national legislature will succeed in removing this evil, only when accompanied by the spread of the gospel of Christ, this Assembly, while commending the Board of Home Missions for its past efforts, urges still greater effort in all the territory in which Mormonism and polygamy exist.

A Minority Report from the Judicial Committee, on Judicial Case, No. 1, was presented and accepted.

The order of the day was postponed to receive a Report from the Standing Committee on Correspondence, with reference to the message from the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. The Report was accepted. A Minority Report was also presented and accepted. Pending the consideration of the Report of the Committee, the Rules were suspended by unanimous consent, and the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That, in the action now to be taken, we disclaim any reference to the action of preceding Assemblies concerning loyalty and rebellion, but we refer only to the action concerning schism, heresy, and blasphemy.

The Report of the Committee was then adopted, and is as follows:

The Moderator is instructed to telegraph to the Moderator of the General Assembly in session at Atlanta, Ga., that his telegram is received with warm enthusiasm by this Assembly, and, in order to remove all difficulties in the way of that full and formal fraternal correspondence between the two Assemblies which we are on our part prepared to accept, we adopt the following, to wit: While receding from no principle, we do hereby declare our regret for and withdrawal of all expressions of our Assembly which may be regarded as reflecting upon and offensive to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, and we renew the expression of our warm fraternal regard for all who compose its communion, and our readiness to exchange Delegates forthwith.

The following message was received from the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church:

MONMOUTH, ILL., May 25th, 1882.

To the General Assembly, at Springfield, Ill.:

The General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, at Monmouth, cordially accepts your salutations, and wishes you all peace within your walls, and prosperity in your work.

An invitation from the "Lincoln Monument Association," to visit the monument to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, and there to hold appropriate exercises under the direction of the Assembly, was accepted with thanks.

The Report of the Standing Committee on Church Erection was made the third order of the day for this afternoon.

Adjourned to meet at 2 o'clock P.M.
Closed with prayer.

FRIDAY, May 26th, 2 o'clock P.M.

The Assembly met, and was opened with prayer.

The Standing Committee on Temperance presented their Report, which was accepted. The Assembly was then addressed by the Rev. William Y. Brown, of the Permanent Committee on Temperance, and others. The Report is as follows:

You have committed to our consideration the first Annual Report of the Assembly's Permanent Committee on Temperance.

It is a new Committee, with its plans and methods of work to be carefully arranged and gradually perfected.

If we should say that this is the most important of all the subjects presented here, we would only be saying what has been said of almost every other, and the language would have but little meaning.

But, whatever might be said as to the comparative importance of this subject, it is manifest that the absolute importance of it can hardly be overestimated.

Canon Farrar, of Westminster, quotes the distinguished statesman Cobden as saying, that Temperance Reform is at the foundation of all reforms. And, if we reflect upon this statement, we shall probably agree that it is true, and can therefore accept it as one of the Westminster doctrines. And it is no slight testimony to the importance of this Cause, and the imperiousness of its claims upon the Church, that so many of the prominent ecclesiastics of the conservative Church of England are earnest and avowed advocates of it, and three hundred clergymen of the Archiepiscopal See of Canterbury signed a petition, of their own originating, for prohibitory legislation, because such legislation was a necessary adjunct of their own church work; and therefore the petitioning for it was a proper part of their duty as ministers of Christ.

And that same Canon Farrar, preaching to dignified, aristocratic, conservative London Churchmen, has spoken in their ears some of the plainest and most searching practical truth that has ever been spoken on this subject. Some of the best artillery work that has ever been done in this Temperance warfare has been done by that Canon. Some of the most eloquent and effective and radical utterances that have ever been made in behalf of this Cause have sounded out from Westminster Abbey—from within earshot of that Jerusalem Chamber whence came also our Westminster Confession of Faith.

But, while your Permanent Committee is thus placed in charge of a subject of paramount importance, and one which the Church, as the greatest and foremost of reformatory institutions, must by no means and in no degree neglect, the Committee has also a peculiarly difficult and perplexing subject to grapple with.

Intemperance, considered both as an almost omnipresent unorganized vice, and also as a great organized system of public iniquity, has a thousand direct and indirect ways of corrupting the public morality, weakening the public virtue, and warping the public judgment. By enlisting the strong self-interest of the unscrupulous, by weakening the consciences and paralyzing the will-power of the self-indulgent, by exciting the fears of the timid, so as to make cowards and deserters of many who would otherwise prefer to be faithful Christians and faithful citizens,—in a thousand such ways does it demoralize the public character and upset the public virtue. The colored man, who was referred to by Dr. Allen the other day, prayed more wisely than he knew, when he prayed that the Lord would deliver him from the upsetting sin of intemperance.

The corrupting influences of the system penetrate all our communities very deeply and widely, and they so demoralize, and turn upside down and wrong end foremost, the appetites, and motives, and judgments, and characters of men, as to destroy the material on which the reformer would work, and block up his way with evil passions and bitter prejudices; and thus thwart the endeavors, and baffle the wisdom, and discourage the hearts of those who are striving to make headway against this evil, either in the Church or in the State.

These are the considerations, which show how difficult and perplexing is the subject with which your Permanent Committee is required to grapple.

An informal communication was placed in our hands the other day from a prominent and earnest elder in the capital city of Wisconsin, in which he says: "This is a tough subject. I don't know what can be done. I hope you will be able to hit upon some plan of effectual operation." This is the anxious and longing utterance of a man who knows something of the perplexing and obstinate difficulties besetting this work, by personal and official conflict with them.

The same anxious and troubled feeling oppresses the minds of Christian Temperance men all over the land. We are driven to use the burdened but trustful language of St. Paul: "Troubled on every side, but not forsaken; perplexed, but not in despair; cast down, but not destroyed."

The great difficulties of the work furnish no reasons to loyal souls for forsaking it. Just the opposite. Only timid and unbelieving ones turn their backs to difficulties. We may be driven backward sometimes, but *back*ward let it always be. We must retreat with our face to the foe, and ready always for the first opportunity of fresh and aggressive advance.

Over and above the essential rightness, and religious verity, and vast and vital importance of the Cause of Temperance, over and above the magnitude of the interests involved—interests material, moral, religious, social, and political—interests individual, domestic, municipal, provincial, national, and international,—over and above all these considerations, the very perplexities and peculiar hindrances which environ the Cause, in its practical aspects, the very differences of opinion among honest Christian men, as to motives, measures, and methods, furnish additional reasons, not only for the Church's pronounced sympathy, but also for its organized activity in behalf of the Cause.

The deliverances of the Presbyterian Church on this subject have been abundant in quantity, and most satisfactory in quality.

Beginning with the Assembly of 1812, when nearly all of us on this floor, even the most of the gray-headed ones among us, were yet unborn, and even the octogenarian of to-day was in his childhood, too young to have any participation in the matter, thus early this everlasting disaster and crime of intemperance—this ceaseless tempter and destroyer of men, in all the ages—sending down the record of its wicked and shameful work, all the way from the hither edge of the flood, forcing brave, good men to radical and organized opposition, as early as the time of the heroic Rechab and his sons, gloriously triumphed over by the cheerful and godly abstinence of Daniel and his three friends, but nevertheless continuing its destructive work in every generation; making good men bad, and bad men worse; rich men poor, and wise men foolish; strong men weak, and cultured men brutal; lovely men hateful, and kind men cruel; happy men and happy families wretched; producing four fifths of human crime and nearly all its pauperism; tempting everybody, from childhood to old age, and destroying countless millions; instead of disappearing with an advancing Christian civilization, connecting itself therewith, and waxing worse and worse in these late and perilous times,—we say that, not without good reason, this everlasting destroyer and ceaseless enemy of mankind, intemperance, attracted the attention of the Presbyterian Church as early as 1812. The Church's deliverances, beginning then and continuing through the intervening seventy years, until now, increasing in frequency with every increased urgency of the case, but sounding forth in the average as often as once in two and a half years,—these deliverances, keeping always abreast with the best Christian Temperance sentiment of the time, have uttered a clear and steady voice against the manufacture, sale, and use of intoxicating drinks, as a beverage, have encouraged repressive and prohibitory legislation, and, for many years past, have steadily declared it to be the manifest Scriptural duty of all Christians to abstain totally from all intoxicating drinks, as a beverage. And quite beyond all calculation, doubtless, has been the value of the restraining and beneficial influence of these declarations upon our churches and communities throughout the land. In this respect, of faithful and clear utterances in behalf of the Christian and Scriptural claims of Temperance, our history and record could hardly have been made better than they are.

One year ago this progressive series of utterances culminated in the appointment of a Permanent Committee on Temperance, in order that the Assembly might have a more direct and organic connection with the activities of this great Cause, and that the Church might translate its words into deeds, and its divinely prompted thoughts into divinely prompted endeavors.

One of the duties of that Committee, as set forth in the Assembly's Enabling Act, is "to seek to quicken and unite the Synods and churches in suitable measures for promoting the Temperance reform."

This quickening influence has been exerted by sending to the Synods an admirable paper, written by the Rev. Dr. John Hall, a member of the Committee, setting forth, in a persuasive manner, the inducements for activity, and suggesting some methods by which ministers and elders and Sunday-school teachers can quietly and yet efficiently promote the Temperance work of the Church.

This quickening influence has also been exerted by printing and circulating a tract, issued by the Board of Publication, in which all the Temperance deliverances of our Church during the last seventy years are presented in their order. This tract was prepared by the late lamented Rev. John W. Mears, D.D., who was also a member of the Committee; and it is our opinion, that the wide circulation of this tract will be not only greatly helpful to pastors in their Temperance preaching, but greatly instrumental in checking the growing, alarming tendency to drinking indulgences in our churches and congregations. There are but few of our church members who know how clear and emphatic are the injunctions of our Church in favor of Total Abstinence, and how confiding are the reasonable and Scriptural considerations by which those injunctions are enforced. This tract is well adapted to enlighten and persuade them. The uniting influence will, of necessity, be slowly exerted; i.e., the harmonizing and verifying of Christian sentiment in regard to the best methods of work in the Church, so that it may become more and more perfectly a united and economical and efficient Temperance society throughout the land, and the best methods of work in the State, so that the wisest repressive and prohibitory legislation may be obtained and made secure by reason of its growing out of a public moral sentiment that will sustain it when it is obtained. This unifying work must be gradual. But, with these ends in view as an ultimate aim, the Committee will work toward them, taking its positions guardedly, and careful to assume no ground which it cannot maintain, and on which it cannot hope to unite all who are worthy to be allies in the common cause.

Another of the duties assigned to the Permanent Committee is that of promoting a similarly organized activity on the part of other Branches of the Evangelical Church, so that all the Churches may be united in prosecuting this work.

The Committee has had correspondence with these sister Churches, with very gratifying results. From official quarters in the Methodist, Baptist, Congregational, Presbyterian South, Methodist South, United Presbyterian, Presbyterian of Canada, and Episcopal Churches, they have received prompt and cordial responses to their letters, expressing gratification in view of the action taken by our Church, and giving assurance of a hearty readiness to co-operate with us in promoting those important objects in which all have a common interest, and in respect to which we have a common and solemn responsibility. Important events, transpiring within the past year, strongly confirm the wisdom of the Assembly's action in constituting the Permanent Committee.

The National Congress, in its larger and more popular branch, has passed a bill providing for a national investigation of the traffic in intoxicating drinks—an investigation having primary reference to revenues, but such reference also to the relations of that traffic to pauperism and crime as to secure for it the earnest opposition of those engaged in the traffic, and as to encourage the friends of Temperance with the confidence that fresh light will be thrown by this investigation upon the appalling evils of intemperance, and fresh strength imparted to the influences and forces that are arrayed against it. Only good can come from honest and thorough investigation; and there is hope that some national interest may be aroused in behalf of the Temperance reform, and some national movement in its favor. Already the developments of the year are indicating an increasing appreciation, in many parts of the land, of the magnitude of the iniquities and disasters and demoralizing influences that proceed from the selling and drinking of intoxicating liquors; and an increasing number are being startled into thoughtfulness, and awakened to a sense of danger and of duty.

The work of women for this Cause has taken healthful shape, and has assumed large proportions. Women are especially aroused to a glowing interest in this Cause, not only on account of the natural ardor of their hearts, and tenderness of their compassion, and stability of their virtue, but they are so many of them the innocent victims of the very bitterest of the sufferings that are caused by this great evil.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union, with glowing earnestness and steadfast courage, though by quiet methods and modest instrumentalities, is doing good work, and much of it not only for women and children, but in promoting all the great and general interests of the Cause. The interesting and extensive work accomplished at the South, during the past few months, by the devoted Christian energy of Miss Frances E. Willard, will bear good fruit of many kinds, not only by direct advantages gained for Temperance, but by softening sectional prejudices, and cultivating those sweet charities by which all friends of reform ought to be joined together in their Christian and philanthropic work. This healthful Christian Temperance work of women is a welcome auxiliary in furthering the interests of this important Cause.

On the other hand, the enemies of the Temperance reform are organizing with more united vigor and a more definite determination than at any previous time; and whole States, like Ohio and Kansa and Iowa, are aroused as never before, in defence of law and order and morality, against the increasing boldness and unscrupulous aggressions of the agents and promoters of intemperance. The time is opportune for the Christian Church to strengthen her agencies, and employ her best energies, for the promotion of that Cause in behalf of which such wide and varied interest is just now awakened. We should be glad if our Permanent Committee were even now fully equipped for its work.

Its great and special need is a wise and competent Permanent Secretary to devote his entire time to the promotion of the objects for which that Committee has been constituted. But there are no provisions made, and no funds available, for the support of such an officer; and the Committee have no thought of asking the Assembly to assume any such burden. But, in closing this Report, your Standing Committee beg leave to recommend—

1. That the Permanent Committee be advised that, if, in their judgment, it be practicable, they obtain private subscriptions from the friends of the Cause, to be paid annually in advance, to such aggregate amount as shall provide for the salary and expenses of a General Secretary for three or five years. Said Secretary, if so provided for, or in any way provided for at the discretion of the Committee, to enter upon his work at such time as to the Committee may seem wise.

2. That the Assembly recommend to the Synods the appointment of Synodical Committees, consisting of one member from each Presbytery, with an additional member as chairman, all to be appointed annually, that thus through the Presbyterial members the churches and separate congregations and communities may be reached, and the work carried on in each Presbytery by methods approved by themselves.

3. That the Assembly recognize the zeal, carefulness, and fidelity with which the Permanent Committee have entered upon and thus far prosecuted their new and difficult work, and, with a quickened sense of its importance, commend them to the divine grace and guidance, and encourage them to go forward in those lines of endeavor drawn for them in the original instructions of the Assembly, as well as in those more specific paths of duty marked out by themselves, as indicated in their first Annual Report.

4. That, inasmuch as the Committee has, by a commendable economy, limited the total of its expenses to $207.38, though $250 were appropriated to its use, but declares, in its Report, that $500 will be needed for the larger work of the coming year, the Assembly hereby appropriate that sum of $500 for its use during this next year, and so appropriate it that the Treasurer of the Committee may draw upon the Treasurer of the Assembly, during the year, for such sums as may be needed, from time to time, for the carrying on of its work.*

5. That, in the death of Rev. Prof. John W. Mears, D.D., of Hamilton College, an ardent and able member of this Permanent Committee, suddenly stricken down in the very prime of manhood, and at the height of his usefulness, the Assembly recognizes, with deep sorrow, the loss to the Church and the world of a cultured and scholarly Christian minister, an able and eloquent expounder and advocate of the spirit and principles and polity of the Reformed Churches, a courageous and persistent and yet wise and able reformer, and a warm-hearted and genial and beloved Christian brother. "He rests from his labors, and his works do follow him."

6. The resignations from the Committee are Elder William W. Wickes, on account of multiplied engagements, and Rev. J. Clement French, D.D., on account of prostrated health. Your Committee recommend the re-election, for three years, of Rev. John Hall, D.D., and Elders William E. Dodge and David M. Stiger, whose term of office expires.

Also, the election of Rev. Nelson Millard, D.D., of the Presbytery of Syracuse, for three years, in the place of Rev. John W. Mears, D.D., deceased.

Also, that Rev. Robert Aikman, D.D., of the Presbytery of Morris and Orange, N. J., be elected to fill the vacancy for two years occasioned by the resignation of Rev. J. Clement French, D.D.; and Elder Jonathan Ogden, of the Presbytery of Brooklyn, for three years, in place of Elder William W. Wickes, resigned.

The recommendations of the Committee were adopted.

The Report of the Special Committee on Sabbath Observance was made the order of the day for to-morrow morning, following the approval of the minutes.

The Report of the Standing Committee on the Polity of the Church was made the second order of the day for to-morrow morning.

The Report of the Judicial Committee was made the third order of the day for to-morrow morning.

The Report of the Special Committee on the Missionary Department of the Board of Publication was then taken up, and adopted. The Report is as follows:

The Committee appointed by the General Assembly of 1881 to consider and report to the next General Assembly what changes and measures, if any, are needed in order to increase the work and efficiency of the Missionary Department of the Board of Publication would respectfully submit the following Report:

This Committee has held two separate meetings in the city of Philadelphia, to consider the matter intrusted to it. In all, its sessions extended through eight days, spent in careful investigation and counsel. In order to obtain the largest possible information concerning the whole subject, a letter of inquiry, containing a list of questions, was sent by the Committee to all the Colporteurs of the Board, and also to all our Home Missionaries. In short, correspondence was had with over twelve hundred persons. From this extended correspondence—as well as reports from various quarters of the Church—the Committee found the following principal objections to the operations of the Board stated, which may be considered as hindrances to the efficiency of the Missionary Department:

1. The alleged high price of the publications of the Board as compared with those of other publishing houses. 2. The expensiveness of the Missionary Department, in which so large a part of the amount contributed by the churches is absorbed in the salaries of the supervisory officers. 3. The inefficiency of some of the Colporteurs.

These, in general, embrace the complaints, though one of them lies as much against the Business as the Missionary Department. Very little was brought before the Committee that indicated any dissatisfaction with the quality of the literature published by the Board; but, on the contrary, much in its commendation. It is due, also, to the Board to say, that the Committee, in its investigation of the subject assigned to it, has had the cordial co-operation of all the officers of the Board and its Committees; nor was anything found in any of its Departments to impair the confidence which the Church has long reposed in their faithful and honest management. The whole question is one of methods of work, and not of fidelity in trust.

But in these methods the Committee found some things which, in its judgment, could be corrected or changed to the advantage both of the Publishing and Missionary work. These are as follows:

1. There are disadvantages in the present business relations between the Publishing and Missionary Departments which tend to impair the efficiency of both, by hindering the proper action of each in its own sphere. 2. In the Missionary or Colportage Department there is a want of unity in administration, and too wide a diffusion of responsibility, to make it highly efficient. 3. As to the Publishing Department the terms of the resolution by which the Committee was appointed precluded any examination into its affairs, save in so far as they affected the interests of the Missionary Department. It is now, by direction of the Assembly, responsible for the support of various offices, concerning whose financial value to this Department the Committee cannot fully determine; and, until it is placed upon a purely business basis, it will be difficult to decide whether the price of its publications can be safely lowered. But, undoubtedly, a reduction of the price would greatly help to a wider diffusion of its literature, and in this way advance the Missionary work of the Board.

In suggesting some methods by which to remove, as far as possible, the matters complained of, the Committee has endeavored to keep steadily in view the twofold purpose in the establishment of the Board—the publishing of a sound Presbyterian literature, and its widest dissemination among the people. It is an institution whose design is, not to make money, but to be an auxiliary to the great work in which the Church is engaged, through the largest dissemination of a pure gospel literature. Two things are necessary to accomplish this: 1. Its books must be published at the lowest possible cost. 2. There must be an efficient agency for their distribution, so that even the poor and destitute may be benefited by their possession. For the first, there must be a wise and economical Business management; for the second, in a large degree, a Missionary agency supported by the benevolence of the Church. How can these two Departments be so conducted as to give to the Missionary work of the Board its highest efficiency?

Your Committee beg leave, first, to present a general statement of the method by which, in their judgment, this object can be secured; and then, to offer more definite resolutions on the subject for the consideration of the Assembly.

THE PUBLISHING DEPARTMENT.

There should be a separation, as complete as possible, in their business affairs, between the Publishing and Missionary Departments of the Board: while, at the same time, cordial co-operation should be the controlling thought, in all the relations of the different Departments of the Board to one another.

This separation may be set forth in the following particulars; to a considerable extent it exists already:

The Publishing Department should undertake, as its work exclusively, the editing and printing all the issues, of whatever kind, which it is deemed advisable for the Board to supply. This Department is to be charged, also, with the diffusion of this literature as widely as possible in all parts of the land, and amongst all classes, except those regions and classes where business arrangements alone would be insufficient and unprofitable; in other words, where the diffusion must be a work missionary and benevolent. All the details of this diffusion of its productions should be left to the Publishing Department, as to a business firm. It is understood, however, that, while the business is to be made so remunerative as to insure its own permanence and efficiency, the Publishing Department should not aim at profits to an extent which shall interfere with the original object of the Board, viz., the widest possible diffusion of its literature.

This Department ought not to be asked, in its business relations, to defray, in whole or in part, the expense of any Secretary, District Superintendent, or agency of any kind whatever, unless the Department shall itself desire this from a business point of view; and, on the other hand, whatever agency it desires it should pay for as a part of its business. Any other agencies which may be called for, by the Church, for the diffusion of its literature, ought to be regarded as a part of the missionary and benevolent work of the Church, and the cost of these may be provided for in ways to be hereafter mentioned.

By this arrangement, the Publishing Department of the Board will be called upon, to account simply for its efficient management of a certain capital, and its conformity in its issues with the directions and principles of the General Assembly. It will be able, also, in an annual exhibit, to show to the Assembly, more easily, the exact cost of its publications and the profit thereon, the expenditures for new issues, and whether any changes in the prices of its publications can be properly made.

At the close of its fiscal year, when it is seen what the yearly profits of the Publishing Department are, it will then be for the General Assembly to direct what use shall be made of them—what part, if any, shall be devoted to the Colporteur and Sabbath-school work.

THE MISSIONARY DEPARTMENT.

There remains to be considered the Missionary Department of the Board, including Colportage and the Sunday-school work.

The Publishing Department itself, conducting its work vigorously on the principles already indicated, will, it is believed, be the means of diffusing a very large amount of our religious literature throughout the land. It is at liberty to employ for this purpose, and ought to employ, in a spirit of enterprise, every agency afforded by the book trade, by our Presbyterian organization, and every other agency which it can subsidize or invent. When all this is done, however, there will still remain some portions of the country, ordinarily remote from churches and bookstores, where there is great need of our literature, but where its diffusion could not be attempted on simply business principles, owing to the sparseness of the population and the inability or unwillingness of the people to buy. To such regions Colporteurs should be sent, but not altogether, as now. They should be sent, not primarily to sell books, but as Missionaries; not required, either by the letter or spirit of their instructions, to wear the unwelcome appearance of book-peddlers. Let them sell books, if they find the people able and willing to buy—the more the better; but otherwise give them away,—of course carefully and judiciously,—having it for their main object to introduce their books, to converse and pray with the people, hold religious meetings, organize and extend Sabbath-schools, and in short, diffuse the gospel.

Colporteurs doing this work can be employed in any community, city or country, where real religious destitution prevails; but, when laboring amongst any people having access to the agencies established by the Publishing Department, they should sell or distribute books only in harmony with such agencies, co-operating with them. These agencies, as, for example, those established through the book trade itself, are permanent, involve no expense to the Board, bring business activities into alliance with Presbyterian aims, and ought not to be interfered with in their sales by transient Colporteurs entering their natural market, especially by any selling on terms different from theirs. It is our further belief, that the Colporteurs, if, for any reason, strongly urged by their instructions to sell books, or charged to aim at this primarily, must thereby be hindered in their more directly religious work. Their objects are misunderstood. Moreover, if they are pressed to sell books, or are given a percentage on their sales, they are tempted to leave the really destitute, and to enter those regions where larger sales can be made, but which can be as well supplied through the more permanent agencies of the Publishing Department.

With respect to the superintendence of this work, we are convinced that it should have greater unity and simplicity, as well as greater thoroughness, than at present.

There should be one, and only one, Secretary of Colportage, who, with a Committee of the Board, should be exclusively responsible for its management. The necessity for this greater concentration of responsibility, in the selection and supervision of Colporteurs, will, we think, appear when it is understood that, at present, their supervision is in part given to the Corresponding Secretary of the Board, in part to another officer, called the Superintendent of Missionary Work, and by them intrusted, to a great degree, to five District Superintendents, while all these transfer the responsibility largely to the Presbyteries, and have been asking that they shall assume still more. This complicated and expensive system is employed in the supervision of a work equivalent only to the full labors of about twenty-five men.

All this, we believe, may be changed, and with excellent results, by abolishing the office of Superintendent of Missionary Work, and by transferring to one Secretary, with the appropriate Committee of the Board, exclusive control and responsibility in this work, giving to them the necessary clerical assistance. They may then be expected to secure a wiser selection of these men, to require of them reports far more frequent and detailed than are at present given, and to know more precisely what they are doing and the value of it. It is thought that, with the assistance of an ordinary bookkeeper, they can easily keep accounts with them all, certainly until their number is much greater than at present; and thus every fact, from their first selection, through all their labors, to their final payment, their recommission or discharge, will be ascertainable in one office, and the responsibility for it all will be traceable to one head.

We would not, however, in concentrating the supervision of this work, be understood to allow the appointment of a Colporteur to labor within the bounds of any Presbytery, in opposition to the expressed will of that Presbytery.

MEANS FOR THE WORK.

This work should be pursued as a purely benevolent work, as truly so as Foreign Missions; and the means for it sought directly from the churches; although, of course, nothing in this arrangement forbids the defrayal of any part of the expenses involved by vested funds, specially donated for this purpose; nor does it forbid that a certain fraction of the profits of the Publishing Department, to be fixed by the Assembly, shall, at the close of each fiscal year, be set aside for this benevolent work.

With regard to the office of Secretary of Sabbath-school Work, we deem it best that this also should be associated with the missionary work of the Church, and his salary provided for in the same way; i.e., through the benevolent gifts of the churches. But, at the close of the fiscal year, when the profits of the Publishing Department shall be stated to the General Assembly, the Assembly may order, that a certain portion of these profits shall be devoted to the Sabbath-school branch, as in the case of Colportage.

In accordance with these views, your Committee would present the following RESOLUTIONS.

1. That the General Assembly instruct the Board of Publication, to maintain a separation as complete as practicable between the Publishing and the Colportage Departments in their business affairs; so that the relation between the two, in this respect, shall be the same as between the Publishing Department and any other purchaser—the terms of sale to the Colportage Department to be as favorable as those offered to any other purchaser.

2. The Publishing Department is to employ all legitimate agencies which shall promote the sale of its publications, and not be required to assume, in whole or in part, the support of any office or agency which it does not feel justified in assuming because of its commercial value. It is to keep in view the important object of furnishing its publications at the lowest possible cost; and all advantages which it may possess, by virtue of the capital placed at its disposal, are to bear fruit chiefly in the lower price and consequent wider diffusion of its publications.

3. The Board shall present to the General Assembly a yearly statement of the expenses of the Publishing Department, and also a statement of its profits, in such a manner that it shall be made to appear, (1) whether any reduction in the price of its publications is practicable, and (2) what sum this Department may yield, year by year, for Sabbath-school work and Colportage, or other missionary purposes.

4. That the work of Colportage, including the selection and appointment of Colporteurs, shall be under the exclusive supervision of the Corresponding Secretary and the appropriate Committee of the Board, who shall be allowed adequate clerical aid. No Colporteur, however, shall be sent to labor within the bounds of any Presbytery, unless first recommended by the Presbytery or its appropriate Committee.

5. In pursuance of this policy of giving greater unity of management to the work of Colportage, the office of Superintendent of Missionary Work shall be abolished, and its duties transferred to the Corresponding Secretary. District Superintendents also are not to be maintained by the Board, except where it judges that they are called for on business grounds; in which cases they are to be sustained by the Publishing Department.

6. The funds necessary for the maintenance of the Missionary Department are to be sought, as now, directly from the churches, as a benevolent gift. From these funds the Board shall provide for the entire salary of the Secretary of Sabbath-school Work, and so much of the salary of the Corresponding Secretary as is not provided for by an express arrangement of the Publishing Department, with their expenses; also for the salaries of the Colporteurs, the grants of books, etc., which it shall allow; and for the other expenses of the Missionary Department.

7. That, in the instructions of the Missionary Department to the Colporteurs, the main emphasis is to be laid upon the work of religious visitation, and the Sabbath-school work expected from them among the spiritually destitute; and that the selling of books, while still continued, so far as it can be usefully done, is to be in all cases subordinated to these more directly benevolent and religious labors.

8. That the Board be directed to invite correspondence, through its Missionary Department, with our pastors, and especially with our missionaries, to secure voluntary help in the wider diffusion of our literature; and that, in pursuance of this policy, it be directed to make grants of books and other publications, with all possible liberality, whenever satisfied that those making application for such grants will employ them wisely for the benefit of the religiously destitute, and will report to the Board the manner in which they are used.

In conclusion, your Committee beg leave, although at the risk of some repetition, to briefly state a few reasons why the above Resolutions should, in their judgment, find favor with the Assembly.

1. The adoption of the methods here outlined, it is believed, will render the accounts and operations of the different branches of the Board more easily intelligible to all the Church, showing more clearly the exact labors and cost and results of each. The merits or the imperfections of each will be more easily discovered, if distinct from one another, not only in fact, but in form; that is to say, in all accounts and reports. It will prevent all possible confusion, in the mind of the Church, of the benevolent with the business operations of the Board. This confusion has existed in thought hitherto, notwithstanding constant explanations, because it has existed in fact. One or more of the Secretaries, and the Superintendent of Missionary Work, have been supported as if in part business agents, and in part missionary laborers. The Colporteurs have been very largely mere sellers of books; have been naturally urged to sell books; have been recommended to the support of the churches, in part, on the ground that they effected such considerable sales, although their sales have often, and perhaps for the most part, had no missionary aspect whatever. All this is confusing. Your Committee cannot but feel that the work of the Board would be more easily and more accurately estimated by the Church, if business were made more purely business, and benevolence—directing itself mainly to the spiritually destitute—should become more purely benevolence.

2. In the judgment of your Committee, although it is desirable that Colporteurs should sell books wherever there is willingness to buy, yet they should not feel called upon to attempt such sale from any business considerations. Their first object should be to find those classes not having access to bookstores, and not reached by our pastors and home missionaries, to bear to them the gospel by religious visitations, to leave it in their homes on the printed page, to gather the children into Sunday-schools, and place in those schools, so far as possible, our lesson helps, libraries, and other publications.

If their work is thus made to bear a purely missionary character, its spiritual results will be increased. It will be made more welcome to the people among whom it is carried on, wearing to them less the aspect of business—of book-peddling,—and more a face of Christian love. Its new character will be more calculated to inspire religious enthusiasm also among those connected with it.

In its new and more spiritual aspect, this work can scarcely fail to arouse a warmer and more generous enthusiasm in the heart of the Church at large. It will supplement the work of our home missionaries. It will make available the services of godly and warm-hearted laymen, who can tell from house to house the gospel story. It will be work for the lonely settlers on the prairie and in the woods, for the frontiersman and his children, for the religiously destitute, wherever they are found; and such a work never has failed, and never will fail, to stir the heart and open the purse of the Presbyterian Church.

3. It can hardly be doubted, that the more concentrated responsibility in the selection and supervision of Colporteurs, which is recommended, will result not only in far greater economy in the administration of that Department, but in the selection of more suitable men, and in their closer supervision.

4. With regard to the last suggestion contained in the above Resolutions, viz., that the Missionary Department avail itself as far as possible of the voluntary aid of pastors and missionaries in the dissemination of our publications, and make grants as freely as practicable for the purpose,—your Committee are of the opinion, that it points to a method which may be found to have great usefulness. and to deserve much enlargement.

It has the important advantage of being inexpensive. It places our publications in the homes of the people without the additional cost of men salaried for that special purpose. It may not be suited to every region. There are localities open to us advantageously as a Church, where not even a home missionary is found, or where he cannot reach all the people in their homes. There a Colporteur will be required. But it is evident, that so far as the work of dissemination is freely done by pastors and missionaries in their regular rounds of duty, the salaries of Colporteurs are saved, money liberated for the making of further grants, our missionaries themselves aided in their work, and a larger amount of our literature diffused throughout the land.

The Standing Committee on Church Erection presented their Report, which was accepted. The Assembly was then addressed by the Rev. Henry R. Wilson, D.D., Secretary of the Board of Church Erection, and by others. The Report is as follows:

It is with special pleasure that we call the attention of this General Assembly to the large receipts of the Board of Church Erection over any preceding year, thus multiplying its opportunities to carry on its most beneficent work. And it is worthy of note that this has been secured, not so much by enlarging the contributions of the churches which have previously given, as by adding to the number of the churches contributing, showing that the claims of this Board on the affectionate interest of our churches are becoming more extensively appreciated. However, we must record our great regret, that there are still 2930 churches which have sent nothing to the treasury of the Board this year.

It must be that they fail to appreciate the intimate relations which exist between the work of this Board and that of Home Missions. We are sending our missionaries all over these broad prairies and vast Territories, to organize churches, and then we leave these churches, like children without shelter, to suffer, and perhaps to perish for lack of suitable houses of worship. The contributions to this Cause should be sufficient to afford every home missionary, organizing a new church, adequate assistance to erect a church edifice. We have at this time five hundred churches, under the care of our Board of Home Missions, which are without any houses of worship. If these could be supplied with sanctuaries, it would not be long before they would become independent of an overtaxed Board of Home Missions, and be in a situation to add to its funds, instead of drawing from them.

To withhold aid from the Board of Church Erection cripples the work of Home Missions, and in some cases nullifies it. It is like sending forth a sower to sow the seed, and withholding the harvester to gather into houses, to ask our missionaries to organize churches, and prevent the Board of Church Erection, by want of support, from following up these self-denying labors with church buildings, which would in most cases secure and perpetuate the work of the missionary.

While we are encouraged to see the number of contributing churches increasing, we regret that so many send their gifts to particular churches where they have some special interest, instead of sending them directly to the Board, thus depriving the Board oftentimes of the necessary means with which to fulfill its own engagements.

Your Committee, with great pleasure and entire unanimity, record their hearty appreciation of the fidelity to the trusts committed to them, displayed by the Board and its officers, particularly the self-denying Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer, who conduct all the business which was formerly transacted by five persons, while the work has greatly increased on their hands. The funds of the Board are most judiciously guarded, the contributions to the Board are wisely distributed, the business of the Board is most carefully attended to, while the economy in administration commands our special commendation.

Nor would we fail to call attention to the regular attendance by the members of the Board upon its stated meetings, which, even during the summer season, have been regularly held, some of the members journeying from two to three hundred miles to be present and secure a quorum. We emphasize the fact, that this Board has not only never failed to have a quorum at its monthly meetings, during the eleven years of its existence, but has never been reduced to a quorum. And, at the same time, the promptness with which the Board has discharged its duties, and has paid the appropriations that have been made for the benefit of churches, is worthy of all praise; and we are persuaded that any apparent delay has been the result of some inaccuracy in the execution of the papers which the charter of the Board requires.

There are some features in the management of the Board which reveal the great care exercised to guard the property of the Church. Among these we cite particularly, that the contributions to erect churches are secured by policies of insurance on the buildings erected, the risks being held by the most reliable Insurance Companies. The extent of the Board's business with these Companies enables them to obtain fifteen per cent rebate, of which the churches insured have the benefit, while, for the same reason, some of our churches, not under the care of the Board, have been allowed through it to gain a similar rebate in these Companies.

Another interesting feature of the work of this Board is the admirable arrangement by which it can furnish churches desiring to build a house of worship, and needing assistance from the Board, suitable and beautiful architectural designs, with mechanics' plans and specifications accompanying them, for the small price of $5. There are now two full sets of these designs with lithographed specifications; and the Committee suggests, that the Board be encouraged to increase the number, to correspond with some of the other designs in the pamphlet; for, while this will draw something from the funds of the Church, it will result in great saving to the churches. It will surely be an additional incentive to wealthy churches and individuals to contribute to this Cause, to know that the money will aid in the erection of appropriate and tasteful edifices, instead of the unsightly and ill-designed structures which sometimes have disfigured the landscape, and injured the success of the struggling church.

Your Committee offer to the Assembly the following recommendations:

1. That the Assembly give to the Board authority, to petition the Legislature to abbreviate its corporate name, which is considered unnecessarily long, and which, from mistakes liable in recording it, endangers the Board's legal claim to legacies intended for it.

2. That similar authority be given to the Board, to petition the Legislature to be allowed to increase its Permanent Fund from $150,000 to $250,000. It will be understood that the Board does not contemplate such increase to the Fund from the stated contributions to its special work, but, as it now stands, it would be impossible for it to apply to its Permanent Fund any legacies which might be left for such purpose.

3. That the Synods, Presbyteries, and Sessions be enjoined to adopt such methods, as will bring before the churches, not now contributing to this powerful agency in extending and strengthening the great work of Home Missions, the claims of this Board, and lay them on the Church's heart.

4. Resolved, That the Board be directed to send, to the session of every delinquent church, a copy of the Resolution which enjoins that every church shall contribute to this Board, with a statement of the special emergencies that call for an enlargement of the contributions from all the churches; and that the Presbyteries, at their fall meetings, call all such churches to account.

5. That, with gratitude to the members and officers of the Board for their signally faithful services, the following persons be nominated to fill vacancies, viz.: Ministers—David Magie, D.D., Samuel M. Hamilton, David R. Frazer, D.D., Simon J. McPherson; Elders—Richard S. T. Cissel, Hezekiah King; and Theron S. Strong, in the place of Albert N. Brown, who finds it impossible to continue his service to the Board.

6. That the minutes of the Board be approved.

The recommendations of the Committee were adopted.

The Standing Committee on Publication presented an additional Report, which is as follows:

The Standing Committee on Publication have had under consideration the Twenty-eighth Annual Report of the Trustees of the Presbyterian House, and now report that the term of office of the following Trustees expires during the present session of the Assembly, viz.: Rev. Villeroy D. Reed, D.D., Rev. Charles A. Dickey, D.D., Alexander Whilldin, and Charles M. Lukens. We recommend and nominate the same gentlemen to succeed themselves and serve as such Trustees until May, 1885, and until their successors be elected. We also recommend and nominate T. Charlton Henry as a Trustee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William E. Tenbrook, to serve until May, 1884, and until his successor be elected.

The recommendations of the Committee were adopted; whereupon

The Rev. T. Ralston Smith, D.D., one of the Temporary Clerks, was empowered, by unanimous consent, to cast, in the name of the Assembly, a ballot for the election of Trustees of the Presbyterian House, and the following persons were duly elected: Ministers—Villeroy D. Reed, D.D., Charles A. Dickey, D.D.; Elders—Alexander Whilldin, and Charles M. Lukens,—to serve until May, 1885, and until their successors be elected; and, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Elder William E. Tenbrook, Elder T. Charlton Henry, to serve until May, 1884, and until his successor be elected.

The Rev. T. Ralston Smith, D.D., was also empowered, by unanimous consent, to cast, in the name of the Assembly, a ballot for the election of Trustees of the Board of Church Erection for three years, as follows: Ministers—Rev. David Magie, D.D., Rev. Samuel M.

Hamilton, Rev. David R. Frazer, D.D., Rev. Simon J. McPherson; Elders—Richard S. T. Cissel, Hezekiah King; and Elder Theron S. Strong, in the place of Elder Albert N. Brown.

The Report of the Special Committee on Ministerial Support was referred to a Special Committee of five Elders, to report to the next General Assembly.

The following papers were referred to the Standing Committee on the Polity of the Church:

An Overture from the session of the First Presbyterian Church, Dayton, O., asking whether persons, who do not accept the teaching of the Church regarding Infant Baptism, are eligible to the office of Ruling Elder or Deacon.

An Overture from the Saharanpur Presbytery of the Reformed Presbyterian Church in Northern India, asking the General Assembly to receive the said Presbytery, and place it under the care of the Synod of India.

An Overture from the Presbytery of Neosho, asking the Assembly to transfer the work in the Indian Territory from the Board of Foreign Missions to the Board of Home Missions.

Adjourned until to-morrow, at 9 o'clock A.M.
Closed with prayer.

SATURDAY, May 27th, 9 o'clock A.M.

The Assembly met, and engaged for the first half-hour in devotional services.

The minutes of yesterday's sessions were read and approved.

The orders of the day were postponed by unanimous consent, and the Moderator announced the following message from the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, in response to the message of this Assembly sent yesterday:

ATLANTA, GA., May 26th, 1882.

To the General Assembly in session:

If the action of the Assembly, telegraphed by your Moderator to our Moderator, does not modify the concurrent resolution adopted by your Assembly and ours, we are prepared to send Delegates forthwith.

R. K. SMOOT, Moderator.

Whereupon the Moderator was instructed to send the following response:

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., May 27th, 1882.

To the General Assembly in session at Atlanta, Ga.:

The action referred to does not modify, but it explains, the concurrent resolution, and the explanation is on the face of the action.

There is nothing behind it, or between the lines. The dissolution of our Assembly is near at hand. We may be ready for final adjournment this evening. Exchange of Delegates is impossible before Tuesday. Shall we not each appoint Delegates this day to visit the respective Assemblies next year? We await your answer with deep and prayerful interest.

HERRICK JOHNSON, Moderator.

The Special Committee on Sabbath Observance presented their Report, which was accepted, and is as follows:

The Special Committee on Sabbath Observance have given to that subject all the attention which the circumstances would permit.

They have felt that the question of Sabbath Observance, always important, has rapidly increased in interest in recent years; and the duty of the Church in relation to it has become more difficult, because more complicated. No special class is alone responsible for the increased desecration of the Sabbath. Some occupations are, no doubt, more than others. But love of gain, ambitious competition, and love of pleasure, wherever they can, are pressing the people into error in this respect. If there are railroad, steamboat, or other corporations willing to transport freight or passengers, there are shippers willing to furnish the freight, and passengers willing to travel, on the Lord's day. If these corporations or private parties are willing to furnish conveyance for excursions, there are people willing to travel on excursions. If there are corporations or individuals willing to pay for common labor performed on the Sabbath, there are those who will accept the pay and perform the work. If there are persons willing to publish newspapers on the Sabbath, there is a large number willing to buy and read them. If they could not be sold, they would not be printed. Thus, all through society. Sabbath desecration, as it comes to the attention of this Assembly, is almost wholly a social sin. There are two parties guilty—the one tempting, and the one yielding to temptation. Or, they mutually tempt, and yield to each other's temptation. This dual character of Sabbath-breaking, of course, does not lessen the sin by division, but increases the number of the guilty.

It needs not that the Committee remind the Assembly of the importance of obeying God, in regard to the observance of the Sabbath, or of the inestimable blessings which depend on that obedience. Yet, is it too much to say, that all that men hold dear in time and eternity largely depends on the manner in which the Sabbath is observed?

Look at it in reference to earthly good. Life and property, in any community, are safe in proportion to the average morality of that community. The morals of any community, so far as they do not depend on civil law, depend on the religion of that community, and more upon its religon than upon its law. In Christian countries, and especially in such as are under republican governments, morals depend almost exclusively upon the Christian religion. But the Christian religion depends upon the Sabbath day—a time for instruction in the doctrines and duties of religion, resulting in the belief of the truth and in corresponding conduct. Or, if we reverse the statement, it will stand in this form: Without the observance of the Sabbath—time used to promote religion—we should soon be without religion; without religion, we should soon be without morality, without safety to life or property. And while this is true in reference to the things of time, as to the ineffable interests of eternity, the statement would stand: No Sabbath, no religion! no religion, no salvation ! !

Notwithstanding the increasing tendency toward Sabbath desecration for the last half-century, your Committee are confident, there are now signs of awakened interest, and of a change for the better.

Evidence of this is found in the advanced position of portions of our German population, among whom are the German Methodists, as seen in their recent action in conference at Columbus, Ohio, fully indorsing the Sunday and Temperance laws of that State. It is evident, also, in the avowal of true principles of Sabbath observance and Temperance, by other and increasing numbers of German citizens; in the firm position taken by some Railroad Companies in keeping the Sabbath; in the existence and work of Sabbath Committees in various cities, and of the "International Sabbath Association;" in the uprising of the people to sustain the Smith and Pond laws in Ohio; in the courageous stand made by the friends of the Sabbath and Temperance in California; in the prohibition of the liquor-traffic on the Sabbath, and every day of the week, successful in Kansas and Maine, and struggling into power throughout the country. We may well give thanks to God for these evidences of awakened interest and advantage gained in so glorious a Cause.

Yet, in view of the great importance of the subject, your Committee are deeply impressed, that this Assembly should leave nothing undone, which it can do, to arouse the Church to do her whole duty in furtherance of this Cause. And, in order to this, or, at least, as contributing to it, although your Committee are deeply sensible they may not recommend the best measures, we venture to report the following Resolutions for your adoption:

1. The Assembly would affectionately admonish all our people to bear in mind, that God has, by positive, moral and perpetual law, designated one day in seven as sacred time—that he "hallowed" the Sabbath, "sanctified it," set it apart from common to sacred purposes. Hence, to use it, or any part of it, for things inconsistent with it as sacred, is sinful.

2. The Assembly earnestly entreat all members and officers of our churches, to guard against real violations of the fourth commandment, by performing labor on the Sabbath, under the claim of necessity or mercy, where such claim cannot be sustained by the word of God.

3. The Assembly would urge upon all under their care, to devise liberal things for the dissemination of the principles of the gospel, and sound views of the sacredness of the Sabbath, among the German and other populations coming to our shores.

4. That the Assembly do hereby, in a special manner, enjoin it upon church sessions to watch over their brethren, with tenderness and great fidelity, in respect to the observance of the Sabbath, and to exercise wholesome discipline when necessary.

5. That we urge it upon our ministers, in the pulpit and in their pastoral labors, to present this subject in season, in all its serious importance, as related to the welfare of the whole people and the glory of God.

6. That, inasmuch as, prominent among the forms of Sabbath desecration prevalent in our times, are those to which many Railroad and Steamboat Companies, and publishers of Sunday newspapers, are addicted, the Assembly earnestly counsel all our people, not to be, as owners, managers, or employees of such Companies, or as shippers or passengers on the Sabbath, or as publishers or patrons of Sunday newspapers, partakers in the guilt of these flagrant forms of Sabbath-breaking.

Your Committee have carefully considered the Resolutions, and other papers, referred to them by the Assembly. Among those papers is a communication from the Chairman of the Sabbath Committee of the Southern Presbyterian General Assembly, asking this Assembly to co-operate with the Southern Assembly and other evangelical bodies, if their co-operation can be secured, in bringing the Sabbath question to the attention of the civil authorities of all the States, and of the Congress of the United States. Also, a Memorial from the International Sabbath Association, asking the Assembly to appoint a Committee of General Correspondence on the subject of Sabbath Observance.

Your Committee regard the subject, brought to their attention by the Southern Assembly's Committee, as an important one; but to concert action in regard to it will require further correspondence. This fact, as well as the suggestion from the International Sabbath Association, and from some ministers in our connection, has led us to the conviction that the General Assembly ought to have some recognized medium of communication with other evangelical bodies, on the subject of Sabbath Observance. And, inasmuch as it is not desirable to multiply Permanent Committees, and inasmuch as the subjects of Sabbath Observance and Temperance are so closely allied to each other, your Committee recommend to the Assembly the adoption of the following Resolution:

7. That this Assembly refers, to the Permanent Committee on Temperance, the question, whether it is practicable or consistent, with their present duties, for the said Committee to add thereto the subject of Sabbath Observance?—the Committee to report to the next Assembly.

The recommendations of the Committee were adopted.

A Resolution with reference to Sabbath Observance was referred to the Special Committee on Sabbath Observance.

The Standing Committee on Theological Seminaries presented their Report, which was accepted, and is as follows:

The Standing Committee on Theological Seminaries respectfully bring to the notice of the Assembly, as the result of their investigation, facts and recommendations, as follows:

The thirteen Theological Seminaries under the care of the General Assembly have all sent up Reports. Only six of them have filled out the blanks sent to them by the order of the last Assembly. We recommend that blanks similar to those of last year, with the addition of a place for "All other Funds," be sent this year by the Stated

Clerk; and that all the Seminaries be recommended to fill them out, so far as possible, and return them to the next General Assembly. If this recommendation is complied with, the work of the Standing Committee will be greatly lessened and greater accuracy be secured in their Report.

The Seminaries have an aggregate of property about as follows:

Real Estate	$626,153 46
Endowment and other Funds	3,693,739 90
Income for the year	220,717 52

There have been, in the Seminaries, 54 Professors and 11 Lecturers and Instructors; the same as last year. The whole number of students has been 515, as against 536 last year. Of these, 165 have been graduated, as against 141 last year. This shows only 325 left in the Seminaries, after the graduation of the Senior Classes, as against 395 last year, and indicates much smaller graduating classes for the next two years.

Princeton Seminary reports a satisfactory year, with an increase in the number of students in attendance. The installation of Rev. Francis L. Patton, D.D., LL.D., as Stuart Professor of the Relation of Philosophy and Science to the Christian Religion, took place October 27th, 1881. The principal gift received during the year is one of $12,000 to found a Fellowship. The following Directors have been elected to fill the places of those whose term of office expires in May, 1882, viz.: Rev. William D. Snodgrass, D.D., Rev. George W. Musgrave, D.D., LL.D., Rev. Robert Hamill, D.D., Rev. Joseph T. Smith, D.D., Rev. Abraham Gosman, D.D., Rev. James O. Murray, D.D., Rev. Everard Kempshall, D.D., Robert Carter, Esq., Hon. George Sharswood, LL.D., and Hon. John K. Findlay.

Rev. Robert R. Booth, D.D., has been elected in place of Rev. John Edson Rockwell, D.D., resigned, and William A. Wheelock, Esq., in place of John A. Stewart, elected last year. It is recommended that they be confirmed.

The Board of Directors solicits the sanction of the General Assembly to two changes in the "Plan of the Seminary," viz.: The omission, from Article II., Section 3, of the words "and the President, or, in case of his absence, one of the Vice-Presidents, be one." Also, in Article II., Section 5, the change of the word "twenty" to "ten." The effect of the former change would be, to enable the Board more easily to secure a quorum; that of the latter, to require one half the length of notice for a special meeting. It is recommended that the sanction of the Assembly be granted.

From the report of Auburn Seminary, which is very meagre, we gather nothing of interest, except that five more were graduated than were matriculated during the year, which indicates decreasing numbers in the graduating classes for the coming year.

The Western Theological Seminary of Allegheny rejoices in having received a new impulse in the mission work, from the Inter-Seminary Missionary Convention, held in Allegheny, October last. As a result, five members of the Senior Class are already under commission for the foreign field—two for China, one for Africa, one for the Laos, and one for a field not yet determined. There are reasons for believing, that two or three more of the same Class will follow in a year or two, when hindrances at present existing shall be removed. Out of a Class of thirty-four, all but three or four will enter upon mission work, either in the home or foreign field.

We recommend that the Assembly approve the election of the Directors reported, in place of those whose terms expire at this time.

Lane Seminary, probably through some oversight, sends up to the Assembly only a partially digested report. About $25,000 have been added to the funds of the Seminary during the year. The Institution has met with a severe loss in the death of Rev. Zephaniah M. Humphrey, D.D., who fell asleep, November 14th, 1881. As a professor, a presbyter, and a brother beloved, he was greatly esteemed and highly honored, and his loss is sincerely mourned by the whole Presbyterian Church. The Rev. John De Witt, D.D., of Philadelphia, already favorably known in our body for his high literary and theological attainments, has been unanimously elected the successor of Dr. Humphrey in the Chair of Church History.

Union Seminary has had its pecuniary resources largely increased during the year, and reports its new buildings on Lenox Hill as in process of erection. It reports a precious revival of missionary interest. Of the thirty-seven graduates of the past year, seven have consecrated themselves to the work of missions in the foreign field, and eleven in the home field. The Rev. Thomas S. Hastings, D.D., Professor of Sacred Rhetoric, entered upon his duties, September, 1881. The Rev. Francis Brown, A.M., for three years Instructor in the Seminary, has been elected Associate Professor in the Department of Biblical Philology.

Danville Seminary still remains with the Chair of Theology vacant. In view of the small number of students (only nine), and the crippled resources of the Institution, it has been thought best to apportion the work of instruction in Theology among the occupants of the other Chairs. The diligence and piety of the students are commended by the Board and Faculty.

The Seminary of the Northwest reports an increase of funds during the year, by the paying in of the $75,000 promised by Hon. Cyrus H. McCormick. Mr. McCormick is erecting, as an additional gift to the Institution, fine residences for three of the Professors, on the Seminary grounds. He has also voluntarily pledged himself, that the money needed for the salaries of a full corps of Professors shall be forthcoming until 1887, when the Seminary will come into full possession of its large property. The Seminary reports a quickening of interest in missions, from the Inter-Seminary Missionary Convention.

The Board of Directors report the election of the Rev. Thomas H. Skinner, D.D., to the Cyrus H. McCormick Chair of Didactic and Polemic Theology; the acceptance by the Rev. Willis C. Craig, D.D., of the Chair of Biblical and Ecclesiastical History; the election of the Rev. Herrick Johnson, D.D., as Instructor in Homiletics and Pastoral Theology for one year; and the retirement of the Rev. Robert W. Patterson, D.D., from the Chair of Christian Evidences and Ethics.

In place of the retiring Directors, the Board have elected, as the Class of 1886, the following: Ministers—Rev. William S. Curtis, D.D., Rev. Samuel Hodge, D.D., Rev. Alexander G. Wilson, D.D., Rev.

John F. Magill, D.D.; Elders—Hon. Roswell B. Mason, Hon. Jacob S. Farrand, Christopher C. Brown, Samuel Harvey, Henry W. Johnson; and, as Honorary Directors, Rev. John N. Freeman, Rev. Thomas D. Ewing, D.D., Rev. John E. Chapin, Rev. Charles A. Ewing, D.D.

The name of Hon. Cyrus H. McCormick appears, in the Board's Report, as a Special Director, an office not provided for in the existing Constitution of the Seminary. To secure to Mr. McCormick this position, the Board propose an amendment to the Constitution, subject to the approval of the General Assembly. It is to add a new section to Article II., as follows: "Section 2. In just recognition of his relations of beneficence to this Seminary, Cyrus H. McCormick is hereby constituted, from this time forth, a special member of the Board of Directors, to qualify as, and to be entitled to all the prerogatives of, other full members of the Board, and to continue in the office during the term of his natural life, or until he shall resign." This action is reported for the approval of the Assembly as the unanimous and hearty desire of the Board. Your Committee recommend that this Assembly confirm the election of these Directors, and this amendment of the Constitution.

Blackburn University rejoices in the presence of the Divine Spirit, manifested in an improved Christian life and work. The funds of the Institution are in good shape, and tokens are multiplying of the increasing favor of the Presbyterian Church of the Central West toward it.

San Francisco Seminary is still endeavoring to carry on its very difficult undertaking, of furnishing a trained Presbyterian ministry for the Pacific coast, without any source for the supply of Candidates. Its four Professors, who have never been inaugurated, are carrying on their work at an average salary of $400 a year. They urgently appeal to the Church, through this Assembly, for endowments for both Scholarships and Professors. The Institution is, doubtless, destined to be an efficient aid toward the evangelization of the Pacific coast, and the Presbyterian Church should speedily endow it, and add to it sources of supply in Presbyterial Academies, and a Presbyterian College west of the Rocky Mountains. We earnestly recommend this work to the prayers and the material support of the Church.

The German Theological School at Newark has struggled bravely through another year. There have been seven students in the Theological Department, and thirteen in the Academic. The Board say: "No higher service can be done to the great object for which this Institution is established, on the part of our German and American pastors, than to send us worthy young Germans suitable for the ministry."

Occupying a similar position at the West, and subject to like discouragements, is the German Theological school of the Northwest, at Dubuque. It graduated but one from its Theological Department last year, but has a prospect of a much larger Class this year. The vacancy in the Chair of Theology, reported to the last General Assembly, has not yet been filled. The Board say in their report: "It is very important that this Chair be filled. We, therefore, most earnestly beg of the General Assembly to commend our needs to the liberality of the Church. The importance of the German work in the Northwest has never been so grave as now. Its magnitude increases year by year. Promising fields are open to all the men that can possibly be sent forth, but we are unable to supply them for lack of means."

And so the East and the West unite, in the appeal to the General Assembly, in behalf of this great work, for the increasing millions of Germans who must be evangelized, if this land is to be saved for Christ. An endowment of $100,000 for each of these Institutions would give them permanency and power; and we recommend, that the Assembly urge upon the Church the duty of speedily furnishing this sum for each. We can live without adding to our material wealth and grandeur, but we cannot live without evangelizing these vast Gothic multitudes.

Last, but not least in importance, among our agencies for theological training, are the Institutions for preparing an educated ministry for the Freedmen. They are vital to the nation.

The Lincoln University at Oxford, Pa., reports the addition of $20,000 to the endowment, during the past year. The new dormitory, erected with funds contributed by H. H. Houston, Esq., of Philadelphia, is nearly ready for occupation. For the repair of "Ashmun Hall" $5000 have been contributed. David E. Small, Esq., of York, Pa., has offered $5000 to erect a Professor's house, to be known, in honor of the late Dr. Caspar R. Gregory, as "The Gregory Memorial Cottage;" and, by the liberality of Miss Susan Gorgas, a frame building 110x60 feet, known as "Livingstone Hall," has been erected, to be used for Commencement exercises. The past year has been one of general prosperity in the educational work, the number of students (eighteen of whom are in the Theological Department, and eighty-two of whom are candidates for the ministry) having risen to two hundred. A gracious season of revival has been granted, in connection with which thirty-three students in the collegiate and preparatory departments have professed faith in Christ.

The University mourns a great loss in the death of Rev. Caspar R. Gregory, D.D., Professor of Sacred Rhetoric, who departed this life on the Sabbath, February 26th, 1882. His last words were characteristic of the man: "I go not in any merits of my own, but fearlessly trusting in the grace of Christ; and I am glad to go." Devoted to his work and singularly fitted for it, his translation will be most severely felt by the Institution, and especially by the young colored men, with whom he entered into heartiest sympathy. May the mantle of Elijah fall on some Elisha!

In view of the prospective enlargement of the work in the Theological Department of this University, and in view of the recent removal by death of that dear servant of God, and the consequent increase of responsibility and duty imposed upon the remaining members of the Faculty, your Committee would call the special attention of this General Assembly and the Church to the action of the Assembly of 1879, which is as follows:

"Resolved, That the Theological Department of Lincoln University should be strengthened by a full endowment of the Chair of Hebrew and Sacred Literature, and by the partial endowment of the Chair of Sacred Geography and Hebrew Archæology, for both of which efforts are now making by the Trustees."

Assuredly this Institution, which has already sent forth 101 ministers and missionaries to the destitute South and to Africa, has a claim upon the hearty sympathy and co-operation of the entire Presbyterian Church.

Not less important, in the centre of the old slave region, and drawing its students entirely from that region, is Biddle University, at Charlotte, N. C. Away from the seats of commerce and wealth, the progress of its endowment has been slow. Its work has been chiefly done by missionaries, and with missionary self-denial. Of its 178 students, 127 are professors of religion, and 56 candidates for the ministry. Many of the candidates are looking to the "Dark Continent" as their future field of labor. We have reason to thank God for the conquest which the Institution has made of the hearts of all classes at the South, in the community in which it is situated.

We recommend, that the Assembly commend it to the Church, as worthy of our prayers and gifts. Ethiopia has already fulfilled prophecy, and is stretching out her hands eagerly for the gospel of Christ. Shall we not make haste to give it to these millions on our own shores, by helping this Institution, founded in faith, and nurtured by tears and prayers?

In conclusion, your Committee would make the following special recommendations:

1. That, in view of the activity of the adherents of Independency and Prelacy, in the dissemination of their views of the Church and its polity, and in view of the grave constitutional and administrative questions in our Church, needing intelligent discussion and settlement, the Assembly advises the Seminaries under its care to give more attention to thorough and systematic instruction on the Constitution and Polity of the Presbyterian Church.

2. That, in view of the necessity for combining the most thorough instruction with the best training, we suggest to the Seminaries the propriety of co-operating with the Presbyteries, in having the months of the Seminary session assiduously devoted to study, and the months of vacation devoted to Christian work, under the special supervision of pastors and Presbyteries.

3. That, in view of the importance of a thorough command of the Bible in the original tongues, we urge that greater stress be laid, in our Seminaries, upon a thorough acquaintance with the Bible in the original Hebrew and Greek, and that a creditable examination in the Greek New Testament be required of every graduate of a College, as a condition to being received into our Theological Seminaries.

4. That, in view of the patent fact that, by the secularizing of Academies and Colleges, the sources of supply for our Theological Seminaries have been either vitiated or cut off, the Assembly enjoin upon the Presbyterian Church and ministry, the urgent duty of endowing and building up the Presbyterian Academies and Colleges already existing, and of wisely planting, endowing, and fostering others as they become needed,—in order to avert, and make provision against, the impending dearth of candidates for the ministry, and that the Presbyterian Church may overtake its sister Churches in the work of Christian education, and regain the place of supremacy to which it is entitled by its grand system of doctrine and its equally grand history.

5. That, in view of the crude and dangerous utterances of many of the secular and religious papers, periodicals, and books, and of some of the pulpits of the land, resulting from the introduction and prevalence of German mysticism and "higher criticism," and of philosophic speculation and so-called scientific evolution; in view of the alarming defection from the faith of the gospel, both in this country and abroad, and which seriously threatens our own beloved Church; and in view of the fact, that the revealed word of God, the Holy Scripture, is the only infallible rule of faith and practice, and, therefore, the only hope of mankind,—your Committee recommend that this Assembly, in the name of the great Head of the Church, solemnly warn all who give instruction in our Theological Seminaries, against inculcating any views, or adopting any methods, which may tend to unsettle faith in the doctrine of the divine origin and plenary inspiration of the Scriptures, held by our Church, or in our Presbyterian systems of doctrine, either by ignoring or depreciating the supernatural element in divine revelation, or by exalting human conjecture and speculation above historical and divine facts and truths; or by applying hypotheses of evolution, unverified and incapable of verification, to the word of the living God.

6. That, while gratefully recognizing the revival of the missionary spirit in our Seminaries, and the agencies by which it has been brought about, yet, in view of the higher type of piety, and larger measure of consecration, demanded of the Christian ministry of this age, in which all the world is waiting for God's salvation, the Assembly earnestly urge, upon the Professors in the Seminaries, the all-important duty of intelligently and assiduously cultivating the piety of the students under their charge, and seeking to fill and inspire them with those great truths and motives of the word of God, which furnish the most powerful impulse in the work of saving souls, and of bringing the world to Christ.

The recommendations of the Committee were adopted.

The Rev. Herrick Johnson, D.D., and the Rev. Daniel W. Poor, D.D., were appointed members of the Special Committee on Education, the first-named to be the Chairman of the Committee.

The Standing Committee on Mileage presented their Report, which was accepted with thanks, adopted, and is as follows:

The Standing Committee on Mileage report that they have endeavored to discharge their duty to the best of their ability, and respectfully present the following as the result:

There are in connection with the Assembly one hundred and eighty Presbyteries, of which six are of Freedmen, two are of Indians, and fifteen are on Foreign Mission ground, making twenty-three Presbyteries exempt from apportionment. The Freedmen Presbyteries are represented by eleven Commissioners, who have paid to the Mileage Fund $222.50, and to the Entertainment Fund $32.05—a total of $254.58; and they have drawn from the Mileage Fund $1129.68. The Indian Presbyteries have paid to the Mileage Fund $14.40, and to the Entertainment Fund $4.32—a total of $18.72; and they have drawn from the Mileage Fund $612.50. Seven Foreign Presbyteries are each represented by one Commissioner, who have drawn the sum of $223.82.

One hundred and thirty-five Presbyteries have paid their apportionment in full. Eight Presbyteries,—Bellefontaine, Chemung, Chester, Nassau, New Albany, Philadelphia North, White Water, and Winona, —which should have paid $1396 to the Mileage Fund, and $418.77 for Entertainment, have paid nothing to either Fund, and drawn nothing. Twelve Presbyteries, — Columbus, Erie, Fort Wayne, Marion, Rochester, Saint Clairsville, West Jersey, Westminster, Indianapolis, Huron, Kalamazoo, and New Castle,—whose apportionment for Entertainment is $927.46, have neither paid to nor drawn from the Fund. The Presbyteries of Neosho and Shenango are short on the Entertainment Fund $78.54. Ten Presbyteries—Huron, Indianapolis, Lima, Lackawanna, Muncie, New Brunswick, Rock River, Saint Clairsville, New Castle, and Zanesville—are deficient, on the Mileage Fund, the aggregate sum of $307.77. The whole deficiency is:

On the Mileage Fund	$2,703 77
On the Entertainment Fund	1,424 77
	$4,128 54
The total receipts have been:
For the Mileage Fund	$25,715 44
For the Entertainment Fund	7,068 15
	$32,783 59
There has been paid to Commissioners
On account of the Mileage Fund	$23,660 58

We offer for adoption the following Resolutions:

1. That the apportionment for the Mileage Fund for 1883 be five cents per communicant.

2. That the apportionment for the Entertainment Fund for 1883 be two cents per communicant.

3. That the Mileage Committee be instructed to pay to the Rev. Edwin F. Hatfield, D.D., the Treasurer of the General Assembly, the money remaining in their hands.

The Report of the Standing Committee on the Polity of the Church was made the order of the day for 2.30 o'clock this afternoon.

The Report of the Judicial Committee was made the order of the day for this afternoon, immediately following the Report of the Standing Committee on the Polity of the Church.

SATURDAY, May 27th, 2 o'clock P.M.

The Assembly met, and was opened with prayer.

It was Resolved, That the present session close at 3.30 o'clock P.M.

The Committees on the Records of the Synods presented their Reports, and the Records of the following Synods were approved as far as written:

Albany, Atlantic, Baltimore, Central New York, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Colorado, Columbus, Geneva, Harrisburg, Illinois Central, Illinois North, Illinois South, India, Indiana North, Indiana South, Iowa North, Iowa South, Kentucky, Long Island, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Tennessee, Texas, Toledo, Western New York, and Wisconsin.

The Committee on the Records of the Synod of Missouri reported, recommending their approval as far as written, with the following exception, viz., that there is no record of the absentees from the last meeting of the Synod. (See Moore's Digest, p. 199.)

The Report was adopted.

The Committee on the Records of the Synod of the Pacific reported, recommending their approval as far as written, with the following exception, viz., that on page 632 a Committee, appointed to answer a protest, report that they have not had time to examine the authorities referred to, yet proceed to pass severe judgment in the case.

The Report was adopted.

The Committee on the Records of the Synod of Erie reported, recommending their approval as far as written, with the following exception, viz., that they lack attestation by the signature of either the Stated or the Permanent Clerk.

The Report was adopted.

It was Resolved, That the Stated Clerks of the several Synods now consolidated in other Synods be directed to deposit the Records of said Synods with the Stated Clerks of the Synods which are their legal successors.

The Records of the following Synods were not presented to the Assembly for examination and approval, viz., China, Columbia, and Kansas.

The Standing Committee on the Polity of the Church presented—

Overture No. 1.—From the Synod of Baltimore, asking the General Assembly to transfer the Presbytery of West Virginia from the Synod of Pennsylvania to the Synod of Baltimore. The Committee recommend, that it is inexpedient to take the action desired, especially in view of the fact, that the Presbytery of West Virginia has signified its desire to remain in the connection already determined by the General Assembly.

Overture No. 2.—From the Presbytery of Puget Sound, asking the General Assembly to prepare and publish a Book of Forms for public and social worship, and for special occasions, which shall be the authorized service-book of the Church, to be used whenever a prescribed formula may be desired. Your Committee recommend the following answer: In view of the action of previous General Assemblies on this subject, and the liberty which belongs to each minister to avail himself of the Calvinistic or other ancient devotional forms of the Reformed Churches, so far as may seem to him for edification, it is inexpedient for this General Assembly to make any special order in the premises.

Overture No. 3.—From the Synod of Columbus, asking that the time fixed for the meeting of the Synod of Ohio be changed from the second Monday to the third Tuesday of October, 1882, to avoid conflict with the time designated for the State Election.

Overture No. 4.—From the Synod of Cleveland, asking the same change for the same reason. Your Committee recommend that the time of meeting of the Synod of Ohio be changed to the third Tuesday of October, 1882.

Overture No. 5.—From the Presbytery of Lackawanna, asking for such amendment, supplement, or interpretation of the Act of 1830, defining the powers of the Board of Home Missions, with relation to the appointments and recommendations of the Presbyteries, "in the commission and control of ministers in mission pastorates, as that there may be a ready, clear, and happy understanding between the Presbyteries and the Board." Your Committee recommend that, as the subject of this Overture is already in the hands of a Special Committee of the Assembly, it is inexpedient to take any action in the premises, and that the Overture be referred to the Special Committee on the modes of operation of the Board of Home Missions in its relation to the Presbyteries.

Overture No. 6.—From the Synod of New York, asking the Assembly to acknowledge and authorize the regularity of a meeting of the Synod, which was held at Peekskill in October, 1880, instead of at Newburyport, according to previous adjournment. Reasons beyond the control of the Synod made the change necessary, and the action of the Synod was unanimously approved by its own members. The Committee recommend that the action of the Synod be hereby legalized.

Overture No. 7.—From the Presbytery of Cincinnati, asking for a simplification of Blanks and Statistical Tables. Your Committee recommend, that the Assembly instruct those in care of the preparation of such blanks and tables to make them as simple and intelligible as possible.

Overture No. 8.—From the Presbytery of Cincinnati, asking the General Assembly to interpret Article Third, in the action of the last General Assembly, regarding "Unemployed Ministers and Vacant Churches," with special reference to the manner in which the funds are to be returned to the Presbyteries. The Committee recommend the adoption of the following interpretation: Inasmuch as the action referred to has reference to funds contributed, not for the mission-work of the whole Church, but for work within the bounds of the Presbytery contributing the funds, these funds are to be returned in bulk to the Presbytery contributing them, to be distributed according to its discretion. But this rule shall apply only to such special funds.

Overture No. 9.—From the Presbytery of Mahoning, asking the General Assembly to restrain its Stated Clerk from making alterations in Statistical Reports, in face of the deliberate action and order of the Presbytery, on the subject of putting to the names of ministers the designations "W. C." and "H. R." Your Committee recommend the following answer: The General Assembly enjoins its Presbyteries, to carefully attend to sending their Statistical Reports as full and complete as practicable. And further, it is the judgment of the Assembly, that it is within the province of the Stated Clerk to correct obvious errors, and to supply evident omissions in the Statistical Reports sent up by the Presbyteries; it being understood, however, that changes shall be made only upon explicit official information.

Overture No. 10.—From the Presbytery of East Florida, asking for advice regarding the organization of new churches within its own bounds, and the right of the Presbytery to solicit aid from the Boards of Home Missions and Church Erection. Your Committee recommend the following action:

1. It is inexpedient and contrary to the expressed spirit of the Church, to multiply Church organizations in any field, already well supplied with gospel privileges, and especially so when the churches occupying the field are closely related to us in doctrine and polity.

2. In the particular field seeking advice, viz., that which is occupied by the Presbytery of East Florida, we see no reason either for disturbing work already undertaken, or for putting any definite prohibition upon wise Christian zeal which seeks the extension of the Church's work and care, in the bounds of the said Presbytery.

3. However, we think it unwise, and a waste of the means and power of the Church, to organize separate churches, when the persons desiring such organizations are not only few in number, but may be supplied with church privileges by existing Presbyterian churches.

Overture No. 11.—From the Presbytery of Redstone, asking, if it is proper to remove the name of a suspended member of the Presbytery from its roll, and place it in a private register. Your Committee recommend that this Overture be answered in the negative. (Digest, page 160, Sec. 39.)

Overture No. 12.—From the Synod of Western New York, asking if an evangelist, laboring in a foreign field, where gospel institutions have not been established, is authorized to establish them by organizing churches and ordaining ministers, until there shall be a sufficient number of ministers to form a Presbytery. Your Committee recommend the adoption of the following answer: It is the judgment of the Assembly, without expressing any opinion as to whether there should be a constitutional provision to meet extraordinary cases in the foreign field, that, under the existing law of the Church, Presbyteries only are competent to ordain ministers; and the Assembly also judges that churches organized in foreign missionary fields, where no Presbytery exists, may, with the consent of the Synod, be enrolled by the Presbytery to which the missionary on the field belongs.

Overture No. 13.—From the Rev. Joseph H. Mathers, pastor of the church of Logan's Valley, Pennsylvania, asking advice regarding the church relations of persons who felt aggrieved by a certain disposition of church property. While your Committee recognize the rule that might have debarred this Overture, they recommend the Assembly to direct the parties to make their complaints to their Presbytery or Synod.

Overture No. 14.—From the Presbytery of Philadelphia, North, asking for the organization of a Pastoral Fund, to secure a more efficient ministry. While your Committee recognize the importance of the end sought, they are of the opinion that it is inexpedient to take any definite action at present. But we recommend that the Overture be referred to the Special Committee on Ministerial Support, if such Committee be ordered by the Assembly. If not, that it be referred to the Board of Relief.

Overture No. 15.—A Resolution, referred by the Assembly, asking for a definition of the word "Congregation," as used in the Chapter of our Discipline which prescribes the manner of electing Ruling Elders. Your Committee recommend the Assembly to answer, that the term "Congregation" includes only the actual communicants of the particular church. (Digest, page 342.)

Overture No. 16.—From Rev. Henry A. Nelson, D.D., appointed by the act of the last Assembly to convene the first meeting of the Synod of New York, asking for instructions regarding the organization of said Synod. Your Committee recommend the General Assembly to adopt the following instruction, for the guidance of all the consolidated Synods, at their organization, and during their first meeting:

In the judgment of the General Assembly, the Act of 1881, consolidating certain Synods, affects only their boundaries, so that at their first annual meeting, and to the close thereof, said Synods must be constituted as the Synods have uniformly been constituted heretofore. Should any Synod vote to become a delegated body, its decision shall be submitted to its Presbyteries, and shall take effect when ratified by a majority thereof. This result shall be ascertained at a subsequent meeting of the Synod; or, if the Synod so provide, the result shall be certified to the Moderator and Clerks of the Synod, and by them be communicated to the several Presbyteries, as a basis for electing delegates to the ensuing or second meeting. To facilitate the organization of the consolidated Synods, the Assembly hereby authorizes the Moderators appointed by the last Assembly to designate Temporary Clerks, to make out the rolls, and assist in the constitution of their respective bodies.

Overture No. 17.—From the Central Church of South-East, Presbytery of Westchester, asking for an interpretation of the instructions of the last Assembly regarding the re-installation of re-elected Elders. Your Committee recommend the following answer to be given by the Assembly: It was the evident intention of the last Assembly to recommend the re-installation of Elders when re-elected; and, to make its intention more definite, the Assembly hereby strikes out of the previous action the phrase, "or in some way equivalent thereto," and adopts it as its answer to their Overture.

Overture No. 18.—From the Presbytery of Washington City, asking, First, whether members of the Church, withdrawing to connect themselves with other denominations, are to be dropped from the roll, and the reasons recorded; Second, whether the names of persons who declare themselves mistaken as to their religious convictions, and desire separation from the church, can be dropped from the roll of the church at their own request. Your Committee recommend the Assembly to answer the first question affirmatively, the reasons thereof being recorded; and, in answer to the second question, we recommend the adoption of the following by the Assembly: It is recommended that the names of persons, who think themselves mistaken in their convictions, be placed on the separate roll of members already provided by the Assembly, in the hope that new light will bring stronger convictions.

Overture No. 19.—From the Presbytery of St. Lawrence, asking the Assembly to take such action as may better recognize the relation of baptized children to the Church. Your Committee recommend the following action by the Assembly: (1) Churches are urged to keep a full and permanent roll of all baptized children, and carefully to note their public confession of Christ, their passing beyond the watch and care of the church, or their removal by death. (2) When parents, with their families, are dismissed to other churches, the names of baptized children, who have neither come to years of discretion nor become communicants, should be embraced in the certificates given.

Overture No. 20.—From the Saharanpur Presbytery of the Reformed Presbyterian Church in Northern India, asking the General Assembly to receive the said Presbytery and place it under the care of the Synod of India, the Presbytery having dissolved its relation with the Reformed Church. Your Committee recommend that the matter be referred, with power, to the Synod of India.

Overture No. 21.—From the Session of the First Church of Dayton, Ohio, asking whether persons who do not accept the teaching of the Church regarding Infant Baptism are eligible to the office of Ruling Elder or Deacon. Your Committee recommend that the Assembly return the following answer: A faithful acceptance of the Confession of Faith is required of those who accept office in our churches; and if any cannot faithfully accept this Confession of Faith, they should decline office in the Church. But so far as the Overture refers to a particular case, we recommend that it be returned to the church and submitted to the Presbytery.

The recommendations of the Committee were adopted.

Adjourned to meet at 8 o'clock P.M.
Closed with prayer.

SATURDAY, May 27th, 8 o'clock P.M.

The Assembly met, and was opened with prayer.

The Special Committee on Concerts of Prayer presented their Report, which was accepted, and is as follows:

The Committee to arrange for Concerts of Prayer would respectfully report:

1. Recommending, that the last Thursday of January next be observed, by all our churches and literary institutions, as a day of special prayer for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon all Colleges and Seminaries of learning; and for the conversion and more devoted consecration to God of the youth connected with them; and especially that the Head of the Church would incline increasing numbers among them, to seek the blessed work of the gospel ministry.

2. That the week commencing with the First Sabbath (the 7th) of January next be observed as a season of special prayer, for the conversion of the world to Christ; and that in its observance our congregations follow, as far as practicable, the programme which shall be issued by the Committee of the "Evangelical Alliance."

3. The Committee would further report, that there has been referred to it a Memorial from the Presbytery of Carlisle, asking for "the appointment of some Sabbath during the year as a Day of Fasting and Prayer."

In reply to this Memorial, your Committee recommend the following:

That, while there are times when it may be eminently proper to appoint and observe a denominational fast, it does not seem that such special exigency exists in the present state or condition of the churches, and the interests of religion in our bounds, as to call for the appointment of such a day.

4. The Committee would also report on a Memorial from the Synod of the Columbia, referred by the Assembly, asking the General Assembly to recommend to the churches the "observance of the Sabbath before the day of Pentecost, as a season of supplication for the blessing of Almighty God upon the Church and its ordinances."

The Committee recommend the following reply:

That, inasmuch as the too great multiplication of such special observances is unwise, and as every Sabbath is by divine appointment already recognized as a day set apart for the purposes specified in the Memorial, no such action as is asked for is needed.

5. The Report of the Special Committee of Correspondence with the Evangelical Alliance, appointed by the last Assembly, was submitted to your Committee, and we report that said Committee performed the duty assigned them, and recommend that they be discharged.

6. The Committee has also received a number of verbal requests, to recommend some action looking to a change in the time of the Week of Prayer.

In response to these requests the Committee would report the following action:

That, inasmuch as there seems to be a widespread desire to have a change in the time for observing the Week of Prayer, and as much of the special interest of the occasion grows out of there being uniformity in the time, as well as the manner, of its observance,—while your Committee is not prepared to suggest any such change at present, it would recommend, that a Committee be appointed to confer, by correspondence or otherwise, with the Committee of the Evangelical Alliance, as to the propriety of such change.

The Judicial Committee presented—

Judicial Case No. 2.—The Complaint of the Rev. James P. Hendrick and thirteen others, against the action of the Synod of Kentucky, for rejecting an exception to the records of the Presbytery of Ebenezer, which were before the Synod, under general review and control. The Committee report that, in this case, the Rev. Stephen Yerkes, D.D., who is one of the complainants, has appeared before the Committee, and asked leave to withdraw the Complaint, which action he represents will be satisfactory to the parties. We, therefore, recommend, that leave be granted to withdraw the Complaint, and that this Committee be discharged from its further consideration.

Judicial Case No. 3.—The Complaint of the Rev. Samuel M. Gould, against the action of the Synod of Philadelphia. The action complained of was taken on the petition of A. Bancroft, who signs himself "a member of the session of the original Hermon Church," and asks the Synod "to investigate the condition in which Hermon Church has been placed," by several acts which are recited in the petition. The petition of Mr. Brancroft was presented to the Synod at its sessions in October, 1881, and denied on the ground that the matter had been adjudicated in the various courts of the Church. The Judicial Committee are unable to find, from the Complaint, that the decision of the Synod affects the doctrine or the constitution of the Church; nor can they find, in the statement of the action of the Synod, anything which was not within their discretion; and, therefore, no case is presented which the Assembly can properly entertain and review. We recommend, that the case be dismissed, and the Committee be discharged from its further consideration.

Judicial Case No. 4.—In the matter of the Complaint of Rev. Edward Graham and others, against the Synod of the Pacific, for refusing to sustain the Complaint of Frederic E. Shearer and others, against the Presbytery of San Francisco, for its action in dropping the name of the Rev. John D. Strong from its roll, and its proceedings in regard thereto. The General Assembly of 1881 found the irregularities and deficiencies in the records, both of the Presbytery and of the Synod, so great, and the information furnished by the records of both bodies so meagre, that it could not come to any intelligent decision. The General Assembly therefore ordered, "That the Complaint be referred to the Synod of the Pacific, with instructions to take such action in the premises as the interests of religion and the good order of the Church may seem to them to demand." (See Minutes 1881, pp. 586–87). It now appears, that the Synod of the Pacific, being in session on the 11th day of October, A.D. 1881, and having before it the above-recited action of the General Assembly of 1881, adopted the following resolutions:

1. "The Presbytery of San Francisco is hereby instructed to correct its records in the case of John D. Strong, by putting on record a minute giving reasons for its action in dropping the name of John D. Strong from its rolls."

2. "The Synod of the Pacific, in the case of the complaint of Rev. Frederic E. Shearer and others, against the Presbytery of San Francisco, hereby corrects the deficiency of its records by adopting the following minute or record as its judgment in the case: Resolved, That the Synod of the Pacific do not sustain the Complaint against the action of the Presbytery of San Francisco in the case of John D. Strong, believing that the action of the Presbytery was, under the circumstances, the best course for the interests of religion and the good order of the Church."

Against this action of the Synod of the Pacific, complaint is now made to the Assembly by Rev. Frederic E. Shearer and seventeen other members of that Synod. It appears, therefore, that the Synod of the Pacific, while declaring its intention to correct the deficiency of its records, did not in any respect correct, but did in reality increase, the irregularities in its proceedings, by directing the Presbytery of San Francisco to correct its records by giving reasons for its action, and thereupon immediately proceeding to assign the reasons for its own action, forgetting apparently that, as an appellate judicatory, the Synod must await the correction and completion of the record of the Presbytery before it could correct its own. Perhaps the irregularity of this action is more evident when it is observed, that the reason assigned by the Synod, for not sustaining the Complaint against the Presbytery, is couched in the same language used by the General Assembly of 1881, in its instructions to the Synod, and asserts that the action of the Presbytery, declared by the General Assembly of 1881 to be so defective and irregular, was the best "for the interests of religion and the good order of the Church."

It is difficult to understand how this action could be supposed to satisfy the instructions of the General Assembly of 1881; and yet the Committee would be very reluctant to infer, that the Synod intended to be obedient to the letter and disobedient to the spirit of those instructions. But the good order of the Church certainly requires, that the Synod should in a proper manner obey them. And it is manifest, that it is no more possible for this General Assembly, than it was for that of 1881, to reach an intelligent decision in the present condition of the records.

The Committee recommend, therefore, that the Complaint be referred to the Synod of the Pacific, with instructions to refer the matter to the Presbytery of San Francisco, with instructions to that Presbytery to proceed in the case in an orderly manner.

Judicial Case No. 5.—The Appeal of W. R. Spratt, from the decision of the Synod of Cleveland. The paper referred to the Committee in this case is the notice of the appellant of his Appeal from the decision of the Synod, refusing to sustain his Appeal from the Presbytery of Steubenville. No other paper, nor any record of any kind, accompanies the notice of Appeal, and no person has appeared before the Committee on either side of this case. We recommend that it be dismissed, and the Committee discharged from its further consideration.

The recommendations of the Committee were adopted.

The Assembly then proceeded to the unfinished business, viz., the Report of the Judicial Committee on Judicial Case No. 1, pending the consideration of which

The following message was announced by the Moderator from the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States:

ATLANTA, GA., May 27th, 1882.

To the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America:

It was unanimously resolved—

1. That this Assembly does hereby declare its entire satisfaction with the full and explicit terms in which the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America has expressed its reciprocal concurrence in the paper transmitted to our Assembly on Fraternal Correspondence.

2. That we do unfeignedly rejoice and render thanksgiving to God in an event, suited to take away the reproach of alienation between bodies holding the same standards of faith and order, and tending to bring peace to our borders.

3. That inasmuch as it is impracticable, at this late day, to have an interchange of Delegates, the Assembly does hereby appoint Rev. William Brown, D.D., Rev. Thomas A. Hoyt, D.D., Hon. B. M. Estes, Principals, and Rev. Robert P. Farris, D.D., Rev. Henry C. Alexander, D.D., and Hon. The Committee on the Complaint of the Presbytery of Bloomington against the Board of Ministerial Relief reported, asking that leave be granted the parties thereto to withdraw the Complaint, and that the Committee be discharged from its further consideration. The Report of the Committee was adopted.

The Standing Committee on Home Missions presented an additional Report as follows:

There have been referred to the Standing Committee on Home Missions two Overtures on the subject of Sustentation. One from the Presbytery of Carlisle, urging the Assembly to continue Sustentation, under such arrangements as, in its judgment, may be most efficient and promotive of the best practical results, attainable in the present circumstances of the Church. The other from the Presbytery of St. Lawrence, overturing this Assembly to appoint either a Sustentation Board, or a Secretary, to transact the business and stimulate the congregations to increased liberality for the more efficient accomplishing of the desired object. Inasmuch as the subject of Sustentation was committed to the Special Committee on the modes of operation of the Board of Home Missions in its relation to the Presbyteries, appointed by the last and continued by this Assembly, your Committee recommend that both the Overtures be referred to said Special Committee.

Also, there has been referred to your Committee an Overture from the Presbytery of Chicago, asking that the Boards of the Church be officially represented at Chicago. The subject-matter of this Overture was before this Committee while preparing its regular Report to the Assembly, which Report has been adopted, and it was not deemed advisable at this time to take the action desired in the Overture, so far as it relates to the Board of Home Missions. We recommend, therefore, that, so far as the Board of Home Missions is concerned, no further action be taken.

The recommendations of the Committee were adopted.

The Standing Committee on Foreign Missions presented an additional Report as follows:

There has been referred to your Committee an Overture from the Presbytery of Chicago, asking that the Boards of the Church be officially represented at Chicago. The Committee recommend that in so far as the Overture relates to the Board of Foreign Missions no action be taken. The Report was adopted.

The Special Committee on Sabbath Observance presented an additional Report as follows:

The Special Committee on Sabbath Observance beg leave to report, in regard to the Resolutions referred to them on Saturday, the 27th inst.—

The Committee took the Resolutions into consideration, but the majority are of opinion, that, in view of the Resolutions already offered to and adopted by the Assembly, they have nothing further to recommend. The Report was adopted.

It was Resolved, That the Stated and Permanent Clerks be authorized to secure the services of one or more accountants to assist the Mileage Committee at the next General Assembly.

The Standing Committee on Bills and Overtures presented

Overture No. 17.—An Overture from the Presbytery of East Florida. This Overture asks the Assembly to devise some method for the relief of the church at Jacksonville, Fla.

The Assembly of 1872 appointed a Special Committee to adjust, if possible, the conflicting claims of this church, and the church in Jacksonville belonging to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. By the advice of this Committee, our church gave up half of their property to the other church, thus burdening themselves with a debt of $5000, the Committee promising that the Northern churches would contribute that amount. With the exception of $1000 paid by the Board of Church Erection by order of the General Assembly, the Northern churches have failed to contribute to this object, although the Assemblies of 1873 and 1878 recommended the church to their contributions. Your Committee can devise no other method for the relief of this church but the recommendation of it to the beneficence of all our churches. They, therefore, recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the church at Jacksonville, Fla., has special claims on the generosity of the Northern churches; and we would urge upon every church in our communion to forward to the Board of Church Erection a special contribution to the church of Jacksonville, Fla., amounting at least to the sum of two dollars.

The recommendation of the Committee was adopted.

The Standing Committee on Correspondence presented a letter from the Rev. Joseph D. Wilson, the Delegate from the General Council of the Reformed Episcopal Church; and the letter was read.

The Standing Committee on the Polity of the Church presented

Overture No. 22.—An Overture from the Presbytery of Neosho, asking a transfer of the missionary work in the Indian Territory from the Board of Foreign Missions to the Board of Home Missions. In view of the impossibility of conferring with the representatives of these Boards during the sessions of this Assembly, it is recommended that the papers be referred to the two Boards, with power to act if they see fit so to do, or to report to the next Assembly.

The recommendation of the Committee was adopted.

The Assembly then proceeded to the unfinished business, viz., the consideration of the Report of the Judicial Committee on Judicial Case No. 1; and the whole subject was referred to a Special Committee of three, viz., Hon. Hovey K. Clarke, the Rev. Edward P. Humphrey, D.D., LL.D., and the Rev. Samuel C. Logan, D.D.

The following Resolution was adopted:

Whereas, The Assembly of 1870, with entire unanimity, adopted a Mileage system which the experience of the past twelve years has proved to be eminently wise as well as practicable, and by which, with subsequent additions as to Entertainment, the annual expenses of the Assembly are fully and equitably met, Therefore, the Assembly would urge on such Presbyteries as do not comply with said system and its regulations, that they do hereafter so act as not, by withholding their funds, to contribute to the breaking up of this most excellent system.

The Report of the Standing Committee on Temperance was reconsidered, and the fourth Recommendation of the Committee, appropriating $500 for the expenses of the Permanent Committee on Temperance, was disapproved; Whereupon, the Permanent Committee on Temperance was recommended to the churches for contributions to defray the necessary expenses of their work during the present year.

The following Resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the Assembly, while adopting the Report of the Special Committee on the Missionary Department of the Board of Publication, recognizes the ability, fidelity, and patience of the minority of that Committee, whose views have been ably presented in a careful and elaborate Report.

Resolved, That the Stated Clerk forward a copy of the printed Minutes to every Elder who is a Commissioner to this Assembly, provided the Elder forwards his P. O. address, and that the Presbytery which he represents has paid in full its quota to the Mileage Fund.

Adjourned until 2 o'clock P.M.
Closed with prayer.

MONDAY, May 29th, 2 o'clock P.M.

The Assembly met, and was opened with prayer.

The following Resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the Assembly has heard with profound satisfaction, that the American Bible Society has undertaken the great work of supplying, during the coming year, those families and individuals who are destitute of the Bible, throughout the whole of the United States, and commends this work to the warmest support and co-operation of all our people.

Resolved, That it be recommended to the Board of Publication, to issue a tract containing the Resolutions adopted by this Assembly, on the recommendation of the Standing Committees in respect to the Boards of the Church and the Cause of Benevolence; and that a copy thereof be sent to every Pastor and Stated Supply, accompanied by a notice of the price at which they may be obtained for general circulation.

The Special Committee on Judicial Case No. 1 reported to the Assembly the following minute for adoption:

The Assembly finds that there are two branches to this case: the first involving questions of jurisdiction; and the second, the merits of the case. This Assembly is not now able to determine either of these questions, on account of the meagreness of the records, and on account of certain irregularities which are alleged to have occurred in the trials below. Therefore, the Assembly, reserving its judgment, both on the questions of jurisdiction and the merits of the case, hereby remands the whole case to the Session of the church at Emlenton, with the direction to table new charges with adequate specifications, and cite the accused to answer; taking care that the specifications, if confessed, or if they are denied, the evidence, shall show a case which will justify the judgment they may render. And the Session are instructed to conduct the trial in exact accordance with the Book of Discipline, and make a clear and full record of all their proceedings in the case.

The Report of the Committee was adopted.

The Standing Committee on Temperance reported an Overture from the Presbytery of Pittsburgh, on the subject of Temperance, and recommended that no action be taken with reference to it, inasmuch as the Report of the Committee covered the whole matter.

The recommendation of the Committee was adopted.

The Standing Committee on Ministerial Relief presented an additional report:

First, on Overture No. 5—an Overture from the Presbytery of St. Lawrence, asking the Assembly to reduce the expenses of conducting the affairs of the Boards of the Church. So much of this Overture as relates to the expenses of the Board of Relief was referred to your Committee, and they recommend the following action: That this Committee has carefully examined into the subject-matter referred to them, and does not find reason to believe that the expenses of the Board can be reduced consistently with its efficiency and usefulness.

Second, on an Overture from the Presbytery of Chicago, asking that the Boards of the Church be officially represented at Chicago, and referred to the Committee by Resolution of the Assembly. We recommend that so much of the Overture as relates to the Board of Relief be referred to that Board to make such an appointment, if in its judgment the objects of the Board can be more efficiently promoted thereby.

The recommendations of the Committee were adopted.

An invitation from Stephenson Post, No. 30, G. A. R., to be present and participate in the exercises of Decoration Day, at Lincoln Monument, at 2.30 o'clock to-morrow, was declined on account of the nearness of the dissolution of the Assembly; and the following was adopted:

Resolved, That the General Assembly hereby expresses its deep reverence for the memory of the soldiers of the Union, its gratitude for their inestimable services, and its profound sense of obligation to all those who, with the martyred Lincoln, laid their lives a willing sacrifice on the altar of Liberty.

The paper on Revision, referred to the Special Committee on the Revision of the Form of Government and Book of Discipline, was withdrawn from said Committee, they having made their Final Report.

The Standing Committee on Leave of Absence presented their Report, which was approved, and is as follows:

APPENDIX.

I. Annual Narrative

OF THE

STATE OF RELIGION

WITHIN THE BOUNDS OF THE

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

OF THE

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

MAY, 1882.

THE Committee on the Narrative of the State of Religion respectfully submit the following Report:

The retrospect of the past year presents a scene of alternate light and shade. Reports have been received from 146 of the 180 Presbyteries within our bounds, and in these a comparatively full exhibit has been made of everything relating to our position and progress as a Church of Christ. In the main, the year just closed has been one of abundant blessing. God has honored us with his bounty, and enriched us with his grace. At the same time he has not withheld from us his judgments; and in the anthem of praise that we sing there are some minor strains.

EXTERNAL PROSPERITY.

In all that relates to the externals of religion, the past year has been characterized by signal success. Many of our churches have erected new houses of worship, and many more have enlarged and improved their former places of assembling. In frequent instances parsonages have been purchased, and a permanent home provided for those who labor in spiritual things. There has been, in like manner, a general liquidation of church debts. And while heavy burdens have thus been removed from some churches, others have liberally increased their pastors' salary; and others still, after years perhaps of reliance upon foreign aid, have become self-sustaining. Moreover a spirit of unity has largely pervaded our churches. Christ's prayer for his people has in this respect been answered; and those who love the Lord have been more and more becoming one. Of course there are exceptions to this general rule of prosperity. Some of our churches are decadent in things temporal.

Debt oppresses both pastor and people. Divisions are their painful experience. And the future is ominous in the extreme. But, except in these occasional instances, we may survey with gladness and gratitude the temporal condition of the congregations within our bounds.

DOCTRINAL SOUNDNESS.

The Church as a whole has, during the year, held fast with its accustomed tenacity to the faith of the fathers as formulated in its doctrinal symbols. In some sections it has been exposed to the assaults of atheism and infidelity, and in others the teachings of science falsely so called have been hostile to the growth of evangelical sentiment. But these forms of error it has encountered from the beginning, and with these it is prepared to contend. From different portions of the Church, however, come notes of alarm respecting the insidious errors creeping into its midst, from those whom it has been accustomed to regard as its friends. The new criticism which is rife in this year of grace is being made the occasion, if not the cause, of distrust in the inspiration of the Scriptures, and doubt respecting the authority of the word of God. Men are questioning whether the Scriptures are the inspired utterances of Jehovah, or whether they simply contain that which is inspired. And amid the uncertainty which is thus engendered by modern teachings, their faith is shaken, and their steadfastness destroyed. It is well for the Church to emphasize its belief on this point, and firmly to adhere to the doctrine set forth in its standards.

SPIRITUAL GROWTH.

Despite all hindrances, however, it is gratifying to record the delightful religious prosperity which has pervaded our Zion. Comparatively few churches have experienced what might technically be termed revival seasons. But throughout our borders the Holy Spirit's influences have been quietly exerted, and very considerable accessions have been made to our communion. Nor is any mode of increase more normal or satisfactory. The life of the Church is conserved by processes such as these, and in the final issue its effective force is augmented. Indeed the narratives indicate that, in almost every Presbytery, there has been an enlargement of Christian spirituality, and a development of Christian activity. It is not true, therefore, as has so often been alleged of late, that the Presbyterian Church is decadent, or at best is honored with but partial success. The aggregate increase reported to the last General Assembly, as compared with the preceding year, was diminished by the fact, that so many of our churches had carefully purged their rolls. The real accessions were more than five, to every one of our churches, on profession of faith alone.

SYSTEMATIC BENEFICENCE.

But, in addition to the growth in spiritual experience and religious activity which the Presbyterial narratives record, there has also been a most healthful increase in the benevolent contributions of the churches. Christian giving has come to be regarded as an integral part of Christian life. Church members are more and more appreciating the fact, that their consecration vows include all that they have as well as all that they are. And hence, with a liberality deserving the highest commendation, they are pouring their gold and silver into the treasury of the Lord. The end of privilege and duty in this direction is not yet. What has hitherto been given is only a fragment of what belongs of right to Christ. But the methods of Christian beneficence are steadily being systematized. The disposition to give to God is constantly being developed. And the day is not far distant when the Church will receive, in the behalf of Christ, his full share of what is needed for the extension of his kingdom.

CHRISTIAN OFFICES.

The results thus indicated are largely attributable to a purpose, on the part of our people, to maintain unimpaired the offices of the Christian Church. The ministry of Christ is recognized, throughout our borders, as the divinely appointed agency for the spread of the gospel. And faithfully have those intrusted with this office discharged their important duties. The word of God has been preached with power. Pastoral visitation has been regularly performed. And the most gratifying results have attended these labors. In some portions of the Church, however, there is a disposition to employ stated supplies rather than permanent pastors. Indeed one Presbytery reports the pastors, within its bounds, as standing to the stated supplies in the ratio of two to six. Unquestionably most of those acting in this capacity are faithful servants of Christ, and do effective work. But the pastorate is the normal relation between a minister and a church. The unity of interest which the tie involves fosters successful effort. And as a rule those churches prosper most, in things temporal and spiritual, which are under the supervision of regularly installed pastors. It is earnestly to be desired that Presbyteries should emphasize this feature of our polity, and that churches should give it a practical illustration.

At the same time there is need of increased efficiency on the part of the eldership in our churches. Taken as a whole, the elders of the Presbyterian Church are men of rare ability and worth, whose peers it would be difficult to find in any other class of our citizens. But to far too great an extent the eldership has become a mere nominal office, from which little is expected and even less realized. In the visitation of the sick, in the guidance of the inquiring, in the reclamation of the erring, and in the general aggressive work of the Church, as well as in its special spiritual oversight, not a few members of our sessions are altogether inactive. A radical change is in this respect demanded. And the eldership, mindful of their ordination vows, should exemplify the original nature of their office, and discharge the duties which it involves.

As respects the position of evangelists in our Presbyterian polity, a wide divergence of opinion and practice prevails. Some of the narratives refer to their labors during the past year, and record their efficiency and success. These, however, are exceptional cases. The Presbyteries, which have been most abundantly blessed of God, are those where Presbyterial visitation has been most faithfully performed. There are sympathy and helpfulness on the part of neighboring pastors which no evangelist, whether clerical or lay, can manifest, and their work in the churches is for the most part free from those reactionary influences which follow special efforts, conducted upon special methods, and involving special excitement. If our Presbyteries would every year send committees to all their churches, co-operating with pastors in such continuous services and family visitations as might be deemed expedient, the most delightful results would unquestionably be realized.

CHURCH ORDINANCES.

Throughout the entire Church the ordinances of religion have been maintained during the year. The sanctuary services on the Sabbath have been well attended, and the preaching of the word has been accompanied with signal success. From some quarters, however, there is a complaint respecting the attendance at the second service; and in order to remedy this evil recourse has been had to services of song, and other similar methods for attracting people to the house of God. To a certain extent, perhaps, there is some excuse for absence from the sanctuary on Sabbath evening. Many Christian men and women spend the entire afternoon of the Lord's day in Sabbath-school and mission work; and, having attended divine service in the morning, desire some portion of holy time for personal rest and family worship. But the disposition thus indulged is fraught with immense peril. Let our churches be universally closed on the after-part of the Lord's day, and the evils of a Continental Sabbath would very soon be experienced. Nor is it wise to forego the normal worship of God in order to fill a church on Sabbath evening. The preaching of the word and prayer are God's appointments for his house. And, unless an audience can be held by these, it cannot permanently be held at all.

The attendance upon the weekly prayer-meetings of the churches has been most gratifying. And, if due regard be had to the conduct of these services, there is no difficulty in rendering them at once popular and effective. Certainly there is every motive to strive after these ends; for scarcely second to the services of the Sabbath are these weekly means of grace. And greatly is it to be regretted that, in all our churches, so many who sit at the sacramental table are never seen in the place of social prayer.

The ordinances of Baptism and the Lord's Supper are so inwrought with our ecclesiastical structure as to secure universal recognition. And yet the former in its relation to infants is not practiced as its importance demands. One Presbytery reports that, of those received to church membership on Confession of Faith, seventy per cent were baptized in infancy. But such is not the case in most of our churches, and pastors and sessions are summoned, by every consideration of doctrine and duty, to affix the sign and seal of the covenant to the children of believers.

CHRISTIAN MORALS.

It is a distinctive feature of our ecclesiastical life, during the year, that special stress has been laid upon the importance of Christian morals. The temperance reform has received an almost unprecedented impulse. Meetings have been held, discussions have been inaugurated, and effective measures have been adopted. These movements have been largely connected with the Church; and in this fact we may find the hiding of their power. Heretofore the cause of Temperance has seriously suffered from the irresponsible character of its advocates. But if every church can be a temperance society, and every session an executive committee charged with the furtherance of its interests, the millennium of this moral reform will be at no great remove.

Many of our churches in like manner are moving in the direction of Sabbatical observance, and seeking to rescue the Lord's day from wanton desecration. On all sides, complaints reach our ears of the flagrant manner in which the sanctities of the Sabbath are violated, and its Divine Author dishonored. But, if the present spirit of the Church is fostered, we may witness ere long the suppression of this evil, and a return to the decorous and delightful duty of remembering the Sabbath day to keep it holy.

It is gratifying also to record the vigorous onslaught made, in certain quarters, upon the worldly and even sinful amusements which are corrupting all classes, and especially the young. The reaction from primitive Presbyterianism is inducing a liberty which is the veriest license. The distinction between the Church and the world is fast becoming obliterated; and it is a hopeful sign of the times, when the leaders of thought in our pulpits hurl their anathemas against those immoral amusements, which are imperiling the life of the Church.

Indeed on all questions of morals it becomes Christian pastors and teachers to utter no uncertain sound. They are called, it is true, to be the exponents of spiritual religion. But, except as spiritual religion finds its fruitage in Christian morals, it misrepresents its Divine Author, and is unworthy of our acceptance.

SABBATH-SCHOOL WORK.

The Reports received from all sections of the Church indicate a most healthful state of sentiment and action respecting our Sabbath-school work. The conviction is becoming universal that the Sabbath-school is a part of the Church, that the interests of the two are inseparable, and that the Church is obligated to contribute the best services of its best members to the support of this Institution. As the consequence the happiest results are being realized. A vast amount of profitable religious instruction is communicated to the young, and many of their number are hopefully converted to Christ. There still remains, however, ample room for improvement. We need a larger proportion of thoughtful andtrained teachers; we need a larger admixture of purely Biblical and catechetical instruction; we need more co-operation on the part of parents with the workers and work of the Sabbath-school. We need to connect more closely attendance upon the Sabbath-school with attendance upon church services. And we need more than all to focus our Sabbath-school efforts in the one central thought of bringing the young to Christ, and making them saving partakers of his grace.

WOMAN'S WORK.

Most gratifying still continue to be the efforts and achievements of the different organizations throughout our Church, which contemplate Woman's Work for Woman. The tiny rivulets which but a few years ago began to trickle down from the hill-tops of Presbyterianism have united their waters, and are now sweeping along in one mighty river of Christian activity and beneficence. Apart from those comprehensive organizations whose name in our Church is a synonym for everything excellent and of good report, every city and almost every village and hamlet has its missionary organization, composed of Christian women working for their sisterhood of the sex. No recent movement of the Church has equalled this in practical efficiency and Christian success. Its influence upon the coming of Christ's kingdom is destined to be controlling. Already the movement has led many of the heathen to renounce their idols and accept Christ as their Saviour, while not less beneficent has been its reactionary influence upon those by whom it is conducted. The tone of piety has been sensibly improved among the Christian women of our churches. Weekly gatherings for prayer are being multiplied. And even the young are feeling the impulse of this spiritual quickening, and banding themselves together for Christian culture, religious activity, and missionary beneficence. The future we cannot forecast; but it will be strange indeed, if the wives and mothers of the Presbyterian Church, in the next generation, do not take on a higher type of personal character and consecration than has hitherto been known.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S ORGANIZATIONS.

In this connection it is pleasant to note the increasing disposition, which the Narratives record, to interest the young in everything pertaining to the Church, and to identify them as far as possible with all that relates to the body of Christ. In many churches young people's societies have been formed, proposing primarily spiritual ends, but contemplating as well whatever is promotive of intellectual and social culture. In others simply young people's prayer-meetings have been organized, with a view to the development of youthful piety and the cultivation of the gift as well as the grace of prayer. While in still others the organization has assumed a more distinctively missionary character, and been used with a view to the collection and distribution of charitable funds. All these bandings together of young people are in the right direction, and are helpful to the Christian Church. We need, more effectively than we have hitherto done, to organize our young people for the service of the Saviour, and by every practicable method to interest them in the work of the Church, and in the Church itself. Whatever tends to the Christian culture of those in early life is an element of ecclesiastical power. And, if all who love the Lord would stimulate the young to develop their powers, to increase their consecration, and to enlarge their efforts, our Church would rise to a higher plane of spiritual activity and achievement.

PERSONAL AND FAMILY RELIGION.

From every part of the Church, however, comes a bitter lamentation over the excessive worldliness which characterizes so many who compose its membership. With scarce a single exception, every Presbyterial narrative recites the fact that the world is encroaching upon the Church; that those who are called Christians are so immersed in business, or absorbed in pleasure, as to lose all zeal for the things of God, and all zeal for the enlargement of his kingdom. Altogether appalling is such a state of things. And well does it become us as a Church to pause and consider the drift of this current, lest it bear us on its bosom far away from truth and duty. Especially does it become us to humble ourselves before God, and seek to stay the tide which is so remorseless in its ravages. We need throughout the Church a marked increase of spirituality — a spirituality begotten of the Holy Ghost, and involving a vital union of the soul to Christ. We need an increase of fervent and effectual prayer—offered in the closet as well as in the sanctuary. And not less do we need Christian consecration, prompting to vigorous and persistent effort to overcome sin in our hearts and lives.

Most of the Narratives, however, connect the decay of personal piety with the decline of family religion. Beyond all question, the two are closely conjoined. Unless the young are reared under religious restraints, and environed at home with Christian influences, there is little reason to believe they will become in later life earnest and effective followers of Christ. Of vital importance, therefore, are those phases of Christian character which associate with family religion. The instruction and government of children, the maintenance of household worship, and, in fact, everything related to Christian nurture, has an urgent claim upon all composing the body of believers.

DELINQUENT CHURCH MEMBERS.

The fact further confronts us that in many of our churches there are not a few delinquent members; professing Christians who, apart from the worldliness of their characters and lives, forsake the Lord's table, and neglect even the ordinary means of grace. Many of these are not reported to the Assembly, but they are nevertheless church members, and as such are a hindrance to Christ's cause and a dishonor to Christ himself. It is important that the number of such should, as far as possible, be reduced. Great care therefore should be taken by Church sessions in the reception of members to full communion. Great watchfulness should subsequently be manifested with respect to their character and conduct. If necessity requires, judicious and healthful discipline should be employed to maintain the purity of the Church And, when members remove from one locality to another, pastors should be careful to recommend and secure the transfer of their ecclesiastical relations.

FEEBLE AND VACANT CHURCHES.

With the same watchful care is it incumbent upon Presbyteries to conserve their feeble and vacant churches. Reports, received from the older Presbyteries, represent some of their rural churches as being almost hopelessly decadent by reason of deaths and removals. At first thought, it would seem both practicable and proper on the part of Presbyteries to abandon these organizations and allow them to become extinct. But wiser counsels are suggested by mature reflection, and counsels which ought certainly to prevail. These churches, feeble though they be, are the real constituencies of our city and frontier churches. They are, moreover, the sources whence many of our candidates for the ministry are derived. And, unless they are sacredly fostered, incalculable loss will be experienced. We owe it, therefore, to ourselves and to Christ, as well as to these feeble and vacant churches, to conserve, so far as we can, their existence and well-being.

POSITIVE CHRISTIANITY.

In reviewing the condition of the Church at the close of another year, and forecasting the future which opens up before it, manifestly its great need at the present time is a more positive Christianity. Infidelity is becoming bolder every hour. Rationalism is challenging the citadels of our holy faith. Doubt, "subtle and penetrating as malaria," is finding its way into the blood of the Church. And worldliness is lessening the vitality and force of the body of Christ. What is needed is a type of Christian faith, experience, and action which shall boldly confront these evils, and neutralize their influence. We need Christian ministers who shall preach the whole truth of God with heroic boldness and spiritual fervor. We need church members whose consecrated hearts and lives shall illustrate the excellence of the religion they profess. We need a sanctified press, scattering everywhere the doctrines and precepts of the divine word, and superseding the insidious teachings of error and sin. We need most of all a baptism of the Holy Ghost upon the Church and all connected with it, pervading them with purity and power, and bringing back the spirit of the Pentecostal period. Except as we make our Christianity progressive and aggressive, spiritual and powerful —a thing of life, a thing of God—we cannot fulfill our mission as a Church.

NECROLOGY.

And to this we are summoned by motives drawn from the unseen world. The narratives of the Presbyteries record not a few removals by death of those who have long been set for the defense of the Gospel. Many prominent elders have during the year heard the call of the Master summoning them to come up higher, and ninety-eight of our ministers have ceased from their labors and entered into rest. Mindful of our own mortality, let us forthwith do with our might whatsoever our hands find to do. The promise of God's word is sure: "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life."

The entire number of students connected with the Seminary during the present year is 127.

A larger number of the graduating class than has been usual of late years have consecrated themselves to the foreign missionary work. Twelve have definitely made up their minds to enter the foreign field; ten have resolved to occupy mission fields in the western portion of our own country. Others are still considering the subject of missionary labor either at home or abroad. Several have received calls to become pastors of churches, and nearly all have definite prospects of being soon and usefully employed.

Rev. James F. McCurdy, Ph.D., who has for the past nine years held the post of Instructor in Hebrew and other Oriental Languages in the Seminary, with such acceptance, has tendered his resignation, which has been accepted, and is purposing to spend some time in Europe in the further prosecution of Semitic and especially Assyrian studies.

Rev. Samuel C. Bartlett, D.D., President of Dartmouth College, delivered the L. P. Stone Course of Lectures this year, with great acceptance. His theme was "The Sources of History in the Pentateuch." The lectures are shortly to be published. Rev. Mark Hopkins, D.D., LL.D., has been selected as the Lecturer in this Course for the next year. His subject will be "The Scripture Doctrine concerning God."

Cornelius R. Agnew, M.D., of New York City, very kindly delivered a lecture to the students on Personal Hygiene. It is hoped that his valuable services may be secured in other lectures in the future.

The following forty-one students have received certificates of their graduation, viz.:

Wheelock, of New York City, was elected to fill a vacancy created by the declinature of Mr. John A. Stewart, who was elected last year.

The Board respectfully solicits the sanction of the General Assembly to two changes in the "Plan of the Seminary," viz.: the omission from Article II., Section 3, of the words "and the President, or, in case of his absence, one of the Vice-Presidents, be one." Also, in Article II., Section 5, the change of the word "twenty" to "ten." The effect of the former change would be to enable the Board more easily to secure a quorum; that of the latter, to require one half the length of notice for a special meeting of the Board.

To the above is to be added the name of C. M. Lowe, A.M., of Oberlin University, who was received, near the end of the session, on certificate from the Union Biblical Seminary of Dayton, Ohio, and matriculated into the Junior Class, making the total number matriculated during the year thirty-two.

The following have been dismissed to other Institutions, viz.: James B. Clark, of last year's Junior Class, to Princeton Theological Seminary; and William R. Reynolds, of last year's Junior Class, to the Theological Seminary of the Northwest, Chicago.

The total number in attendance during the past year has been, in the Junior Class, 32; in the Middle Class, 22; in the Senior Class, 37; Post-graduates, 2; in all the classes, the total has been 93.

To the general good health of all connected with the Seminary, we have to report three exceptions:

George Alexander Duncan, of the present graduating class, who, through failing health from consumption, had been unable to rejoin his class at the beginning of the year, ended his earthly course, near Florence, Washington Co., January 11th, 1882. His ability, scholarship, and personal character were such as to make his early death a matter of peculiar regret.

There have been two cases of typhoid fever, the first, that of Mr. Langfitt, of the Senior Class; and the second, that of Prof. Jeffers, of the Faculty. The fever in each case was of a mild type, and, in the goodness of God, both are fully restored to health.

When it became evident that Prof. Jeffers would, of necessity, be laid aside from his work for some weeks, the Faculty divided the hours given by him to the Senior and Middle Classes among themselves, in their several Departments; and made an arrangement with Mr. John H. Kerr, of the Post-graduate course, to take charge of the instruction of the Junior Class in Hebrew. High satisfaction was expressed with the work done by him.

Prof. Robertson, of Dayton, Ohio, has been employed, for six weeks, in training the students in elocution. The results, as already apparent, give confidence in his ability as an instructor.

The sessions of the Inter-seminary Missionary Convention, which met in this city last October, greatly promoted the interest of the students in missions. Five members of the graduating class are under commission to go to the foreign field, two for China, one for Africa, one for the Laos, and one for a field not yet determined by the Board. In addition to these, there is reason to believe, that two or three more of the same class will follow, in a year or two, when hindrances at present existing shall be removed. Mr. Luigi M. de Jesi, of the Class of 1879, having just completed a full medical course in Philadelphia, has lately gone, under the auspices of our Board of Foreign Missions, as a missionary to the Romanists in Mexico. Mr. James M. McCombs, of the last year's graduating class, will go to India the coming season. Mr. Samuel C. Peoples, of the same class, expects to leave in about three months, to help in the establishment of a new station among the Laos in Siam. Mr. Arthur Bryan, of the same class, shortly goes to Japan.

The following thirty-four have received the diploma of the Institution:

Rev. John De Witt, D.D., of Philadelphia, Pa., has been elected, by a unanimous vote of the Trustees, to the Chair of Biblical and Ecclesiastical History, made vacant by the death of Rev. Zephaniah M. Humphrey, D.D., which occurred Nov. 14th, 1881.

After the death of Dr. Humphrey his lectures were read to the students, until the close of the year, by members of the Faculty, to the great delight and profit of the classes. Dr. Humphrey's labors were a great blessing. He was pre-eminent as a scholar and a teacher, as a minister and a Christian.

FINANCES.

The Endowment is estimated at $465,000. It is made up of the General Fund, represented by Buildings and Grounds, partly devoted to Seminary use, and partly rented for income; by leases yielding ground-rent; and by bonds and mortgages yielding interest. The Special Funds are: Library Funds, $9600; Scholarships, $39,174.41; and others, $10,620.74.

Fleming W. Faris, educated at Centre College and Harvard University.

These are all members of the Junior Class.

The whole number of students during the session has been nine: one in the Senior Class; five in the Middle Class; and three in the Junior Class.

As a body these students have been diligent in study, and have labored conscientiously to be thoroughly prepared for the responsibilities of the Christian ministry. The type of piety among the students has been very gratifying.

Mr. George B. Britton, having completed the prescribed course of study and sustained a satisfactory examination in the presence of the Board, was granted the usual certificate of graduation.

Accompanying this Report will be found the report of the Board of Trustees, containing a statement in detail of the condition of the financial interests of the Seminary.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

By order of the Board of Directors,

ARCHER C. DICKERSON, President.

VII. SEMINARY OF THE NORTHWEST.

THE Board of Directors of the Presbyterian Theological Seminary of the Northwest respectfully present to the Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, convened in Springfield, Ill., May 18th, 1882, their Annual Report—the Twenty-third since the Seminary came under the control of the Assembly, and was opened in Chicago, Ill.

Before the opening of the Annual Session, as they report, the Faculty dismissed to Princeton Seminary Messrs. William C. Barclay, Charles M. Fisher, Eiko J. Groeneveld. and Heinrich C. Velte, of the Senior Class.

They have, on proper credentials, received and matriculated the following-named new students:

De Costa H. Dodson, a graduate of the University of Iowa.
Rense H. Joldersma, a graduate of Hope College, Michigan.
Isaac Lineberger, a graduate of Beloit College, Wisconsin.
Samuel J. McKinney, a graduate of Illinois College, Illinois.
William R. Reynolds, from the Western Theological Seminary.
Robert Watt, from the Princeton Theological Seminary.

Messrs. Dodson, Joldersma, and McKinney composed the Junior Class of the year; and the others were admitted to the Middle Class. One of them, however, early in the session felt constrained to abandon study for the ministry, at least for the present, and his relation to the Seminary was, therefore, terminated.

The entire number of students duly matriculated, and in attendance during the session, was seventeen, including one Post-graduate.

The Board collect, from the Report of the Faculty, the information that good health, a correct deportment, a devotional spirit, and diligent application to study, have characterized the students generally throughout the session. The active part taken for the past two years, by some of the young men in this Institution, in organizing and maintaining the Inter-Seminary Missionary Alliance, together with the fact that the Alliance is to hold its next meeting during the coming autumn in this City of Theological Seminaries, has, it is believed, been blessed of God to the awakening of a fresh and gratifying interest in the cause of Missions. And the Board fervently hope it may abide and strengthen.

The three members of the Senior Class, namely, Messrs. William I. Dool, William R. Scott, and Albert H. Trick, having pursued the prescribed course of study, and sustained a creditable examination before a Committee of the Board of Directors, were each awarded the usual diploma of the Seminary.

The Library has received an accession of 184 volumes—11 from sundry donors; 111, costing $200, generously purchased by Rev. Dr. Herrick Johnson and Mrs. Cyrus H. McCormick—a valuable contribution to the Homiletical Department; and 64 volumes, costing $177.46, purchased with proceeds of Permanent Library Funds.

Seventeen hundred dollars, the product of a devise to the Seminary by the late Mrs. Sarah A. Collins, of Chicago, have been placed in the Treasury; and, by specific direction, the sum is divided into nuclei for the endowment of three scholarships, to be entitled:

1. The Walter Collins Scholarship, endowed with $700
2. The Sarah A. Collins Scholarship, endowed with . . . 500
3. The Leroy J. Halsey Scholarship, endowed with . . . 500

The PERMANENT FUNDS now consist of:

I. The Professorial Endowments, ... $209,700 00

This sum includes $75,000 reported last year as pledged by Mr. McCormick. Of the entire $209,700 this generous patron has given, in all, $195,000. Only $20,000 remain yet unproductive; and this sum, it is now expected, will be restored to productiveness, unimpaired, before the close of the ensuing year.

II. Scholarship Endowments (of which $4500 yet unproductive, but safe),		$21,518 11
III. Library Endowments,		2,742 50
IV. The Catharine Galt Fund,		2,500 00

RECEIPTS AND LIABILITIES FOR PAST YEAR.

I. Income of Professorial Endowments, collected in the year,		$8,480 01
Expense incurred for Instruction,—two chairs being vacant,		8,308 31
II. Income from Scholarship Endowments, collected in the year,		$865 05
Paid to Students, on orders of the Faculty,		889 09
III. Library Endowments, collected income in the year,		$247 75
Expenditures,		220 87
IV. Contingent Fund, collected in the year,	$1,307 25
Replaced in small part,	357 48
		$1,664 73
Liabilities incurred:
1. Taxes and Assessments (paid),	$2,635 23
2. Claims of Rev. J. Milligan, Agent for the year, including a balance from the previous year,	2,966 98
3. Miscellaneous—as Janitor, Repairs, Fuel, etc. (paid),	1,017 47
		$6,619 68

Relying on generous assurances from that noble and steadfast patron, Hon. Cyrus H. McCormick, of needed support until A.D. 1888, after which the twenty acres of surplus lands belonging to the Seminary may be expected to produce a liberal revenue, the Board have felt warranted in filling the two vacant chairs by the re-election of Rev. Drs. Craig and Marquis, and in assuming liabilities to the Professors, for the present at least, considerably in excess of the probable income of the existing endowments.

In addition to that generous assurance, and to his recent supplementary gift of $75,000 to the Endowment Funds, Mr. McCormick has now proposed to erect, within the approaching summer, on the Seminary Block, dwellings for three of the Professors.

In view of these and former unstinted and unselfish benefactions, it is not surprising that the Board, with enthusiastic unanimity, adopted the following paper, not doubting its approval by the sentiment of the entire Church, namely:

Resolved, 1. That the Board of Directors of the Presbyterian Theological Seminary of the Northwest should, and hereby do, adopt, subject to the approval of the General Assembly, the following Amendment to the Constitution of this Seminary, to be entitled Section 2, under Article II., in said Constitution, and to become of force upon the approval aforesaid.

Resolved, 2. That the Section in said Article II., hitherto numbered 2, be henceforth numbered 3; and that a corresponding change be made in the enumeration of all the succeeding Sections in the Article aforesaid.

"ARTICLE II.

Section 2. In just recognition of his relations of beneficence to this Seminary, CYRUS H. MCCORMICK is hereby constituted, from this time forth, a Special Member of the Board of Directors, to qualify as, and to be entitled to all the prerogatives of, other full members of the Board; and to continue in the office during the term of his natural life, or until he shall resign."

VIII. BLACKBURN UNIVERSITY.

In presenting the Report of the Theological Department of Blackburn University, there are special reasons for thankfulness to God for blessings during the year.

Health and harmony and increased tokens of prosperity have prevailed. We would, however, specially mention the presence of the Divine Spirit, manifested in increasing interest, among the Christian young men, in all that pertains to Christian life and work. The young men studying for the ministry have vigorously organized, and, with the co-operation of the young men of the Collegiate Department, have carried forward the regular daily and weekly meetings of the Young Men's Christian Association and the Society of Religious Inquiry, besides Christian work among the colored people and the Germans.

No effort is made to constrain the graduates of Blackburn University to remain for their theological course in the Theological Department, if their circumstances and their choice lead them rather towards the fully equipped and manned Theological Seminaries of the Church. And already several of our alumni from the classical course have taken, in whole or in part, their theological course in the Northwestern Seminary, and at Lane and other Seminaries of the Church.

Several, also, now doing good work for the Church, as pastors, as missionaries, and as superintendents of missionary work, have had their entire course in the Theological Department of Blackburn University. The deed of the main property of the University by Rev. Dr. Gideon Blackburn, as well as the corresponding charter by the Legislature of the State of Illinois, requires always a Theological Professor and Department. While, therefore, the scientific and classic course is as complete as in other colleges, the theological course is also complete as a course; but it is not to be understood that there is any claim that this Department is so manned as to furnish equal training with the Seminaries which have their Chairs endowed and filled. We aim, first, to prepare young men classically, and in Hebrew, for the theological course anywhere. Then, in respect to those young men whose circumstances or whose choice lead them to take their whole course here, the complete theological course is given by means of text-books and lectures; and good and thorough pastors on the field bear testimony that they were thus well prepared for their work in the theological course of Blackburn University.

The funds of the Institution are in good shape, and tokens are multiplying of the increasing favor of the Presbyterian Church of the Central West toward this Institution of our Church.

Respectfully,

Carlinville, Ill., May 1st, 1882. EDWIN L. HURD, President.

The term opened the first Thursday of September last, and closed the last Thursday of April. Two days were spent in the careful examinations of the students, and the Committee of the Directors who attended the examinations report "their unalloyed satisfaction at the thoroughness of the work done, and the proficiency of the students, all of whom give promise of great usefulness in the Church."

We have had only four regular students during this term; only one of whom graduated, being the only one in the senior class; namely, Mr. Matthew T. A. White. Last year we had five graduates. We have had under our care forty-one students. The three beneficiaries of the Board received one hundred dollars each during the term=$300. The contributions from our congregations and friends on this coast, to a thorough training of our ministers, were seven hundred and twenty-three dollars=$723.

We beg to call your attention to the Report of the Auditing Committee herewith submitted. There is no indebtedness on our property.

"The undersigned members of the Auditing Committee, to which was referred the Treasurer's Report, respectfully represent, that they this day called at the office of the Treasurer, examined his books, compared the vouchers with the items charged, examined the United States and other bonds held by him, and counted the cash on hand.

"They found everything in perfect order, the items of expenditure receipted for by sufficient vouchers, and the bonds and cash as stated in the Report submitted to us. Our examination was for the year beginning April 1st, 1881, and ending April 1st, 1882.

"All of which is respectfully submitted,

"April 28th, 1882."

Our Library has been enriched by the gift of several valuable works, and especially by over two thousand volumes left to the Seminary, by the will of the late Rev. Henry A. Boardman, D.D., of Philadelphia. The Trustees paid the inheritance-tax due under the laws of Pennsylvania, and the expense of transportation and insurance. The volumes are in good preservation, and are now well arranged on our shelves. We highly value this addition to our Library, both on account of the high character and good-will of the donor, and because of the valuable character of the books.

The ANNIVERSARY EXERCISES were held the 27th of April, 1882. The Alumni Address was delivered by Rev. Robert Ballagh, of Vacaville, Cal., and the Annual Address by Rev. Henry H. Rice, of Sacramento, Cal.

We are thankful to the Great Head of the Church, that the health of our Professors and of our students has been preserved, and for all that has been done for and by this infant School of the Prophets. The Seminary building is kept in good condition, and the students' rooms comfortably furnished. Our great need still is the endowment of Scholarships, and more endowment for Professors, so that we might have able and godly men who could devote themselves to Seminary instruction. We earnestly desire a greater number of students, and pray and hope the Holy Spirit will call more of our young men into the ministry of the Church. The next term opens first Thursday of September. The conviction is deep and abiding in our minds, that our branch of the Church imperatively requires this Seminary, and that we cannot relax an iota of our efforts. We believe our Great Redeemer will in due time, in answer to the prayers of his people, provide students and suitable endowments, to that our foundations may be broader.

Affectionately, we are your fellow-laborers and brethren in Christ,

WILLIAM A. SCOTT, President.

ROBERT J. TRUMBULL, Secretary.

X. THE GERMAN THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL OF NEWARK, N. J.

THIRTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

THE German Theological School of Newark, N. J., is, by its charter, under the authority of the Presbytery of Newark. Its management is through a Board of Directors elected by the Presbytery. The Directors are not necessarily confined to the Presbytery, but they must be ministers and elders of the Presbyterian Church.

THE DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists of eighteen persons, with Officers and Classes, as follows:

Rev. JONATHAN F. STEARNS, D.D., President.
Rev. ELDRIDGE MIX, D.D., Secretary.

1880—1883.

Rev. Jonathan F. Stearns, D.D.,	F. Wolcott Jackson,
Rev. George C. Seibert, Ph.D.,	Moses M. Bradley,
Rev. Eldridge Mix, D.D.,	Darwin R. Joues.

Rev. James P. Wilson, D.D.,	Philip Doremus,
Rev. Elijah R. Craven, D.D.,	James B. Pinneo,
Rev. Edward W. French, D.D.,	Archibald Parkhurst.

Rev. Joseph Fewsmith, D.D.,	Hon. Amzi Dodd, LL.D.,
Rev. William C. Roberts, D.D.,	Levi P. Stone,
Rev. Charles E. Knox, D.D.,	William Rankin.

THE FACULTY.

During the present Academic year the Faculty is composed as follows:

Rev. Charles E. Knox, D.D., President, and Professor of Homiletics, Church Government, and Pastoral Theology.

Rev. George C. Seibert, Ph.D., Professor of Biblical Exegesis and Theology.

Rev. Philip A. Schwartz, House-Father, and Instructor in the Academic Department for 1881–82.

Harvey E. Richards, M.D., Professor of Mathematics and of Natural Science in the Academic Department.

William A. Stamm, Classical Instructor in the Academic Department for 1881–82.

Max Traugott Gustave Sommer, Tutor in Hebrew and in the Academic Department.

"House-Father" is the title of a German office, representing the spiritual and paternal supervision of the person who resides in the Seminary building. Rev. Mr. Schwartz has, in addition to this oversight, given instruction in History, in Sacred History, in German Literature, and in German Orations and Essays.

Professor Richards has, as during every year of his connection with the Institution, generously given instruction, several hours each week, in Natural Science, without compensation.

Mr. Stamm, during the past two terms, has resided in Brooklyn, and has been present four days each week to give instruction in the Latin and Greek of the Academic Department.

Rev. Edward E. Rankin, D.D., has very kindly given two courses of lectures to the students of the Theological Department: during the first term a short course in Pastoral Theology, and during the second and third terms a course in the History of Foreign and Home Missions.

THE STUDENTS.

The number of students connected with the classes in both Departments is twenty—seven in the Theological Department, and thirteen in the Academic.

One Academic student, a son of Rev. Dr. Seibert, has a place in the class, without reference to a theological course.

Two applicants for admission, recently from Germany, are on trial.

Three students were graduated at the Annual Commencement, June 14th, 1881.

Three students have been promoted to the Theological Department—two from the Third Year, and one from the Second Year of the Academic Department.

No higher service can be done to the great object for which this Institution is established, on the part of our German and our American pastors, than to send us worthy young Germans suitable for the ministry. Our Seminary is not only subject to the ordinary fluctuations in respect to students, but also to the German influences which give character to opinion on the subject of the ministry. In proportion as we are firm in our requirements, we are likely to diminish our numbers. The chief source of our solicitude at the present time is in respect to the procurement of suitable young men consecrated, in Christlike missionary spirit, to the work of saving their countrymen. We need the prayers of the Church that God would send laborers into this harvest.

THE FINANCES.

The Endowment.—There has been no increase of the General Endowment Fund since the last Report to the Assembly.

Miss Mary Crane, of Montclair, N. J., has declared her intention to found a scholarship for the annual support of a student—the amount to be paid at an early day.

Another person has expressed a desire to found a second Scholarship, and has paid $500 as the first installment toward such a foundation.

The Loan or Debt.—The subscription for the payment of the Loan, made by the General Fund to the Current Account, was completed last autumn. The indebtedness which the subscription was designed to meet was the Loan of April 1st, 1879, viz., ... $10,125 27

The amount of the subscription paid is . . . 8,581 16

Leaving still due from responsible subscribers . . $1,544 11

The Newark Professorship.—When the above Loan is wholly paid to the Endowment Fund, there will remain in that Fund twenty-one thousand dollars ($21,408.10) as the amount originally contributed by the Presbytery of Newark. It is proposed to make this endowment at the least thirty thousand dollars, as the endowment of "the Newark German Professorship," of which Rev. Dr. Seibert shall be the first incumbent Professor.

The Invested Funds.—The Institution has now a larger amount of funds bearing interest than at any previous year in its history. The General Fund, though small, has been preserved through the long period of financial depression. The total amount of Invested Funds is $17,675.12, the income from which is, as now invested, $988.55.

The amount invested in the Bloomfield Property is $14,433.52.

The Uninvested Funds are:

Real Estate, ...	$900 00
Scholarship Fund, ...	500 00
Balance in Bank, ...	2,205 12
Advance in payment of unpaid subscription towards the purchase of the Bloomfield Property, . .	153 00
Literary Fund, ...	28 75
Total, ...	$3,786 87

The Current Income.—The total amount of the income, not including the "Scholarships" of the Board of Education, is $7,183 76

The total amount of the expense, not including the amount disbursed for the Board of Education, is 7,280 36

Leaving a deficit of 96 60

Leaving also unpaid salaries and bills, to the amount of 1,400 00

Making a total deficit of $1,496 60

The Total Amount received from all sources is as follows:

By the Endowment Account:
Payment of subscription on the purchase of the Bloomfield Property, ...	$100 00
Installment on the second Scholarship, . . .	500 00
Payments on the Loan, ...	5,871 16
	$6,471 16
By the Current Account, ...	7,183 76
Total received, ...	$13,654 92

The general work of the Seminary has been prosecuted with less diversion of the Professors from their instruction than during any previous year.

The Directors are thankful that our Institution is more and more fully established in the confidence of our Presbyterian Church; that we are now beginning to see quite a body of alumni; and that, in important centres, the influence of our graduates is increasing.

JONATHAN F. STEARNS, President.

The Examining Committee appointed by the Board remark the proficiency of the students in the various branches pursued during the year, evidence of faithfulness on the part of the Faculty, and of earnest application by the students, the progress made all that could be reasonably expected, and a degree of thoroughness to be commended.

The vacancy in the Faculty, occasioned by Professor Conzett's resignation of the Chair of Theology a year ago, has not yet been filled.

Diligent effort has been made by the Board to fill this Department, but, mainly in consequence of the want of funds, we have hitherto been unable to secure a suitable man.

A Committee has, however, been appointed by the Board for this object, and we hope, through their efforts and the liberality of the Church, that this Chair will be filled at the opening of the next term.

During the past year the Faculty have been assisted, in the Theological Department, by occasional lectures by the pastors in the neighborhood; and, inasmuch as the theological class was a small one, the vacancy in this Department has not caused very serious embarrassment.

But, as this class will be probably much increased in the coming year, it is very important that this Chair be filled. We, therefore, most earnestly beg of the General Assembly to commend our needs to the liberality of the Church. The importance of the German work in the Northwest has never been so grave as now. Its magnitude increases year by year. Promising fields are open to all the men that can possibly be sent forth, but we are unable to supply them for lack of means. It is to be feared that the Church does not appreciate the opportunity she now has for successful work among the Germans, nor realize how great a calamity, in respect to her own future and that of the country, its continued neglect must involve. Our Institution is ready to her hand, and furnishes the best instrumentality through which this opportunity can be seized and the work performed.

Our Institution is upon the field, already known by the work it has accomplished, and somewhat influential. The men we can obtain. Our one and indispensable need is money. An annual income of $3000, though a small sum for the Church to furnish, will meet our wants. An endowment of but $100,000 would secure it. It has now become an absolute necessity. Will the Church supply it?

Faculty of Theology.

Rev. Isaac N. Rendall, D.D., President of Lincoln University, and Professor of Christian Ethics and Apologetics.

Rev. Edwin R. Bower, D.D., Dean of the Faculty, and John C. Baldwin Professor of Theology.

Rev. Gilbert T. Woodhull, A.M., Avery Professor of Hellenistic Greek and New Testament Literature.

Rev. Thomas W. Cattell, Ph.D., Professor of Sacred Geography and Biblical Antiquities.

——— ———, William E. Dodge Professor of Sacred Rhetoric.

Lincoln University has met with a severe loss in the removal by death, from its corps of Professors, of the Rev. Caspar R. Gregory, D.D., Professor of Sacred Rhetoric. He fell asleep in Jesus, on Sabbath, the 26th of February, 1882. The immediate cause of his death was aneurism of the aorta. Among his last words were, "I go not in any merits of my own, but fearlessly trusting in the grace of Christ; and I am glad to go." As a Professor, he was devoted to the work which he accepted under the oversight of the General Assembly. He had a singular fitness for the Chair which he not only occupied but filled. That part of his work which he most enjoyed was the instruction of the theological students in the clear, direct presentation of the central truths of the gospel, which the sinner must believe in order to be saved, and the believer must apprehend in order to grow in grace. As much as possible, he brought himself into personal contact with individual students, and sought to stimulate them to special effort for the salvation of others, and to quicken in them an eager desire for their own growth in grace.

Dr. Gregory was born in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1824. In 1838 he united with the Second Presbyterian Church of that city. He was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1843, and from the Theological Seminary at Princeton in 1847. He was ordained, by the Presbytery of Philadelphia, in 1848, to become a Missionary among the Choctaw Indians. His health failing him, he returned to the East, and became pastor, first, of the Presbyterian Church in Oneida, N. Y., and then of the First Presbyterian Church in Bridgeton, N. J. In 1873 he entered upon his work as Professor of Sacred Rhetoric in Lincoln University, in which he continued until his death. In his various fields of labor he approved himself as a faithful workman, giving to God the praise of his efficiency. We have reason to thank God that such a laborer was associated with us in this work. He stamped his own traits and character upon the classes that enjoyed his instruction. Some of the fruits of his labor have been presented to the Assembly, as, in successive years, the graduates of Lincoln University have appeared in it as Commissioners.

The William E. Dodge Professorship of Sacred Rhetoric has become vacant by the death of Dr. Gregory. His successor has not yet been elected by the Board of Trustees. The Lord, who sent him to this work, will still have a care for the work from which he has called his servant.

The Chair of Hebrew and Old Testament Literature remains vacant from want of endowment; but the Professor of Hellenistic Greek has given instruction, during the past year, in this branch of study. Our work would be greatly strengthened by the full and separate endowment of all the Chairs of instruction in the Theological Department.

The following students have attended the course of instruction in the several classes:

SENIOR CLASS.

Peter J. Bacon, Ga.,
William L. Bethel, N. C.,
Morris G. Blackburn, Pa.,
William H. Dickerson, N. J.,
John R. Harris, Va.,
John A. Savage, Liberia,
Alexander R. Wilson, Ga.

MIDDLE CLASS.

Henry C. Mabry, N. C.

JUNIOR CLASS.

Charles V. Auguste, Jamaica,
John N. Conyard, N. C.,
James A. Guy, Pa.,
Frank T. Logan, N. C.,
Oliver S. Logan, Va.,
Horace G. Miller, Pa.,
Henry C. Moyer, N. C.,
William H. Palmer, Pa.,
Jeremiah B. Swann, Md.
Ishmael Till, Pa.

Instruction in the Theological Department ended on Sabbath, the 23d of April. A sermon was preached in the morning by Rev. Daniel W. Poor, D.D., Secretary of the Board of Education, from I. Cor. 2 : 1–4; the Lord's Supper was celebrated in the afternoon; and a conference by the students in the Senior Class was held in the evening. All these exercises were interesting and edifying. The Commencement exercises will take place on Tuesday, the 6th of June, in conjunction with the Commencement in the Collegiate Department. Since the last meeting of the General Assembly six of our students have been licensed to preach the gospel, and seven have been ordained to the gospel ministry.

The Income from the Endowment Fund of the University for the year subsequent to the last Report is as follows:

The William E. Dodge Endowment,	$750 00
The Mary Warder Dickey Endowment,	859 54
The Avery Endowment,	1025 96
The John C. Baldwin Endowment,	1400 00
The Dunlap Scholarship,	168 00
Amount,	$4,203 50

The Faculty have the gratification to report to the General Assembly, that, since the last Report, another endowment of $20,000 has been added to the funds of the University, by the liberality of Reuben J. Flick, Esq., of Pennsylvania. This endowment was not designated by the donor to any special Chair of instruction; but, by a vote of the Board of Trustees, the income from it has been assigned to the Professor of Mathematics, who is also Professor of Sacred Geography and Biblical Antiquities in the Theological Department.

The Dormitory, for the erection of which funds were contributed by H. H. Houston, Esq., is nearly ready for occupation. It is built of brick, is three stories high, is heated by steam, and will accommodate, comfortably, thirty-three students.

The past year has been one of general prosperity. The number of students in all Departments has increased to two hundred—Theological Department, 18; Collegiate Department, 100; Preparatory Department, 82. Five thousand dollars have been contributed for the thorough repair of Ashmun Hall. Its capacity will be enlarged, providing room for thirty-two additional students.

David E. Small, of Pennsylvania, has offered to the Trustees five thousand dollars to erect a Professor's House, to be called, in honor of Dr. Gregory, the Gregory Memorial Cottage.

By the liberality of Miss Susan Gorgas, of Pennsylvania, a frame building, 110x60 feet, to be used for Commencement exercises, has been erected on the grounds of the University. The building has been named Livingstone Hall, in honor of the African Missionary Explorer. This gift is one of great value to the University. It will enable us to exhibit our work in more favorable circumstances to the notice of the large number of friends who annually visit the Institution to manifest their interest in the work in which we are engaged.

During the year a gracious season of revival has been granted to the Institution. Thirty-three students in the Collegiate and Preparatory Departments have professed faith in Christ. Several of these have expressed their desire to study for the ministry. Professing Christians have been led to a more unreserved consecration of themselves to Christ's service. The candidates for the ministry in the Theological Department have been spiritually benefited by the part they have taken in the instruction of inquirers, both in public services and in their private intercourse with them.

Of the two hundred students in the University this year, eighty-two are candidates for the ministry in the various Denominations represented among them.

It may interest the Assembly, as it greatly encourages us, to learn from the reports of eye-witnesses who are competent judges, that our students and graduates are successful laborers in the work for which they have been educated; that they are workmen needing not to be ashamed; that they are wisely adapting their teaching and methods to the peculiar circumstances and lowly condition of their people; and that usually, with much skill and good common-sense, they are bringing their superior culture to aid in the social, moral, and religious improvement of their people. They are regarded by the Freedmen as sympathizing friends, and are trusted as competent and conscientious guides in the churches, schools, and homes of their people. And they are themselves encouraged by the evidences of progress in the enlargement and establishment of their work. They are already sending students to their Alma Mater prepared to enter the advanced classes.

The Hon. Thomas J. Jarvis, Governor of North Carolina, writes: "I desire to say a word for Lincoln University for the help rendered the State in this particular. Every educated young man whom you send into the State, qualified to become a teacher, is especially valuable to us in supplying the need of properly trained teachers. Judging from the character of those whom you send to this State, the work of your University must be thorough. There are but few men in the State, even of my race, who are superior, as speakers, to one of your graduates. I trust you will be able to extend your good work, and that more of the colored youths of my State may be able to avail themselves of the benefits of your University."

In 1879 the Rev. Richard H. Allen, D.D., wrote: "Give Lincoln University the means of turning out annually a score of such men, and in ten years the Negro Problem will be solved to the entire satisfaction of the whole country. I wish all the friends in New York had seen the workings of this Institution as I have for the last ten years, and had marked the character of the young men whom she has sent out. I am sure they would appreciate the great work that is opening out before her. There is a great and good work for Lincoln University to do, and we must put her in a position to do it."

The Hon. George M. Dews, Superintendent of Public Instruction in the State of Georgia, says: "Our supply of competent colored teachers is too small. We want well-educated, thorough, earnest workers. The Church needs such workers as badly as the school. Where can we get them, except from such institutions as Lincoln University? The harvest is plenteous, but suitable laborers are few. May Lincoln send out many such as you, with liberal culture, broad views; men who seek to heal, not to wound; who would build up, not tear down; who inspire confidence, not mistrust!"

The pastors of evangelical churches in Columbus, Ga., unite in expressing their appreciation of the graduates of Lincoln University, who had become known to them as ministers of the gospel laboring in the field: "We are prepared to say, that an Institution which has trained and sent forth such men, and so long as it shall do so, deserves the hearty and liberal support of the Christian people of the country who desire to aid in the real elevation and the more thorough evangelization of the colored race."

In view of the enlargement of our work, and the evidence of the increasing usefulness of our graduates in the field, we give hearty thanks to God.

Respectfully submitted,

By order of the Faculty,

Rev. Stephen Mattoon, D.D., President, and Professor of Theology, Ecclesiastical History, and Church Government.
Rev. Thomas Lawrence, D.D., Professor of Homiletics and Biblical Exegesis.
Rev. Robert M. Hall, A.M., Professor of Moral Philosophy.
Rev. Samuel J. Beatty, A.M., Professor of Hebrew.

Since the last Annual Report, the following persons have matriculated in the Theological Department: Irby D. Davis, Alexander C. Johnson, George S. Leeper, William Eugene Partee, all of whom are graduates of the Collegiate Department of the University; and John P. Adams, educated at Brainerd Institute, S. C.

Adolphus D. Waugh and Robert P. Wyche have completed the full three years' course of study.

Adam Frazer,	Charleston, S. C.
David Reid Stokes,	Charlotte, N. C.
William A. Alexander,	Concord, N. C.
Thomas A. Attels,	Chester, S. C.
Edward H. Garland,	Danville, Va.
Morris Seabrook,	Columbia, S. C.

The first two complete a full three years' course at the close of the present session in June.

In the other Departments of the University, which are under the care of the Presbyterian Committee of Missions for Freedmen, and under the instruction of the same Professors, assisted by Mr. Eugene P. Semple, A.M., and Mr. C. Richmond Harding, A.B., we have enrolled 178 students, of whom 127 are professors of religion, and 56 are candidates for the ministry. Several of these are looking to Africa as their field of labor. We have a fund of $6120, the interest of which must be appropriated to aid those who are preparing for mission work in Africa. Our students are kept in constant contact with the people, and, by regularly supplying the churches in the vicinity of the University, are trained in the practical work of the Church.

The University was founded for the purpose of training colored young men for the ministry. But to attempt to do this, without furnishing previous collegiate training, would end in utter failure. Facilities must, therefore, be furnished for a thorough education from the beginning. In a field like that of ours, it would be poor policy to educate only those who propose to enter the ministry. There is great need of an educated eldership. Little benefit to the Church can be expected from those who cannot even read. Fully ten times the number of those who propose to enter the ministry should have the means of education placed within their reach.

The University is excellently situated to effect a work of this kind—many students enjoying its privileges without any additional expense to the Church. But we have been greatly hindered in this work for want of room. Prof. Lawrence, under the direction of the Presbyterian Committee of Missions for Freedmen, has been raising money during the last year for the erection of a much-needed new building, but has not yet secured enough to complete it. The fact that the University was founded by the Presbyterian Committee of Missions for Freedmen brings our whole work under the fostering care of the General Assembly; and we appeal to the whole Church, to aid in furnishing the needed facilities for the successful prosecution of the work.

By order of the Faculty,

SAMUEL J. BEATTY, Secretary.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD,

Abstract of the Twelfth Annual Report.

The Board of Home Missions takes great pleasure in presenting once more its Annual Report to the General Assembly. In reviewing the twelve months embraced therein, it feels called upon, at the outset, to record the great goodness of God towards the Board and its devoted missionaries, as well as the signal success with which he has crowned their labors.

In the same connection, it is our painful duty to record the death, September 11th, 1881, of the Rev. Cyrus Dickson, D.D., who had served the Board as one of its Secretaries since the Re-union in 1870. The following extract from the minutes of the Board but feebly expresses its high appreciation of his character and services:

"Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God to remove by death the Rev. Cyrus Dickson, D.D., late Secretary of the Board; therefore—

"1. Resolved, That we have lost a faithful co-laborer, a genial friend, and a wise counselor; and that, while we are unable to solve the mystery of this great affliction, nevertheless we bow before the divine will, knowing that the Lord of all the earth will do right.

"2. Resolved, That we cannot forbear to place on record our high estimate of the service that he rendered the Church, through this Board, during all the time he was connected with us. He showed a hearty sympathy with the missionaries and their families in all their hardships and labors; and, in the pulpits of his brethren, in the Presbyteries, Synods, and General Assemblies, he advocated the cause of Home Missions with a fervency and power seldom if ever equaled; and until his health failed he gave all his energies to this great work.

"3. Resolved, That we are reminded by this dispensation of Providence that the time is short, and that we are called on to renew our diligence in the Master's service.

"4. Resolved, That this minute be entered on our records, and a copy of the same be sent to the afflicted family, on whom we invoke the divine blessing, and pray that the God of all grace and consolation may comfort and sustain them in their great bereavement."

In June, 1881, the Rev. WILLIAM C. ROBERTS, D.D., of Elizabeth, N. J., was elected to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Dr. DICKSON.

An unusual number of our missionaries have been removed by death during the year, as follows: Rev. Messrs. James A. Clark, William H. Brocksome, Robert Stewart, Isaac J. Cushman, William Fuller, Erasmus J. Boyd, Lewis Hamilton, John H. McKee, James Cameron, Samuel P. Dunham, J. Henry Gujer, James A. Darrah, Felix Maes, and John B. Morton.

Of our general work we need hardly say more than we have done in former years, except to emphasize every feature of it. The extension of new railroads into portions of the country hitherto unoccupied, the increasing multitudes coming to this country from foreign lands, make the demand for churches and missionaries more urgent than last year or any previous years. It would have been so if we had been able to meet the demands of last year; but we were not. Neither the men nor the means necessary could be obtained, and hence the accumulated need this year. Montana, hitherto the most difficult of access, has already been penetrated by two railroads, and the long and tiresome journey by stages is substantially at an end; and very soon railroads will reach its main points, and make it easily accessible from the east, the south, and the west. Similar facilities for easy access to Idaho, Oregon, and Washington Territory will soon be furnished. Then we may expect a great and rapid influx into this great and inviting section of the Northwest. Indeed, it has already begun in anticipation of the completion of railway lines.

When we reflect that it is not thirty-five years since gold was discovered in California, and see what has been accomplished on the Pacific slope,—the fortunes made, the cities built, the palaces reared, the great corporations under the control of young and vigorous men, the development of mineral, agricultural, maritime, and other industries,—we catch but a glimpse of the immense possibilities of our western coast within a century to come.

The number of miles of railway laid down the last year surpasses that of any previous year in our history; and every additional mile so constructed gives enlargement and new interest to our missionary work; and to this fact must be attributed the increased demand for Home Missionary work during the last two years.

Other features of our work are attracting unusual attention.

THE MORMONS.

The Mormon question has become one of absorbing interest. Its inherent evils, its fanaticism, its polygamous marriages, its hierarchical government, its non-American ways, its threatening attitude towards the other Territories adjoining Utah, and its hostility to freedom of worship, have at length awakened Congress, the churches of all denominations, the public press, the two political parties, and the masses of the people. The first consequence has been, to make the Mormons more violent and fanatical, their leaders more intolerant and threatening, and the hostility to our schools and churches more decided. Children are forbidden to attend our schools. Parents are charged to prevent their attendance, and our teachers and missionaries are openly abused and derided. Meanwhile the work goes on. The number of ministers, teachers, and scholars has been considerably increased during the year, and there is still abundant room and demand for greater increase.

THE INDIANS.

Special interest has also been awakened in the condition and wants of the Indian tribes. The labors of the General Assembly's Commission have undoubtedly done much in giving form to public opinion, by having obtained a clear conception of what it was necessary to do, and then by distinctly making known their views to the President and both Houses of Congress, and thereafter to the people at large.

The Government seems determined to give better opportunities, and furnish better facilities, for the education of the Indian children, and a better chance for Indians to learn the white man's ways and how to earn their daily bread. Our work among the Indians has been continued and enlarged during the year, but we have not been able to do all that we intended, because we have found it impossible to find suitable teachers and superintendents for the schools.

OUR FOREIGN POPULATION.

The unparalleled and increasing immigration to this country has called attention anew to our foreign population. It has been noted that vast numbers from northern Europe are settling in this country. The Baptists and the Methodists have seemed to be very successful in gathering large numbers of them into their churches; while we have but a single Scandinavian minister in our connection, and not a single Scandinavian church. Of the 700,000 immigrants who came to this country last year it is supposed that one fourth were Germans. A most touching appeal has been made to us, by German ministers, in behalf of this large and important number of their fellow-citizens. We already have a goodly number of German churches. We have two Theological Seminaries training young men to minister to their countrymen in the German language. But it is an important question, whether the numbers and the energy of the Germans in our country, and their present and prospective influence on our literature, our religious institutions, and political destiny, do not make it incumbent on our Church to make a new departure in the work of their evangelization.

It is not to be supposed that the foreigners who come to us bring their ministers with them. There must be a great dearth of preaching among them; and we cannot afford to be indifferent to their spiritual welfare. Does it not become the duty of the General Assembly, to review all its past utterances and plans, and see if larger schemes are not necessary to make sure of the rising generation among the people of foreign birth?

WORK AT THE SOUTH.

Our work in Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Florida, and Texas has not been unlike our work at the North and West. But in various ways during the last few months the work in the South, in new aspects, has been forced upon our attention. "The poor whites of the South" is a very improper designation of the people who need the preaching of the gospel. There are people who are very low in the social and the moral scale, but they are not all, nor a majority of them, of this class. They are not all poor, ignorant, indolent, or worthless. Many are intelligent and enterprising. But, rich or poor, high or low, if they are now destitute of gospel privileges, it must be the duty of some portion of the Church to interpose in their behalf, for they can be saved if the means are properly employed.

What then is our duty? We have no plan. We see some serious difficulties in the way of making the attempt; but if the Lord has a work there for us to do, he will probably shed light on our path.

CITY EVANGELIZATION.

This, too, is a subject that is pressing itself anew on our attention. The tendency of the population to gather about great centres is very strong. It is a significant fact that one fifth of the entire increase of population in this country, during the last decade, was an addition to fifty of its chief cities. The increase in New York was 264,000, but that in some of our western cities has been so great, that the churches therein, none of them very strong, are confronted with a grave problem. What shall we do for the thousands gathering within our limits who have no church privileges? Portland, Oregon, thinks itself called on to organize three new churches at once or in the near future; San Francisco has just organized two; Sacramento, Stockton, and Los Angeles, each has organized one, or has it in contemplation; Denver considers itself called upon to organize four; Kansas City has organized two within its limits, or just at hand, within the past few months, and contemplates the formation of one or two more; and Omaha has two infant enterprises on hand, and contemplates the early organization of a third. New churches, at least one in each of the cities, Chicago, Milwaukee, Detroit, Cleveland, and perhaps other large cities, have recently been organized, which may be able to draw all necessary outside aid from the older churches in their respective cities. But it is evident that, if the city churches wake up to the needs of the great unsupplied and unreached population, we will find that a great task has fallen to us. All these new churches must of necessity draw heavily on our treasury.

We have never known anything like this before. And it may open a new and large department of work for the Church, that must be accepted, and that will call for the united wisdom of our best men to meet and administer.

THE "PRESBYTERIAN HOME MISSIONS."

Our constantly enlarging work has been continually forcing on our attention, for some time past, the propriety of securing enlarged facilities for the circulation of Home Missionary Literature. We have had, for nearly twelve years, only ten pages of the Record for giving information to the churches about Home Missions and Sustentation. If the exercise of beneficence be in exact ratio to accurate information on the subject, it is evident that the Board should have some enlarged channel through which information could be conveyed to the public—for our enlarging work demands an increase of funds. Rev. SHELDON JACKSON, D.D., generously placed the Rocky Mountain Presbyterian at our disposal, which is to be issued monthly under the auspices of this Board, bearing the name of Presbyterian Home Missions.

SUSTENTATION.

A large number of churches have sought to avail themselves of the advantages of the scheme, but have thought themselves unable to comply with its conditions; and a considerable number of churches, that had previously drawn aid under the plan, have found themselves unable to advance fifty dollars in their contributions the present year, and have been treated as exceptional cases, as provided by the scheme itself.

All admit that the scheme of Sustentation is not meeting the original expectations of its friends. Many good and wise men have expended their best efforts on the plan, and yet it is thought that it needs still further modification. We think it appears so to all candid friends of the Cause; hence we were greatly rejoiced, that the last Assembly committed the whole subject anew to a large and able Committee to confer with the Board and report to the next Assembly.

We have been asked by that Committee if it would not be wise to abandon the plan altogether. We have replied that with certain modifications and new adaptations we hope that it could be made both acceptable and effective. We have no means at present of knowing what report the Committee will make, but we hope it will meet the approval of the Church, and open the way for more aggressive work. In that case we shall need larger contributions than we have ever had.

We give now a few sketches of our great and growing work in the various States and Territories, in the language of others who are more competent to speak than we are of their various fields.

CALIFORNIA.

Only five new churches have been organized in this Synod during the year. Six or seven new men have been added to the ministerial force. Two churches have become self-sustaining.

OUR NORTH PACIFIC EMPIRE.

Six States like the great State of New York, placed side by side, would not equal in area the Synod of the Columbia. New York alone contains a population of over five million people, while within the bounds of the Synod of the Columbia there are only about three hundred thousand people.

The State of New York has in proportion as much waste land as Oregon, Washington, or Idaho—mountain, lake, and wilderness—hence in the future, when these are settled as New York is, they will contain a population one hundred times as great as it is to-day. The population in the last ten years has more than doubled itself, and it is safe to predict that, by the time the next census is taken, the population of Oregon alone will be five times what it is to-day; while, with the many inducements offered to settlers in Idaho and Washington, with the development not only of agricultural but mineral resources, these two Territories will have made corresponding progress.

In all of this vast region there is not a single completed railroad saystem. In Oregon, stretching southward from Portland for two hundred miles, we have the Oregon and California Railroad. This road on the east side of the Willamette River passes through the Willamette valley, and with its west-side branch on the other side of the river affords an outlet for the great crops raised in the Willamette valley. It is proposed to extend this railroad southward until junction is made with a branch of the Central Pacific. Already an army of laborers, white and Chinese, are at work on the extension in southern Oregon, and the one hundred and eighty miles necessary to complete the road to the California line will, it is said, be built within one year. Portland is also the terminus of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co., to-day one of the strongest and best managed railway corporations in the world, and one which, with its predecessor, the Oregon Steam Navigation Co., has done more for the development of this Northwest than all other agencies combined.

The railroads of this company radiating from Portland are intended not only to reach all the principal places in Oregon, Washington, and Idaho, but also in conjunction with the Union Pacific and Northern Pacific railroads to make direct connection with the East. This company has thousands of laborers at work extending its branches, and expects to reach the heart of Idaho with the main line this summer, while its branches extending in every direction through the wonderful wheat region east of the Cascade Mountains will afford an outlet for the wealth of golden grain annually produced there.

The great Northern Pacific Road, after years of inactivity, has awakened like a giant refreshed, and is making tremendous strides toward completion. Save a gap on the Columbia River of about fifty miles, bridged over by the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co., the Northern Pacific Railroad is completed from Puget's Sound eastward to Montana, and there remains a gap of about four hundred miles between the eastern and western divisions. Grading, tunneling, bridge-building, and track-laying are being pushed with an energy which assures a completed road in 1883, and with that completion an era of activity and prosperity.

The Northwest is only awaiting the completion of these railroad systems to assume the prominence its natural resources warrant. The resources of the Northwest, with these new avenues of communication, will attract home-seekers from every other quarter. The great wheat-raising belt east of the Cascade Mountains, the vast pastoral ranges, the timber growing in magnificent forests along the shores of Puget's Sound, on all the water-courses, covering all the mountains with a splendid growth of pine and cedar, oak and maple, ash and laurel, and the unequaled attractions of the Willamette and other valleys of western Oregon and Washington, make the future full of promise.

The North Pacific region contains the last great body of timber in the United States. Undoubtedly it is the best anywhere to be found to-day, and it is practically untouched. Excluding the immense yellow-cedar forests of Alaska, and the timber regions of Oregon and Idaho, there is a body of timber bordering Puget's Sound in Washington Territory 220 miles long by 150 wide. Many sections will average 100,000 feet of perfect lumber to the acre, and in places 250,000 feet of splendid fir can be cut. California and the Sandwich Islands depend upon this region for lumber, and cargoes are now sent as far as China. It is only a question of a few years, when this shall become the greatest lumbering region in the world.

The first settlers of this region, after the days of the hunters and trappers of the Hudson Bay Company, were men and women in close connection with missionary effort for the Indians. When the call for missionaries to the Indians was heard, the answer came in the form of teachers and settlements. The earlier settlers were all missionaries; but later on came those whose only purpose was a new home.

Christianity presided at the settlement of the Northwest, and the institutions and character of the people ought to have a strong Christian bias. And yet the statistics of this country show, that but a small proportion of the people are directly connected with the churches as communicants.

The Presbyterian Church to-day would be first in point of numbers as it is in influence, had it been possible hitherto to secure a sufficient number of efficient ministers for the work. Only principal points could be occupied with our limited force; hence the roll of ministers and churches in the Synod of the Columbia is small. We hope for better things, and with the material development of this country we look forward to its religious quickening, in which the Presbyterian Church will take a prominent part.

MONTANA AS A MISSION FIELD.

There is not a more delightful tour on this continent perhaps than one from Ogden, Utah, over the Utah and Northern Railroad to Montana, and over the various stage lines that thread the cañons and climb the mountains of that wonderful Territory. After traveling along all night and half a day we reach the southern border of Montana, and almost immediately we notice the better grass, the heavier growth of timber, and the more interesting scenery that characterizes this Territory. Here we come to Dillon, and thirty miles farther on Glendale, two towns of 800 people each. Then our train climbs up the cañon, and over the divide, and on to Butte. Here the busy multitudes, the rumble of innumerable quartz-stamps, the roar of smelting-furnaces, and the shriek of whistles tell us that we have reached the Mecca whither the tribes of silver-worshipers make their pilgrimage. This is the present terminus of the railroad. Here brother Russell is building a strong church. The stages are ready to take us on our way in any direction. At four o'clock in the morning we take stage for Helena.

Four miles to the left over in that cañon is Wickes, renowned for the sobriety and intelligence of the people, for the good order of the town, for the three great bonanzas owned by the Wickes Company, and their great reduction works. Wickes enjoys the proud distinction of being the only mining town in the West where no liquor is to be found. A reading-room, school-house, temperance-hall, and church are provided. The church goes right on in its growth, while it is calling all the time for a minister. Rev. Thos. A. Wickes, though in delicate health, ministers to them whenever he can. Beyond the mountains east of us lies the beautiful Gallatin Valley. Bozeman is supplied; but five villages along this fine farming valley call for a minister.

The church at Helena was helped along in its infancy by the Board of Home Missions, but years ago it became self-sustaining, and is now a strong and growing church. East of Helena seventy-five miles is White Sulphur Springs, the business centre of broad, outstretching, agricultural and grazing valleys. We have a church and an excellent field, but no minister here. Further on is the Judith Basin, whose soil and pasture are attracting population, and the Barker mines, that promise to make a Butte or a Leadville, but there is no minister for this great and rapidly developing region.

Returning to Helena we look out over Prickly Pear Valley, and see the homes of hundreds of farmers; but we have no minister among them. We take the stage for Deer Lodge, and are soon on top of the main range of the Rocky Mountains again. Here we pause for a moment to enjoy the panoramic view of forest-clad mountains and broad fertile valleys and meandering streams. We are on the backbone of the continent. Those rivulets and rills on the one hand swell that river in the valley which mingles its waters with the great Pacific Ocean, while the melting snows at the other hand find their way to the Missouri, and so on majestically across the continent to the Atlantic. That drop of rain that trembles on a leaf has an uncertain destiny ; a gentle breeze may send it to one or the other of those eternal oceans. And so of the towns springing up among these glorious mountains and valleys. They are trembling between two destinies. Through a career of infidelity, intemperance, and godlessness to the eternal ocean of despair, or under gospel influences their course may lie through the green pastures of precious ordinances to the boundless ocean of God's eternal love.

Montana is now passing through just such a crisis. It is peopled largely by the best families that have ever moved West. Its development under such tremendous difficulties shows the indomitable enterprise of its people. Its business energy, its admirable common-school system, and its excellent society show that these towns will be decidedly good or bad, according to the influences under which they grow. We pass on to that delightful little city, Deer Lodge, that somehow impresses everybody that it ought to be the centre of education for the Territory. We have a good church, but no minister ; and the towns all about—Blackfoot, and Phillipsburgh, and New Chicago, and Pioneer—are all without regular preaching. And farther on are Missoula, where we have a church and minister, and the Bitter Root Valley, the loveliest in all Montana. Temperate climate, fertile soil, splendid forests, abundant water, and attractive farms make it the garden-spot of the Territory. In this valley we have two churches and two mission stations, but alas! no minister.

UTAH.

The past quarter has been marked by decided progress in this part of the land that is yet to be possessed for the Lord.

Leaving Ogden, a growing town of 7000 inhabitants, and passing northward, we soon find ourselves in the beautiful Cache Valley, where 20,000 Mormons in twenty towns of various sizes have by some degree of industry made it evident that they belong largely to the better classes who have been deluded by that foul religion. Their towns are nearly as well built as our frontier towns that are half as old, and their farms twenty years old would compare favorably with our western farms that have been improved only a year or two. Six mission schools in this valley and two Presbyterian ministers are making a decided impression upon the religious, moral, and social life of the people. Attendance on the schools and preaching services is about the same as it was during the last quarter. Day-school, forty on an average ; Sabbath-school, the same ; preaching services, fifty on an average. Although the average attendance has not increased, yet the interest on the part of some of the older people has undoubtedly become greater. Several seem to be somewhat anxious about their own salvation.

Another thing that indicates progress is the favor with which the Mormons look upon us and our work. We refer more to the citizens in private life than to any of the public men among them, but the mass of people are becoming more friendly, and are beginning to see that Gentiles are not such hideous monsters as some of their officials have endeavored to make out. We are winning the good opinion of the young people, and many of them declare that they will never be Mormons.

The onward movement of the evangelical churches in Utah for the past year has considerably stirred up the leaders of Mormonism. Some weeks ago they set out on a sort of circuit-riding expedition, and visited many of the settlements in Zion with the purpose of bolstering up those who were becoming weak in the faith, advising them to obey the priesthood; to pay their tithing; to submit to the will of God in regard to polygamy, etc.

The party arrived here on Saturday. The next day a meeting was held, in which the President of the Twelve Apostles and one of President Taylor's counselors took a prominent part. Among other things, they endeavored to impress upon the people the importance of sustaining the priesthood in all they under took; they should obey their leaders at all hazards. They also told them that, if the Gentiles had their way, they would cut the throats of every one of them.

They endeavored to prove that Mormonism was of God, and to do this they used two arguments: First, the great hardships endured by the Mormons in coming to this new country, and, in spite of these, their successful arrival and settlement in these valleys and mountains. The fact that God had permitted them to do this they considered a proof of the divinity of Mormonism. Second, the bitter enmity of the American people, and, notwithstanding this, the fact that they had been so long shielded in their religious beliefs and practices, they regarded as another evidence that God was on their side. They held up polygamy to the people, and told them that, if they would only submit themselves to the will of God in this matter, they would have a testimony from God that polygamy was a divine institution. Think of this in the United States of America!

Since the visit of their leaders the Mormons have been attending to their duties a little more faithfully; but as there is a lack of any truly religious spirit among them, they will undoubtedly become careless and negligent again.

Of course it will take time to accomplish much in any of these Mormon towns, and it will require much faith and patience. God grant that we may have an abundance of both, and may be valiant for the truth in our time and place.

COLORADO.

Colorado is the third largest State in the Union. Her area is 105,000 square miles, or nearly twice as large as Illinois, or three times as large as Ohio. It is about equal to the combined areas of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware. To Texas and California alone do we concede superiority in size.

Few realize the enormous territory covered by the mission work of that one State. But the condition of the work is as encouraging in Colorado as in any other part of the country. In June, 1881, there were twenty vacancies in both Presbyteries. To fill all of these, when men were reported to be so scarce, seemed no easy task But within six months nine good men had been secured from the East to fill twelve of them—three being double fields. Three others were filled by transferring men. The last is yet unsupplied. Thus in six months all the vacancies but one had been filled.

In the mean time, however, five others have become vacant by the transfer of their ministers to other fields, and by removal. Laramie has just become self-supporting and called a pastor. Fort Collins, as a self-sustaining church, exercises her right to select her own supply. While awaiting the reply of those with whom they are in correspondence, the pulpit is supplied by the Session. For Idaho and Salida we are in correspondence with men with good prospects of success. Irwin, child of the lamented "Father" Hamilton, is still without a minister. Thus these vacancies are in a fair way to be filled. In addition, four new fields have been opened; two in each Presbytery.

Such is the record of the past nine months, and such the present condition of our field. There are six actual vacancies to-day, for the supply of which we have three men in view; and at least two new fields to be opened in the early spring.

But if we had these now on the ground we should not be satisfied. For, if ten years hence we are to have any place in Colorado, we must go forward and not be content with standing still and keeping full the fields already occupied. There is yet much land to be possessed. From available sources it has been estimated, that not less, probably, than three fifths of the population of Colorado, exclusive of the Mexicans, are without the preaching of the gospel in any form. The mountains are teeming with human beings who have almost forgotten when the Sabbath returns, who from one month to another never hear the voice of a preacher of any name or sect. Some of these are in families, the children growing up without any regard for the Sabbath, or knowledge of the Bible or its truths. We have been very successful so far in planting our church in every town of any size or importance in the State: but thousands in all our counties, especially in those more recently opened, are yet without the gospel. Is not the call for us to go out into these highways and hedges and minister also to these? And there is another side to this question. These now new and undeveloped regions will not long remain thus. In another year, perhaps, or in two or three, some of these little "camps" will have grown from a population of perhaps 100 to 500 or even 1000. If we are to obtain a hold upon them we must be early on the field. Now is the time to move with some of them. The one great need of Colorado for 1882 is the opportunity and ability thus to be more aggressive; to move forward to new conquest, even in advance of definite developments.

But the right sort of men are absolutely essential to success. We must have single men for this work. Men who will be free to go wherever there is a call for their presence; free to stay there as long as may be needful; free to pick up and leave at a moment's warning if need be. We must have men of tact and adaptation for this work. Not every one can do it. There must be a readiness of speech and a frankness of utterance that are not possessed by all. There must be a faculty of accommodation of one's self to any variety of circumstances, and a spirit of courageous cheerfulness amid discouragements.

Such is the condition, and such are the needs, of our work in Colorado. What is the prospect? This perhaps may be best forecast by a brief reference to the past. Dwellers in the East can form no idea of the rapidity of growth in Colorado in every direction. In 1870 the census returned a population (including Mexicans) of 39,000, of which probably one half were Mexicans and Indians. In 1880 we had 200,000, of whom about 25,000 were Mexicans. This is the largest growth of any State or Territory in the country. In ten years Utah went from 87,000 to 144,000, an increase of 65 per cent. Wyoming, from 9000 to 20,000; increase 125 per cent. Montana, from 20,000 to 39,500; nearly 100 per cent. Kansas, 175 per cent. Nebraska, 267 per cent. These last two are enormous growths. But Colorado, in the same time, has increased 386 per cent. That is, her population was in 1880 nearly five times what it was in 1870; and to-day her population is not far from 250,000. Our Presbyterian Church has, however, more than kept pace with this enormous growth. In 1870 we had five churches and six ministers, 144 members, or one member to every 275 of the population of the State. In 1882 we have 48 churches, 46 ministers, and a membership of 2500, or one member to every 80 of the population of the State. The average increase of the State has been 16,000. The average annual growth of the Presbyterian Church has been 200; while the increase for the last three years has averaged nearly 300. If we take percentages, we have increased 1600 per cent. in ten years, or are nearly 17 times as large as then. If State and Church simply maintain their present annual averages (a thing by no means improbable), in 1890, with a population of 400,000, we shall have a membership of nearly 6000. These are large figures, but they are the facts with which we are confronted in our work in Colorado. With an annual immigration of 16,000 we must bestir ourselves to keep what we now have for Christ and our Church. Give us consecrated men, men of strong faith, of good practical common-sense, of willingness to endure hardship for the reward that is set before them, and we have no fears for the future of the State.

THE SYNOD OF MINNESOTA.

The Synod of Minnesota, at its last annual meeting, in the city of Hastings, listened with great interest and solicitude to the Report of its Committee on Home Missions, as it set forth the rapid development of this section of our country and its pressing spiritual needs.

We ask you to bear in mind, to begin with, the dimensions of the field embraced within the bounds of this Synod It includes the State of Minnesota and the Territory of Dakota, measuring 300 miles from north to south, and more than 800 from east to west—an area of 240,000 square miles, or more than five times that of the State of New York.

The resources of this section are immense. Its grain-crop is among the largest in quantity and without a peer in quality. Its forests, its water-powers, its mineral deposits, need not be more than mentioned; while the facility with which its products may be transported along our great natural highways of commerce, east, south, west, and north, gives it great advantages over many other sections of our land. Here are the western extremity of the great lakes, the headwaters of the great rivers, and navigable outlets to the ocean in three separate channels. Every natural feature of this portion of our land indicates it as the future home of a vast and intelligent population.

The population has already risen to a round million, of which nearly two hundred thousand are in Dakota. Within a radius of six miles, including St. Paul and Minneapolis, there are now one hundred and twenty-five thousand people. The tide of immigration sets strongly in this direction, and the railroad development, to which our last Annual Report refers, will tend still further to stimulate it, by opening new, cheap, and fertile lands for settlement.

But we call particular attention to the class of settlers which the territory embraced within our bounds is receiving. The foreign immigrants are principally Protestants—Germans and Scandinavians, Scotch and English. The most are frugal, temperate, and industrious; and many of them have been already gathered into Presbyterian churches, though Lutherans in their native lands. England has given to us a large representation of her best farming population; and colonies have already settled in southwestern Minnesota, while others are expecting soon to follow them. The Scotch come largely from Canada, and settle for the most part in the Red River valley. What we may expect of them is indicated in the fact, that in four years the Presbyterian churches within the bounds of the Presbytery of Red River have increased from four to twenty-four.

But, in addition to the foreign immigrants, remember the numbers who have flocked to our borders in reply to the cry, "Go West!" Our own sons and daughters, perhaps, are here; or if not ours, then the sons and daughters of those who, like ourselves, have been accustomed to the highest privileges, social and religious. Many of them are found in prairie homes and country towns. Within the past few years farming—especially on the large scale here in vogue—has become popular with our best families, and many of them have engaged in that pursuit, while hundreds of young men have settled in new but promising commercial centres, in the hope of acquiring a competence.

In view of these facts, so briefly and imperfectly presented, the Synod of Minnesota is intensely desirous that we adopt, with reference to this section, a most liberal policy. Let us specially inquire as to its spiritual condition and need at the present time, so far as relates to the Presbyterian Church.

Its Need.—We need such a supervision of our general work as shall insure two things very closely related:

1st. The organization and fostering care of a Presbyterian church in every community where there is a real call for one. And there must be accurate information concerning the religious proclivities of those who settle here and there, their financial ability, and all other elements affecting the advisability of organizing a church, and its prospects of life and usefulness.

2d. To man these churches we need a force of ministers adapted to the peculiar features of the field. We know that the cry for more laborers comes up from every portion of the world; and we would not think of enriching ourselves at the expense of others; but we do covet a fair share of the best assistance attainable; and we are anxious to put in a plea for the Northwest, which, sounded in our Theological Seminaries especially, and through the whole Church, shall be effective in securing men, means, and sympathy.

We ask forbearance, therefore, for a few years more, when the Presbyterian Church, in this new Northwest, built upon enduring foundations, and developed upon a scale to honor the cause of its Master, will be able to reach forth its hand, in turn, to the needy, and, by its liberal co-operation with the Board in its glorious work, will amply repay all the care and the means which have been expended upon it.

SOUTHERN DAKOTA.

Dakota is a vast elevated plateau—high, rolling prairies and grassy plains, watered by the Missouri River and its tributaries, which, entering it near the N.W. corner, rolls its immense volume of muddy, cool, sweet waters across the entire Territory to the S.E. corner, dividing it into two unequal parts.

In the S.W. part, which contains the Black Hills, with their valuable mineral resources, our Church has done little work. Dakota was erected into a Territory in 1861. It contains 152,000 square miles. Of the political divisions of the country, only Texas and California have a greater area. In 1870 the population was 14,000, and in 1880 135,000, a larger per cent. of increase than any other State or Territory has had; and nearly all of it has come in the last two years. At the last census the population of southern Dakota was a little over 100,000, and is estimated to be now not less than 160,000. One eighteenth, or over 5½ million acres—two sections in every township—"is reserved for the purpose of being applied to schools."

We know but little of the country of which we boast its extent, resources, and possibilities. Great and strong, to-day; but what must the future be? Just look at this Territory; Ohio is not one quarter as large. The southern half of it, which is now under consideration, is larger than all New England, and Indiana would be lost in it. We can keep two or three millions of people very busy subduing the rich, virgin soil of Dakota, and furnish them all homes of comfort and competence when they get through with the struggle. And when our hundred million acres are occupied, there are hundreds of millions more beyond. We need not greatly concern ourselves for the next century or two about room for our children and all that come to us, with a million or two Mongolians thrown in. If one fourth of Dakota be barren mountain or desert, which is a liberal estimate, if 80 acres of fertile land will support a family, then we have free homes for the first 900,000 families that come to us. And, if families average five persons, then we have room waiting for 4,500,000 souls.

But as Dakota, until recently, was a kind of unknown land, and even yet very many have most vague and erroneous ideas of it, it may be of interest to have a brief talk about it. Perhaps we cannot do better than throw the subject into the form of question and answer. The questions are not imaginary, nor the answers either.

In the beginning of 1879 the Milwaukee Company had not a mile of road in the Territory; now they have over 600 miles. The Chicago and Northwestern, less than 100 miles; now they have over 400 miles. Both are projecting large extensions for the coming year. It is very difficult to get a retired spot over 25 miles from a first-class railway in southeastern Dakota.

What class of people are settling Dakota? A mixed multitude: Irish, Canadians, Scotch, Welsh, Scandinavians, Russians, and some Germans; but by far the greater part are Americans from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, and Iowa, with a liberal supply from a dozen other States.

What is the nature of the soil? It is composed of a black vegetable mould, mixed with alkali and saltpetre, and varying in depth from 20 to 70 inches, and is well adapted for wheat and most of the cereals. It is underlaid by a stratum of clay, which holds the moisture, and makes the most—and enough for immense fertility—of the sometimes scanty rainfall. We do not need to be deluged with rain almost weekly, to avoid a famine as in many regions. Everything is balanced with the most admirable wisdom. The heavens pour down all the water that the nature of the soil demands. We have not only the strong, black mould, but mixed with it the ingredients of the best fertilizers. The soil is as near inexhaustible as any sinful race should possess.

Dakota grows superb wheat, grand oats and barley, rye, peas, millet and potatoes, and for rutabagas it cannot be excelled; melons, pumpkins, squashes, cabbage, and maize. Cattle thrive, and sheep do well. All this, with health and buoyant spirits, is better than apples of gold.

What kind of a climate has Dakota? Is it not awful in the long winters, and torrid in the short summers? No; emphatically, no. People suffer more South and East from cold and heat.

The thermometer is an unreliable gauge of suffering from either cold or heat. There is some very cold weather in Dakota. One could easily commit suicide by freezing, if so disposed. But the air is dry and bracing in the coldest weather, and, unless one is unwisely or accidentally exposed, it is not even unpleasant. With the exception of occasional days of high wind, flying snow, and intense cold, Dakota winters are fine. The autumns are delicious and long. The first light frost comes between the middle and the end of September. October has some blustering weather, also November; but, as a rule, the whole of September, and three fourths of October and November, are beautiful and enjoyable. It is just cool enough for a light overcoat, and a smouldering fire; but dry, bracing, and exhilarating, the most delightful season of the year. Often this weather extends into December; sometimes it is cut short early in November. About the middle of December, bring out buffalo-robes and overcoats, and be ready for a cold snap. It may come any time, and is sure to come some time. January is winter. February also. March has some bright days, but usually it is the worst month in the year, and sometimes steals a piece out of April. In April they sow small grain, and in May plant corn. May is a fitful month, now warm and growing, and anon cold and raw—occasionally flurries of snow, though that is rare. June is delightful. July is warm. August is warmer; but it is too far north for torrid weather: hardly a night is too warm for refreshing sleep. Take it the year round, for health and comfort the climate of Dakota excels. This no one qualified to judge denies. It is outside of malaria. In a medium climate, people who are afraid of shaking have to choose their location with care, but in Dakota it is safe anywhere.

NEBRASKA.

The results of labor are twenty-five churches organized, eight houses of worship built, twelve new mission fields organized, and fifteen new ministers introduced and located. We have endeavored to hold all that we have taken, and we have not failed to take any new points of importance that have presented themselves. The churches that we have organized are all well located for growth and aggressive work; more than half of them are in growing railway towns, and the others are in country districts where they will gather a most substantial element of population.

The future is very inviting, if we can have the men for the work. There is no visible limit to our enlargement, so far as the territory is concerned. For the coming year the work of organization should go forward as in the past. Oh for men! earnest, consecrated, and ready men, to help us in this grand work.

If we get a reasonable supply of ministers this spring, our work will go forward with God's blessing as during the past three years. If we fail to secure ministers for our vacant fields, we must call a halt in the work of organizing, and bend every energy to saving what we have now got.

There has been unusual religious interest in the churches during the past quarter. Among the churches that have received largely may be mentioned St. Paul, Goodman, Kearney, North Platte, Millerboro, Bennett, Fairmont, Humboldt, Raymond, Firth, Alexandria, Lincoln, and Omaha, 2d. There have been at least 500 additions on profession of faith in Christ during the past quarter. For this we render most hearty thanks to God.

KANSAS.

The State of Kansas is the exact centre of the United States both east and west, and north and south, if we leave Alaska out of consideration. It is three degrees of latitude in width, beginning at the 37th parallel and extending to the 40th, and about 400 miles in length from east to west. The whole State may be described as a vast plain, about 600 feet above the ocean level at the Missouri River, and rising by almost a steady ascent to more than 2000 feet. There is very little of it flat; it is undulating for the most part, sometimes rising into quite high hills.

Through its whole length, nearly in the centre, flows the Kansas River, and in the southwest portion the Arkansas passes through more than half its extent, while numerous affluents, some of them considerable rivers, enter into these main streams. Along all these streams is a narrow belt of forest growth, like a fringe, but all the rest is prairie, covered with a continuous carpet of most nutritious grasses, which once supported immense herds of buffalo, and are now capable of supporting equally numerous herds of domestic cattle.

The whole territory is exceeding fertile, unless, in certain portions, there is a lack of rain. The only question of productiveness is the proper quantity of water.

The climate is dry and bracing, with no local cause of disease.

Over this State is a network of railroads, giving all portions of it the closest connection with all other parts of the country. These roads have frequently been built far in advance of the settlement of the country, and thus have called for population instead of waiting for population to call for them.

The settlement of the State has been more rapid than any other, as the Act of Congress opening it for the occupation of the white people was passed in 1854, and now the population is more than a million.

The settlement of Kansas forms an era in the history of this country, as at its very beginning a life-and-death struggle between slavery and freedom began, with a desperate fierceness that has seldom had an equal in any of the great struggles for human freedom which the world has seen. Here John Brown, whose "soul goes marching on," did his most earnest life-work, and here many others, less conspicuous but no less earnest, contended with life or death as the result of the contest. The great war which killed slavery, root and branch, began in Kansas.

The population of Kansas is mainly American. The aggregate of foreigners is large, but much smaller in proportion than in many other States. Not only is the population American, but it is mainly from the belt of States directly east of Kansas. Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, and Indiana are all largely represented, with a goodly number from New England, but much smaller than is frequently supposed. The general intelligence of the people is high, and common schools are very numerous and well patronized and cared for.

There is a good degree of activity in the mission work of all the denominations, and very large sums of money are expended by the various divisions of the great Christian army, in sustaining missionaries, building churches, and supporting schools.

Home Missions in Kansas is a subject of ever-increasing interest. Eight years ago the Presbytery of Highland could not meet west of Blue Rapids, ninety-six miles from Atchison; and now a meeting of a Presbytery, the same size as Highland was then, could be held in any of fifteen (perhaps twenty) places west of Blue Rapids, and within the bounds of the old Presbytery of Highland.

Eight years ago there was not a white settler in this county. Five years ago the first sermon was preached in the county. Yet last year's census gives a population of 4180 frugal, industrious farmers, nearly all of them. We have six preaching stations, and the congregations are good, quiet, orderly people, who want to be permanent citizens and possess the advantages of church and Sabbath-school.

And these efforts are blessed in the conversion of some. Six heads of families are now preparing to unite with one of the churches on profession of faith.

This state of affairs exists throughout this part of the State. It is only five years since the Presbytery of Solomon was erected, and the time has fully come for another division of the territory.

There is not a field occupied that ought not to be; nor a field where the missionary money is unwisely expended; but there are places where Christ's vineyard is going to waste and loss for lack of laborers of any denomination.

INDIAN TERRITORY.

The Indian Territory constitutes a most important, most difficult, but most interesting mission field. The difficulties are many, but will be readily understood, when the statement is made that about thirty different languages are spoken; that the greater part of the population is Indian, with white men and negroes living among them, and frequently intermarrying with them; that society ranges all the way from the savage Indian, with a blanket for his dress and paganism for his religion, to men of culture and collegiate education, and earnest Christianity for their religion.

In this Territory are five regularly organized Indian governments, entirely independent of each other, and within certain limits independent of the United Sates Government. It will be necessary, for a good understanding of this work, to look at each of these and some others separately.

The Cherokees have been under direct Christian influence for more than fifty years; and are probably at the head of all the Indians of the continent in civilization. We have now three organized churches among them, with two missionaries; it would be well to add one more.

The Creeks have within their territory three churches; but one of them, that of Muscogee, is mainly a white man's church. They have two missionaries and one ordained native minister.

The Seminoles are but a small tribe, and closely related to the Creeks in language and character. With them is a church, a missionary, and one ordained native. Both the Creeks and the Seminoles are under the care of the Foreign Board, with the exception of the missionary at Muscogee.

The Choctaws were once sufficiently under the care of the Presbyterian Church to have a Presbytery and some sixteen churches. This Presbytery and its churches are now a part of the Southern Church, but they are greatly neglected and run down, and the Southern Church is doing nothing whatever for them. There are indications which show that many of the former missionaries are ready to return, and the Choctaws are anxious to place their highest educational institution under the care of the Presbyterian Church. Some three or four men should be sent into that country at once.

The Chickasaws are well advanced in civilization. A large number of white people are residing among them, and they are now left nearly destitute of all religious instruction; one man should be sent them at once.

From these civilized Indians we turn to smaller and less important tribes. The Kaws are a remnant fast fading away; the full-bloods will all soon be gone. But we have a church among them of some twenty members, which needs care, and may thus live and grow, for the half-breeds and white men who will occupy that country.

The Poncas have had a large share of public attention. They are a pagan people, but we have a good missionary among them who is devoting his time to them and the Kaws.

The Nez Perces are a most deeply interesting people. Prisoners, and home-sick, often unto death, they have listened to the gospel as no other Indians in the Territory have ever done. A church of ninety-three members, full-blood Indians, has been recently formed, and is now under the care of an ordained native minister. South of the Poncas are the Pawnees, a pagan tribe, with no missionary of any name among them. A few sermons have been preached to them by our men, and they have appealed to us to care for them.

It is now probable that the Otoes residing in Nebraska will soon be removed and located between the Poncas and the Pawnees. They are a semi-civilized people, with some men of education and wealth among them, and some who are Presbyterians who have been educated in Highland University. It would seem quite important that they be taken under the care of the Presbyterian Church. The present indications are, that we shall have access to all that Indian population, and the prospect for doing good is very fair.

TEXAS.

The Home Missionary prospect in the State: two words define it—vast and urgent.

1st. Its vastness is evident from the multiplied incentives offered to emigration. Many have come, many are coming, many will come to Texas.

(a) On account of the unequaled climate. No hot summer nights, and few cold winter days. No prevailing diseases—sickness in Texas is due chiefly to old age, to constitutional disabilities, and to a disregard for ordinary precaution.

(b) On account of the remarkable development of the railway interest. Two years ago there were 3350 miles of road in actual operation. During 1880, 662 miles were added, and in 1881 more than twice as many. Connection is now made between New York and San Francisco at El Paso; between the United States and the city of Mexico at Laredo; between the North and New Orleans at Shreveport.

There are four lines of railway crossing the entire State from north to south, and two from east to west.

(c) On account of the rapidly increasing cotton interests; 900,000 bales were raised the past year, worth $50 per bale, and not one hundredth of the cotton land was under cultivation. Texas cotton is worth more in England than any other.

(d) On account of the fine range for cattle and sheep.

Texas as a cattle market is first among the States; and California alone is in advance of Texas in wool-growing. Herds and flocks need no feeding and housing. A sheep is content to furnish its coat of wool in exchange for the oversight of a shepherd and a handful of salt; and cattle make a return of 20 per cent beyond all outlay and all contingencies, without feed, shelter, herder, or salt.

This then is the poor man's country, because profitable employment is abundant; because there are so many opportunities to supplement an income—with a few cows, or a peach orchard, or a garden; because very little fuel is needed; because warm houses are not a necessity; because less outlay in clothing is necessary; because the ordinary wants of life can be supplied reasonably.

2d. There is an urgent demand for heroic Home Missionary effort on the part of our Church.

(a) Among 250,000 church members there are but 9000 Presbyterians.

(b) There are at least forty good railway towns without a Presbyterian preacher. This does not include the new towns.

(c) All western Texas, 800 miles long and 250 broad, is being crossed by four railroads, and is being settled rapidly.

(d) The Southern Synod, with about one third of its churches vacant, has neither men nor means for this vast undertaking.

(e) Emigrants to the South and West have very generally come because of broken health or diminished fortunes; therefore Home Missionaries are supported almost entirely by the Board.

(f) We are encouraged to undertake great things, because, casting out the net at our Saviour's command, we have been so greatly prospered. We need at least twenty men this spring, and many more very soon.

What could we not do, if the Synod of Texas could be sure of $100,000 to sustain ministers and build churches the coming year?

The time has come for every young man to ask, may I preach the gospel? Let no one merely ask, ought I to preach? And every Christian should inquire, not how much ought I to give? but how much can I, may I give in this exigency of Home Missions?

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS.

In speaking of this Territory, we seek to embody its main points in what follows:

New Fields.—It may seem strange to some to hear of New Fields in the old State of Illinois. In an early report to the Board is this statement, concerning the Synod of Illinois, South: "Our 150 churches should become 300 in ten years."

The thoughtful men of that Synod have not only indorsed this, but gone further; we are convinced that the responsibility of our Church for this field was then quite understated.

True, in the year that has since elapsed we have organized but four instead of fifteen new churches; but one new church per month for ten years is no extravagant expectation for these three Presbyteries.

All this is said with the great evil in view of crowding little towns and rural districts with needless and weak church organizations.

Permit some considerations, which justify the above expectation of growth.

1. Look at the map of the Synod of Southern Illinois.

See our extent; we are an empire, with more than 26,000 square miles. As large as New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Connecticut, with another Connecticut and Rhode Island thrown in. This is a territory larger than one half of England, scarcely less than Ireland, and larger than Scotland, the mother of Presbyterianism.

Observe what are these square miles.

The northern and central counties are broad and rich prairies—the finest under the sun. All along the rivers are "bottom lands," of which is the famed "Great American Bottom" of quick alluvial soil, adapted to every variety of product, and inexhaustible in richness. The "river bluffs," breaking up into the most charming hills and valleys, are being transformed into fruit farms, which in many cases are yielding ready returns in quick fortunes. These hills and valleys when used as in Randolph and other counties for wheat, have yielded the finest qualities in the world's markets. Moreover, these bluffs are an inexhaustible source of wealth, in the underlying rock, which furnishes building material, used very widely, and lime of the finest quality anywhere found. Coal is found in nearly all these southern counties. The unrivaled mines of bituminous coal in Jackson and adjoining counties have brought there very large coke-manufacturing enterprises. These must bring to our doors, as already to considerable extent, the ore-smelting interests of the land. Somewhere not far from Carbondale or Murphysboro, in Jackson County, is the Pittsburgh of the next twenty-five years.

With such resources, with St. Louis on the border, and some scores of lesser but rising and thriving cities dotting thickly this entire territory, and with wider river shipping facilities than any equal acreage in the land, we are forecasting for this Egypt a future of power and far-reaching influence at no distant day.

If the grandeur, the wisdom, the chariots and horses, and the corn of ancient Egypt were worthy of a world-wide fame, the children are now living who will see a new Egypt, rising in a better age, and with a broader and deeper foundation for its fame to a like enviable notoriety among the powers of the day just now dawning.

2. As bearing upon this point turn to the railroad system.

The returns show an aggregate of 9249 miles of railroad now in use in Illinois, and 346 miles of new railroads built in 1880.

Of the roads so projected and incorporated, official documents show that twenty-seven run in whole or in part through this Synod, and twenty-three are to run wholly, or to cross the State, in this Synod.

Think what these new roads mean to the region through which they run. They mean new coal-fields opened; new industries created; new sources of wealth; new markets; new farms, and new centres of commercial vitality. Every new station is such a centre; the nucleus of a village or city; the centre for new schools, new enterprises, and surely for new churches. How many of these centres arise upon each hundred miles of new road built? Are there twenty? Are there ten? Then how many such centres, for the 346 miles built last year?

Remember that, of 153 churches, nearly every one is on some present line of railroad travel. As yet the rural districts are unsupplied. Great masses of the people are Sabbathless and churchless, and the new railroads will supply this want. An example in point is the recently built "Wabash and Pacific," running through this Synod from St. Louis northeasterly. Taking a point almost at random, we start at Litchfield, and run thirty miles to Taylorville. Between these two points, only thirty miles apart, we pass six of these new creations—thriving villages, at four of which we have begun Presbyterian churches. One is self-sustaining, has a pastor, fine church building and parsonage, and is growing. Another has a good church building and a minister. A third is building, and the fourth is not yet ready to build. All are hopeful centres.

WISCONSIN.

The following is a brief summary for 1881:

New churches on the roll, 6; old churches revived, 10; new mission points reached, 18; vacant churches furnished, 40; churches new built or rebuilt, 5.

During the year 1881 there were finished 300 miles of railroad in this State, and 150 miles in upper Michigan, likewise within the bounds of this Synod. This, with 400 miles additional already surveyed and in process, helps one to estimate the Home Mission phase of the question.

A state document gives the fact that 50,000 immigrants were domiciled in Wisconsin, while a proportionate number in the upper peninsula have entered homes from Canada.

The year past has been most favorable for business, so that enterprises have not been slack in making their due advantage. The lumber and logging interests are increasing decidedly; while from the great iron ranges of Lake Superior over 2,250,000 tons of high-grade ore have been shipped, not to speak of copper from mines which control the markets of the world.

And what have we been doing? Modestly be it stated, our Presbyterian Church has been most systematically at work endeavoring to meet these unwonted conditions, and has won the lead in systematic, thorough work. Measuring our opportunities and materials, a fairly good showing is ours; and even a better promise is assured for this year of our Sovereign Lord, 1882. We dominate, under God, the objective points in our Synod; along the upper Wisconsin valley, river and railroad; along and through the territory penetrated by the North Wisconsin Railroad; all along the lake shore of the north, now beginning to be tracked by iron and traversed by commerce; through the iron ranges of Superior and Menominee; in the country away in the northeast, where mission work is as vigorous as the climate is just now rigorous; and here and there men and means can be utilized where these will do most good to the greatest number for Christ's sake.

Even points and churches that were deemed lost in the wilderness have been sought out, and to-day are rejoicing in the old hope with new energy. One marked feature of the past year has been this sort of revival, or rather resuscitation; though it cannot be said that while "life was working in this, death was working in that." On the contrary, every section, old and new, is leavened with the present wide-spread movement and spirit of life. Six or seven of these hitherto silent slumbering churches will be alive and astir very soon.

One peculiar sign of quickening is in that noticeable fact, that ten decaying churches, some silent as to the ordinances for as much as seven years, are now all aglow with renewed, revived life, and the last state far better than the hour when they were first called into existence. This is proof of the blessing of the Holy Spirit. Our double prayer is now for the Spirit to accompany the word, in that so many churches and stations are equipped with the ministry of the word, and also that such an increase of the mission spirit shall be ours as to keep this from being simply a spasmodic effort.

The actual work has largely increased throughout the Synod owing to the steady spread of railroads, the new development of mineral wealth in the north, the increase of timber and lumber interests, the rapid influx of people, and as a consequence the springing up of many centres of population, all of which, so marked in this year, more than predict a greater showing for the year at hand. Three hundred miles were built in 1881 in this State, beside that part of our Synod in upper Michigan.

Our Church has grown steadily, and this past year with marked increase in every good word and work. There never was a more general mission work done. Of course, not every place along the older lines can be occupied at the outset by our Church—we have not the missionaries. But many of these points show such decided importance, that we are challenged and even personally urged to possess them, because every growing, and especially every well-ordered community, claims an interest in the Presbyterian Church.

MICHIGAN.

The work of Home Missions is a unit throughout our whole land, yet every separate State and Territory has its own importance and its own peculiar wants.

The demands of any State upon the Cause of Home Missions must depend upon two conditions:

1st. The present need of its people;

2d. The prospective growth and importance of the State.

Michigan does not urge her claims mainly upon the first of these conditions, but emphatically upon the second. We do not say that there is no need or little need to-day of sending missionaries to the new regions of northern Michigan to preach the gospel to the poor, or of assisting the feeble churches of southern Michigan, and nursing them to strength and faithfulness, instead of leaving them to feebleness and death. If the future of the State were always to be as the present, with no growth of population and power, still there would be a duty upon the great strong mother-church of the land, to care for and brood over the many feeble scattered nestlings of the flock that may be found in the wilds and the rural districts of Michigan. But these people, poor and dependent to-day, will many of them be the large proprietors and influential men of the next decade.

The communities of pioneer homesteaders, that honeycomb the great forests of northern Michigan now, are the beginning of large villages and wealthy and populous cities, that will certainly cover that region a generation hence.

No other State in the Union comprises within itself so many of the varied and important elements which insure wealth and prosperity and large population as the State of Michigan.

Michigan has a larger combination of great natural resources than any other of the United States. She has none of the great ocean seaports. She has but little of the prairie soil of the great West. She does not claim to have the great mines of gold and silver. Yet, in her capacity of production from the soil and mines and waters, and in the facilities for commerce and for manufacturing of all kinds, we ask confidently, where is the State of the Union, or the nation of the world, of proportional area, that is her equal? Let the political economist measure the capacity of her soil for grains and grasses and vegetables and fruits, and add to this the wealth of her forests, and the value of her iron and copper and salt and gypsum and coal, and her magnificent fisheries, and the facilities for manufacturing found in the presence and abundance of the valuable woods, and the inexhaustible iron of the finest quality, and the power of her countless streams, and the fuel for the enginery of her factories; and the carrying capacity not only of her network of railroads, but of the great lakes that embrace her two peninsulas, and communicate with the ocean commerce of the world; and how will he compute by figures or describe by comparison the future which such a combination of resources, permanent and inexhaustible, may insure?

These are the conditions with which the Cause of Home Missions has to deal in Michigan. It is the Cause, not of this year alone nor mainly, but of the future of a mighty commonwealth. It is the Cause, not of Michigan alone, but of the nation, which shall be more and more affected hereafter by her growth and power.

INDIANA.

The following report is among the last from the pen of Rev. Henry Little, D.D., whose life-work and death were so graphically described in the April number of the Presbyterian Home Missions. It is a fair picture of his ordinary labors and accompanying observations.

In Indiana we have generally found work for nearly all the men who otherwise would have been classed with the "unemployed," but whoever does this will find the work to be done over again in a few years; still this is a very difficult and yet important part of the missionary work. Let him secure such a man a place, and then go himself, or arrange for some other one to assist him at a protracted meeting, and a much better work will be done for the Master, than to have left the church vacant, and the minister unemployed for a year. I can name men who have changed places about as often as the Methodists, who had some tact and talent for some part of the work, and had good accessions to their churches, but had little power in the pulpit, and the additions to their churches were when some one assisted them at their communions or protracted meetings.

The revival has not been so general in the State as in some other years, yet you must have seen in the papers many of our churches have been revived and blessed. I have taken a part in some of these meetings, but have spent more of the Sabbaths than usual in vacant churches, trying to stir them up to secure ministers, for it is no new discovery that the longer a church is without a minister, the less they care for one, till they run down and run out.

I spent one Sabbath at Hanover, when forty-seven united with the church, forty-three of them on examination, and more than half of them students; a great blessing to the college and to the community, for these students will write to their friends at home, and go home in their new life for their vacation.

One brother has a group of three churches. One of them is made up of zealous Democrats and Republicans, and before the election for Governor one of his elders said, "If you do not vote the Democratic ticket I will quit you," and before the election for President two of his elders said, "If you do not vote the Republican ticket we will quit you;" and he did not vote at all, and the three elders did quit him, and did not come to church; but he kept right on in his work, observed the ten days of prayer his Presbytery had recommended, and invited me to come and spend about a week with him. During the meetings eight united with the church, which had but forty-one on its roll before; the three elders came back and took their places again, and after a short sermon the last evening we had a praise-meeting, when about half of the church let us hear their voices in praise and prayer, and all the voting quarrel seemed to have passed away.

I spent one Sabbath with the church at Whiteland, in the Presbytery of Indianapolis. It is a large church and congregation, mostly from the county, and nearly all, old and young, attend the Sunday-school, whether they have a minister or not. Though they have no pastor, with outside aid they were enjoying a revival, and more than twenty united with the church, and an old party difficulty seemed to be blotted out, and I trust we shall soon see them calling a pastor.

OUR FINANCES.

It is a matter of gratitude to God, that we have been able to close the year with so small a debt. Our enlarged work, especially in the more distant portions of the country which are most expensive in missionary labors, made it necessary to have a much larger income than usual.

We could not avoid being anxious when, on the 1st of March, we notified our friends that we were $90,000 in debt, and had need to raise that amount and all the expenses of the month besides. But the Lord moved on the hearts of his people to make generous and numerous contributions, so that the receipts of that month amounted to $121,599.42; making the total for the year $403,108.87.

SABBATH-SCHOOLS.

The work among the Sabbath-schools is worthy of all praise. They have contributed to the treasury of the Board, the past year, more than ever before. Let the good work go on.

WOMAN'S WORK.

The Department of Schools.

The women, in their various organizations, have been earnestly engaged in their peculiar work of providing for the evangelization of the exceptional populations; and, compared with last year, there has been a decided advance.

For the schools among the New Mexicans, Mormons, and Indians we have employed Missionary Teachers:

In Colorado (south), 7; in New Mexico, 25; in Utah, 47; in Idaho, 3; in Alaska, 11; in Arizona, 4; in Nevada, 3=100.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

We give below a synopsis:

There have been 1303 men in commission during the last year, laboring in the following States and Territories, viz.:

Alabama, 1; Alaska, 3; Arizona, 3; California, 47; Colorado, 31; Dakota, 39; Delaware, 8; District of Columbia, 2; Florida, 1; Idaho, 5; Illinois, 85; Indiana, 46; Indian Territory, 5; Iowa, 112; Kansas, 128; Kentucky, 18; Louisiana, 1; Maryland, 22; Massachusetts, 2; Michigan, 55; Minnesota, 57; Missouri, 51; Montana, 5; Nebraska, 75; New Jersey, 50; New Mexico, 18; New York, 95; Nevada, 1; North Carolina, 1; Ohio, 76; Oregon, 20; Pennsylvania, 94; Tennessee, 16; Texas, 24; Utah, 19; Virginia, 4; West Virginia, 13; Washington Territory, 12; Wisconsin, 54; Wyoming, 4.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD,

PRESBYTERIAN MISSION HOUSE, 23 Centre Street, New York, N. Y.

ABSTRACT OF THE FORTY-FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT.

The accounts of the Treasurer show, for the year ending April 30th, 1882, a total expenditure of $591,639.88, against $592,289.68, total receipts; leaving a balance of $649.80. This general statement calls for thankfulness to God, who enabled and inclined his people to devote this large sum to the Cause of foreign evangelization. The Receipts from the various Woman's Boards and Societies amounted to $178,180.27; a fact which shows a healthy maintenance and even growth of this Department of Foreign Missionary work. The Sabbath-schools have continued their generous support of the work by their stated contributions, though too large a number of schools still fail to contribute. Noble gifts have been received from members of the Church intrusted with large means, and a large amount has been realized from legacies. The Board acknowledges with thanks the gifts of various publications from the American Bible Society, the American Tract Society, and the American Sunday-school Union, none of which are included in the financial statement. Of the Annual Report, 4500 copies were published, and mostly distributed. Of the Foreign Missionary, 18,500 copies are published at the date of this Report. The circulation of the Record is about 9000. During the year fifty missionaries were sent out, of whom a few were reappointments. In this number wives of missionaries and unmarried ladies are included. Twelve missionaries of both sexes have returned to their fields, making a total of sixty-two.

NORTH AMERICA.

Missions among the Indians.—The Report makes reference to the following Missions: Seneca, Lake Superior, Chippewa, Dakota, Omaha, Winnebago, Iowa and Sac, Creek, Seminole, Choctaw, Nez Perces. The year has not been one of large gains in these missions, though the statistics of all the Stations are not given. Eighty additions to the churches on profession are reported. The total membership is 1275. Some peculiarly interesting cases of conversion have occurred.

In the case of the Seneca Mission, the time must be near at hand when whatever is done by the Church at large should be done on the usual basis of Presbyterial action, and the Agency of the Board for that mission be happily ended. This result is kept in view. It is also desirable that these Indians should be permitted to own their land in severalty and by permanent tenure, as this would stimulate the ambition and greatly improve the condition of the Indians.

Four Boarding-schools are reported in the Indian Missions, also one Industrial, one Training, and six Day Schools. Special mention is made of the thorough Educational work among the Nez Perces at Kamiah, where Miss S. L. McBeth has devoted herself largely to the training of Indian youth for the ministry.

The Report refers to the original principles upon which Indian work was assigned to the Board of Foreign Missions, as a work demanding a lifelong service, a translation of the Bible into unknown languages, and all the conditions which belong to the work of the Board in the most distant lands.

Missions in Mexico.—Several changes are noticed in the Southern Mexico field; among them the accession of Rev. J. M. Green and wife, Rev. Rollo Ogden and wife, Miss Laura M. Latimer, and Miss Fanny C. Snow. Important additions have been made to the mission property, in the purchase of a building for a Female Seminary; also a property for church and school purposes at Toluca, an enlargement of the Boys' Training School in the capital. The great fruitfulness of this field, which has often been noticed, is still maintained, 941 additions being reported for the year, and a total membership of 4723. The number of Sabbath-school scholars is 510; contributions, $856.

From the Northern field the reports have been imperfect, particularly from the Zacatecas station, though a good work has been prosecuted under the direction of Rev. Messrs. Wallace and Stewart. Near the close of the year, Rev. L. M. De Jesi and wife were added to the mission at Zacatecas. In the Monterey field, a prosperous work has still continued, in the care of Rev. H. C. Thomson, in the strengthening of native churches, in the education of young men for the ministry, and in training girls in the school under the care of the Misses Cochran. The importance of this field was never so great as at present, in view of the rapid development of railroad interests, which promise soon to connect the two republics. The number of communicants received during the year is 200; the present total, 1317; making a total membership in Mexico of 6040.

SOUTH AMERICA.

Mission in the U. S. of Colombia.—The work has been under the care of Rev. Milton E. Caldwell and his wife, Miss Kate McFarren, and Miss Margaret Ramsey. This has been recognized, from its inception, as a mission demanding much faith and patience, and promising, for a time only a slow though certain growth. The church membership is twenty-eight, of whom eleven have been added during the past year. If the field is less ripe and less fruitful than Mexico, still the conditions are the same in most important respects, and like results may be confidently expected with faithful labor and patient continuance.

Mission in Brazil.—Ten stations are occupied: Bahia, Campos, Rio Janeiro, Larena, Sao Paulo, Sarocaba, Rio Claro, Brotas, Caldas, Botucatu. Rev. James F. Houston returned to his field, and Rev. John B. Cameron and his wife were added to the mission; also Miss Sophie A. Dale, who accompanied Miss Ella Ruhl on her return.

Bahia and the out-station Cachoeira have been under the care of Rev. Alexander L. Blackford. Attendance upon religious worship varied from twenty to seventy. Considerable work has been done, also, in these stations in the circulation of Scriptures and tracts. Regular services have been maintained in Rio, Petropolis, and Campas, by Rev. James F. Houston and Rev. Antonio B. Trajano. The work at Sao Paulo, always largely educational, has continued with its usual thrift. The Day-school closed its session with a daily attendance of ninety-three. It is a graded school, in which youth are advanced step by step until they are prepared for the ministry. The Girls' Boarding-school has been well sustained. The Impressa Evangelica has been regularly issued as a monthly by Rev. J. Beatty Howell. Tours have been made by Rev. George W. Chamberlain and others through the country towns. Rev. Robert Lennington has labored at Rio Claro, ministering to the church and superintending a school of ninety-five scholars.

Missions in Chile.—The work at the various stations, Valparaiso, Santiago, and Concepcion, has steadily advanced with encouraging results. The missionary force has continued the same; and in preaching, school-work, and publication, good influences have been widely exerted. The total membership of the South American churches is as follows: U. S. of Colombia, 28; Brazil, 1084; Chile, 124—total, 1236.

WESTERN AFRICA.

The Mission in Liberia has pursued its even tenor amid many discouragements. Greater interest seems to have been taken, in the past year, in the aborigines, far the greater part of the population. This is supposed to open a way for reaching the interior tribes at an early day.

Gaboon and Corisco Mission.—Kangwe, on the Ogowe, an interior station, in which already a church of seventeen members has been gathered, is one of the most hopeful points in this mission. The mission force has been considerably enlarged during the last two years, and others are under appointment for the different stations of that field. The work at Ngenenge has suffered a sad reverse in the burning of the town by the French toward the close of the year. The evidences are still abundant of the degrading character of the surrounding heathenism as seen even in the practice of cannibalism. Great difficulty is also experienced in the influence of foreigners over the natives, especially of the female sex. The day is to be devoutly hoped for, when the mission work may be extended vigorously toward the interior, and away from the foreign influences found upon the coast.

ASIA.

Mission in Syria.—The lives and health of the missionaries have been preserved until near the close of the year, when Mrs. Henry H. Jessup was suddenly and unexpectedly called to her rest, bringing a heavy sorrow not only upon her family, but the entire mission circle. The statistics show an unusually healthy growth. In some of the out-stations, particularly those of the Sidon field, the fruits gathered have been most cheering. Whether considered within the limits of the last year, or those of the last five years, the growth of the mission has been, all things considered, quite remarkable. Struggling with the proud, arrogant, and inflexible system of Islam, as well as with the hoary superstitions of the Oriental Churches, the mission has, nevertheless, made great progress, particularly in the general advancement of its influence through its educational work and its various publications; at the same time that goodly numbers have been added to the church. The increasing proportion of women received to church membership is an indication that society is being revolutionized with respect to the degradation of the female sex. All the educational institutions, the Protestant College, the Theological Seminary, the Beirut, Sidon, and Tripoli Female Seminaries, the mountain high-schools, and the primary schools, have indicated thrift; at the same time that new villages on every hand have earnestly asked for teachers, and the valued influences of Protestant schools. Zahleh has maintained its good name by continued growth and enlargement. The total number of communicants reported in Syria is 1044; native pastors, 3; licensed preachers, 27; native teachers, 153; Sabbath-schools, 84; contributions, $1453.23; pupils in girls' boarding-schools, 498; pupils of all grades, 5485; number of pages printed by the mission press at Beirut, 18,041,600.

Mission in Persia.—During the summer, Rev. James Bassett and his wife returned to Persia, accompanied by W. W. Torrence, M.D., and his wife. Oroomiah, which last year was disturbed by a siege, has experienced a year of peace and prosperity. Its educational institutions for both sexes have been blessed as in years past, 1316 communicants being reported in Oroomiah, and 1472 in the whole field. An Evangelistic Board, as it is called, embracing two missionaries and nine native brethren, has charge of the work of the Oroomiah field. Various difficulties have been encountered from proscriptions on the part of the government in the interest of Islamism, from persecution toward Jewish converts, and from the wiles of the Jesuits. Some important concessions, however, have been made by the government, in reference to the rights of holding religious service without responsibility for the possible attendance of Moslems, an exemption not allowed some months since. The College numbers fifty students, of whom twelve are in the Theological and three in the Medical Department. The course of instruction is remarkably thorough. During the winter twenty-four of the students were engaged in teaching village schools. The number of patients prescribed for in the Dispensary, by Dr. Cochran, was 7233. No special report of the girls' school and work among the women has been given. Dr. Holmes and his wife returned from this country to the Tabriz station, much to the joy of the missionaries and of the natives. The Female Seminary at Tabriz reports ten boarding pupils, among whom were two of Mohammedan parentage. The highest number of girls in the boarding-school at Teheran was twenty-eight. Two Boys' Schools are maintained at this city, though their influence is much disturbed by Roman Catholic schools. The work at Hamadan is largely among the Jews; and it is reported as a hopeful indication that the Nestorian pastor was himself recently allowed to preach in a Jewish synagogue.

Missions in India.—The Lodiana Mission has suffered loss by the death of Rev John H. Morrison, D.D., who had been connected with the mission work nearly 44 years. The wife of Rev. Marcus Carleton also died, on the point of her return to her field. Rev. Messrs. James F. Holcomb, Thomas Tracy, and Galen W. Seiler, and their wives, returned to the field, Mrs. Seiler going out for the first time. Mrs. J. J. Hull also returned. Rev. George W. Pollock and his wife, Miss Margaret Given, and Miss Carrie Downs were added to the missionary force. The work in the Lodiana field, though making no marked advances, has shown a healthy growth; as also that in the Furrukhabad Mission. Some interesting cases are noticed of the conversion of high-caste Brahmans and Moslems. The total membership of the India missions is 1019; pupils in Sabbath-schools, 2691; pupils in Mission schools, 8121. An interesting work, and one of great self-denial, is that among the lepers at Sabathu, formerly conducted by the late Dr. Newton, and since maintained by Mrs. Newton. No form of mission work could more closely follow the very footsteps of our Saviour, than this. The Lodiana Mission expresses its deep regret, that it has no college or school of high order under distinctively Christian management. Large numbers of youth are trained in the lower schools to such a point as to work the utter ruin of their traditional faith; but their education is not pursued to such a degree, as to substitute a clear knowledge and belief of the Christian religion. In Lahore and Hoshyapore a vigorous and successful zenana work is carried forward. Forty houses are open to zenana workers, in all of which encouraging attention is given to Christian instruction.

The Siam Mission continues to be one of the most encouraging of our fields, though the number gathered to the Church has been smaller than that of a year or two previous, and some cases are reported of reaction and unfavorable conduct on the part of native Christians. During the cholera season, Dr. Charles S. Sturge, of Pechaburi, was enabled to accomplish great good in the relief of suffering and the saving of life. The ladies, also, with apparent disregard for their own lives and health, entered fearlessly upon the sanitary work which that fearful scourge required. Special mention is made of two native preachers, who have labored zealously at Aiyuthia, and one of whom was entirely supported by the First Church of Bangkok. A limited work of publication has been carried on, between five and six thousand copies of the gospels and other books having been published. The total number of patients treated by Dr. Sturge is 1548; number of communicants, 168; Sabbath-school scholars, 212; contributions, $225.

The Laos Mission has been somewhat affected by the absence of Rev. Daniel McGilvary and wife, and Mrs. J. Wilson; and by the indifferent health of some of those who remain. The vacancy caused by the sudden death of Miss Campbell, many months ago, has not been filled. The Chiengmai church numbers 73; including the smaller churches of the out-stations, 127.

The Canton Mission has been reinforced by Dr. Joseph Thomson and wife, and Miss Electa M. Butler. The large and growing work of education, in training-schools and in day-schools for boys and girls, has been carried on in the city and in some of the out-stations. A third church has been organized under happy auspices, and placed in charge of the Rev. Henry V. Noyes. The First and Second churches are continued respectively under the care of Rev. Dr. Andrew P. Happer and Rev. Benjamin C. Henry. The general growth of the Canton Mission is shown by the following comparisons: the number of native preachers has increased from 17 to 21; Bible women, from 7 to 13; teachers, from 23 to 28; chapels, from 17 to 20; church membership, from 418 to 499; scholars in Sabbath-schools, from 230 to 300; contributions, from $165 to $224; number of schools, from 20 to 25; pupils, from 511 to 730; patients treated in hospital, from 17,386 to 20,396; last year 63 were added, this year 94; about 3000 more books and tracts were issued than during the year previous. All this evinces a steady and healthy growth in every department of the mission work. The girls' boarding-schools, under Misses Noyes and Butler, has greatly prospered in its new and more commodious quarters. An interesting feature of the work has been the inauguration of a new station at Lienchow, which is far in the interior, on a river of the same name.

The Ningpo Mission has not shown a rapid growth, though there is real progress at every point. Eleven day-schools are reported in connection with the Shanghai station with 201 pupils. The boys and girls' boarding-schools, under Rev. Dr. John M. W. Farnham, have maintained their high rank as useful institutions. The Child's Paper and the Illustrated News, published by Dr. Farnham, have maintained and even increased their encouraging circulation. The work of the press, on account of the absence of Rev. William S. Holt, has been under the superintendence of Rev. George F. Fitch. The total number of pages printed is 29,862,948. In the absence of Rev. John Butler, who is in this country, Rev. William J. McKee has carried on, as best he could, the work in the city of Ningpo and in the numerous out-stations. Complaint is made of heavy taxation and other difficulties under which the native churches have labored and must continue to labor. Suchow has not been occupied by a missionary, owing to the absence of Mr. Fitch. At Nanking, a property which had been purchased for missionary buildings was given up, under the strong demand of the Chinese authorities, on account of its supposed inauspicious nearness to important Chinese structures. A still better lot, however, has been secured on which it is proposed to erect the much-needed structures. Hangchow station has maintained its position and made some slight advances.

The Shantung and Peking Mission has missed the presence and labors of Rev. Dr. and Mrs Nevius, and Mr. and Mrs. McCoy, but has nevertheless enjoyed a most prosperous year.

The accessions to the churches, particularly in the country out-stations of Chefoo, show a total of 297, of whom 249 were baptized by Rev. Joseph A. Leyenberger in the country; 83 children being also baptized. Rev. Hunter Corbett's report testifies to the evident growth in grace and knowledge of the native Christians. Some interesting cases are given, of people uniting with the church at a very advanced age, some of them even fourscore and more. Itinerating tours have been made, not only by the gentlemen of the mission, but by Miss Anderson in company with Mrs. Shaw. A marked feature of the work has been that of instruction, given to men gathered from all parts of the field, for special instruction as native preachers and helpers. The Tungchow station has suffered a heavy loss in the death of Mrs. Capp, who died in February, 1882, after a most faithful and useful career, in which she had enjoyed in an eminent degree the confidence and love of her associate missionaries. The medical work of Miss Kelsey, of Tungchow, reports 311 surgical cases, 307 eye diseases, and general medical treatment, 2628. This station reports 215 communicants. The missionary training-school or college, under Rev. Dr. Calvin W. Mateer, had equaled the most prosperous years of its history, both in strength and in thoroughness and satisfactoriness of the work done by its students. Some embarrassments have been experienced at Chinanfoo, in regard to mission property, and the difficulties have not yet been settled. The Peking station has been recruited by the return of Rev. Joseph L. Whiting and wife.

The Japan Mission.—The reports received state that the most encouraging event of the year has been the establishment of a vigorous church in the city of Kanazawa. The position of the church in the centre of a vast bigoted population, its distance from other centres of gospel light, the zeal and consecration of the church itself, and the self-denying labor by which through the grace of God it has been founded, are points of special interest. This station, situated on the west coast, involves an unusual degree of self-denial on the part of missionaries, who are thus isolated from nearly all foreign society. The membership of the mission is 851, with 132 additions during the year; Sunday-school scholars, 473; contributions, $1368.59.

CHINESE IN AMERICA.

Missions to the Chinese in this Country.—The San Francisco station has suffered more or less from the ill-health of Rev. Dr. Augustus W. Loomis, toward the close of the year, though many encouraging advances have been made on the whole.

Oakland station, under the care of Rev. Ira M. Condit, has enjoyed a gradual and healthy growth. Rev. Alexander J. Kerr has already started on his way to join this mission, which greatly needs recruiting. Number of communicants, 137; number added during the year, 39. New and larger accommodations have been secured by the purchase of the First Presbyterian Church building of San Francisco, in the hope that the growing interests of the mission may be promoted thereby. The work among the Chinese on the Atlantic slope has greatly increased in the line of Sabbath-schools, not only in New York and Brooklyn, but in other cities of the East and the central West. The night-school so long conducted under the faithful care of Miss S. U. Goodrich has suffered a great and irreparable loss in her death. Her protracted illness had rendered it impossible for her to continue her work through the last part of the fiscal year. A most earnest tribute of respect and approval is due to the fidelity of her long-continued and self-denying work. At the close of the year, the relations of the Board with this particular work in the city of New York ceased.

PAPAL EUROPE.

Appropriations have been made during the year for various evangelical bodies in Continental Europe, as follows: Evangelical Society of Geneva, $734.25; Evangelical Society of Belgium, $489.50; Evangelical and Central Protestant Societies of France, $479; M'All Mission in Paris, $1202.40; Waldensian Synod, $1958, and interest on Endowment Fund, $1326 = $3284. Total, $6689.15. Gratifying reports have been received from Rev. Messrs. Prochet (of the Waldensian Church), Monod, de Pressensé, and others.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD,

No. 1334 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Abstract of the Sixty-third Annual Report.

Grateful to God for the continuance of favors manifold, the Board of Education respectfully presents herewith to the General Assembly of 1882 its sixty-third Annual Report.

As in the previous year, the Board, at its first meeting, still deemed it prudent not to enlarge the amount of its Scholarships, for students in College and Seminary, beyond the sum of $100 each, and to keep the others at $75 each. Yet, encouraged by the advance that had been made in the contributions of 1880 and 1881, it held out the promise of an increase of twenty-five per cent, to be sent with the last installment in case the income should then allow it. This conditional promise unhappily could not be realized. This was a severe disappointment to all parties—to the Board, to the Faculties, and especially to our Candidates. In consequence of the rise in the cost of all articles needful for support, many of the students have been sorely perplexed to meet expenses. With some, the necessity thus occasioned for engaging in some remunerative employment has resulted in a decline in scholarship. A few have been obliged to suspend studies for a while, in order to obtain the funds required for continuing them; and others still have been embarrassed even for means to get to their homes after graduating, and in consequence have been constrained to apply for relief to their friendly instructors. Such pinching, to excess, of those who are called to prepare themselves for the highest offices in the Church, and who are compelled to do this at the large cost which the Church, for its own advantage, imposes on its Candidates, is not fair dealing, nor good economy, nor wise policy. The effect of it is to impair proper preparation, and to deter many, of comparatively small means, from attempting the prolonged and burdensome task of a full education. In such a case, withholding more than is meet tendeth to the Church's poverty.

CANDIDATES AIDED.

The Candidates aided number 470; distributed as follows: Academic, 51; Collegiate, 196; Theological, 223.

Of these, 74 are colored; 24 are Germans; 3 are Bulgarians; 1 a Hindoo.

Nine Scholarships have been discontinued. Four have been obliged to leave college and find work for support. Two have failed in health, and two have fallen back from imperfect preparation. One was dropped for marrying.

The Candidates, in connection with the Board, who have completed their studies at the various Theological Seminaries, are as follows: Western, 18; Princeton, 16; Lane, 14; Auburn, 8; Union, 8; Lincoln, 6; Northwestern, 3; Biddle, 2; Newark German Theological School, 2; Hartford Theological Seminary, 1; Howard University, 1; San Francisco, 1; Yale Theological Seminary, 1. Total, 81.

CONTRIBUTIONS.

Though it has been somewhat at the cost of the students, the Board is happy to report itself altogether out of debt. Every demand has been met, leaving a small surplus of $212.66 in the Treasury. The number of churches contributing to its funds exceeds those of the previous year by 93, and several have largely increased their donations. One thousand three hundred and eighteen dollars have been returned by those who have been aided in times past—a portion of this by a foreign missionary. Several special contributions have also been made by friends to particular students known to be specially worthy. These facts indicate a growing regard for the Cause of the Board, and encourage the hope of better things in the time to come.

Still, when it is considered that 3102 churches, more than one half on our list, have contributed nothing to the Treasury, and that some of these are among the strongest in our body, it is evident that much remains to be done, before this obligation to supply the Church with an adequate ministry holds its right place, and presses with due weight upon the hearts and consciences of professing Christians. For enforcing this obligation, the Board has to depend upon the ministers themselves. The responsibility is put upon them by the Lord Jesus Christ, and the General Assembly counts upon their doing it as a part of their regular ministrations. But it can only be done, by instructing their congregations in the wants and claims of the ministry, and by presenting the facts which shall call out their liberality.

SUPPLY OF MINISTERS.

That our churches are not fairly meeting the demands. in this important requisite for their own edification and enlargement, will be seen when it is considered what was done for the supply of ministers by our Theological Seminaries last year. A careful estimate of the annual supply needed for filling the gaps made by death, which, for the year ending in the spring of 1881, were 108; for manning the new churches organized, which, for the same period, numbered 106; for supplying our vacant pulpits, of which over 300 were reported in the Minutes of the Assembly of 1881, numbering over 50 members each; and for meeting the demands of foreign mission work which are rapidly increasing,—puts the number of new Candidates, required, to be sent out of our Seminaries every year, at 225 at least. The louder calls for men, that have recently come in, raise it in fact to 250. Yet the graduates from all our Theological Seminaries, this spring, amounted in all to just 165. This, happily, is 24 in excess of last year, yet far from enough. They are distributed as follows: Princeton, 43; Union, 37; Western, 37; Auburn, 20; Lane, 15; Northwestern, 3; Danville, 1; San Francisco, 2; Lincoln, 5; Biddle, 2; Bloomfield, 2. Of these it will be necessary to deduct a number who belong to other denominations. Judging from the places to which they belong, and the Colleges where they were graduates, it will be safe to count these at 15, to say the least. Some may prove incompetent for service, and some may go to teaching. But, making all deductions proper, it is gratifying to note an increase, however small. And still more gratifying is the fact, that a much larger proportion than usual have decided to begin their work on mission fields, either at home or abroad.

On the other hand, the Seminary Catalogues show an ominous decrease in all the Junior classes, save the largest three, and in these they no more than reach the average number. And, what is worse, the information, received from the various Colleges in our connection, indicates the probability of a greater decline next year. The reports, from 17 of those from which our Seminaries are mainly fed, promise only 49 students out of the graduates of this year, who have decided for the Presbyterian ministry, with a possible addition of 10 more. They are distributed as follows: Princeton, 8, with possibly 2 more; Parkville, Mo., 7, with possibly 2 more; Wooster, O., 6, with possibly 1 more; Lafayette, 3, possibly 2 more; Hamilton, 4, perhaps 1 more; Washington and Jefferson, 3; Marietta, 1; Wabash, 1; Blackburn, 2; Western Reserve, 3; Maryville, 2; Centre, Ky., 1; Lincoln University (colored), 7, probably 2 more; and Biddle University (colored), 1.

It will, of course, be taken for granted that other Candidates will appear from quarters now unknown, to swell the number above mentioned. Yet, when the streams from our main fountain-heads are so small, it cannot be expected that the supply from other sources will be large. The general aspect of things is that of a wide-spread drought.

There is another fact, bearing on this subject, and to be found indicated in the Minutes of the General Assembly for 1881, worthy of note. It is the wide divergence, in the degree of interest taken in the subject of ministerial development, in different parts of the country. While the average ratio of Candidates to membership throughout the Church, as now furnished, is not quite that of one to every thousand communicants, an average much too small, there are some Synods which fall far short of their proper proportion, even at this rate; for example, that of Indiana North, with 148 churches and 11,900 members, reports not a single Candidate; that of Michigan, with 174 churches and 16,156 members, reports only 3, and one of these not a graduate from either College or Seminary; that of Kansas, with 299 churches and 12,044 members, reports only 8; that of Albany, with 133 churches and 19,369 members, only 11, a little more than half the average; that of Kentucky, 84 churches and 6061 members, reports only 3, less than half its share; that of Nebraska, 129 churches and 4638 members, sends 2, less than half. And, furthermore, inasmuch as the presence of Seminaries within the bounds of some Synods helps to relieve the general aspect on this point, a fair judgment requires, that a look be given at some of the Presbyteries. Regarded as a whole, the Synod of Philadelphia stands well, above the average. But, when the Presbytery of Chester, with Lincoln University and its 26 colored Candidates, is taken out of the account, it is seen that the Presbyteries of Philadelphia and Philadelphia Central fall far below the average; while that of Philadelphia North, with its 40 churches and 6539 members, gives only 2, less than one third of its share. So the Synod of Western New York looks well with 32 Candidates and 21,073 members; but, when the Presbytery of Oroomiah, Persia, with its 24 Candidates, is thrown out, the aspect changes, and we have only 8 from the strong Presbyteries of Buffalo and Rochester, Niagara, Genesee and Genesee Valley combined, covering the garden of their State. So from such Presbyteries as Binghamton, and Otsego, and Rock

River, and Cedar Rapids, Morris and Orange, and New Castle, not a single Candidate is reported. Of course, the reports may not include all within the bounds mentioned who are really preparing for the ministry, since all Candidates do not at once put themselves under the care of the Presbytery. Yet the reports give a fair indication of the general situation.

There is another corroborative fact which must be noted. Last year, our Church received from other denominations 68 ordained men for the supply of its pulpits, while it gave to others in return only 32. Besides these, there is a large number who do not belong to our body, laboring among us as stated supplies. Thus it will be seen that, with all our superior institutions of learning, and large membership, and general wealth and intelligence, we are not furnishing force enough, from the midst of our denomination, to man our churches, and do our work. We are more indebted to other Churches for helping us through, than they are to us. Our imports exceed our exports, over 100 per cent. Instead of leavening other bodies with our doctrine and spirit, we are being leavened by them.

One other fact, drawn from the same Minutes, will suffice. Six year ago the number of Candidates reported from all our churches amounted to 705. Last year they had fallen to 622, less by 83. This, however, is a slight increase upon the year previous, and would suggest the hope that the decline has been arrested, were it not for the discouraging facts previously given.

THE PAST WORK OF THE BOARD.

It is five years since statistics were made out, showing what contribution the Board had made towards the current ministry of the Church. This year the account has been taken once more, and the result of it is as follows: Of the 5086 ministers reported in the Minutes of 1881, the Board has aided, to a greater or less degree, in the course of their education, 1791, a trifle over one third. Of these, 835 are settled pastors; 406, stated supplies; 61, foreign missionaries; 27, home missionaries; 60, professors; 69, licentiates; 45, evangelists; 28, teachers; 11, superintendents; 9, agents; 8, chaplains; 3, secretaries; 7, editors; 2, librarians; 27, in transitu; 64, honorably retired; 129, without charge. From this record it will be seen that, of 1791 ministers aided, 1458 are still in actual service of some kind. In deducting from the remainder the 64 who have been honorably retired, and 69 who are simply licentiates, there remain 200 who are not regularly employed, of whom 129 are without charge. Of these, some are disabled by sickness; others have already done excellent service, and are at that point where the churches deem them too old for resettlement; others are in transitu; while a few may be counted as having missed their calling. This record is submitted for careful consideration. It tells of what service the Board has been to the Church. It vindicates the nature of its work. Disparagement of it must be seen to be a disparagement of the character and worth of a large number of her most laborious pastors, and missionaries, and professors whom the Church has in its service. Curtailment of it is crippling one of the most effective instrumentalities that she employs for her advancement.

In conclusion, the Board respectfully suggest the great need of a thorough and all-pervading revival of interest in this Cause of ministerial development throughout the Church. The facts which have been presented are causes for serious alarm. They show a lamentable decline of ministerial productiveness that forbodes evil. The calls for ministers from all parts of the country and the world were never more numerous and imperative than now. The Professors in our Seminaries, and our Home and Foreign missionaries, and the reports from our Presbyteries, all testify to the great demand. One Professor writes, that the applications made to him alone, from specified fields where a man could be supported, exceeded 60, nearly twice the number of the graduating class in his Seminary. This, therefore, is no time for the Church to withhold her sons from the sacred office, and keep back the funds needed to help those who, while willing to serve, cannot meet the expense of that thorough education which she requires. She must bestir herself to vigorous action in this matter, and exorcise that paralyzing notion that seems to possess so many, viz., that there is no need of special effort in this direction; that the ministry, like other professions, will recruit itself spontaneously; that the law of the market, the law of supply and demand, will operate here as elsewhere to secure all the force necessary, and the thing may be allowed to take care of itself. This is not gospel doctrine; and the sooner the Church returns to her old zeal and earnest dependence on God for the heavenly gift, the better will it be for her.

The members of the Board whose terms expire this year are:

ABSTRACT OF THE FORTY-FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PRESBYTERIAN BOARD OF PUBLICATION.

Since the date of the last Report, the Board has added to its Catalogue a large number of valuable and attractive books. The aggregated subscription to its periodicals has largely increased; and one new one has been added, with promise of great usefulness to the young people of our denomination. The sales of all the Board's publications are considerably in advance of those of former years. We have every indication of their extended use and growing popularity in every part of the Church. The churches have shown a wider and more practical interest in the benevolent department of our work than in the preceding years, a larger number having contributed to its Missionary Fund in a larger aggregate amount. The Board's missionaries have been sowing, in their wide-spread fields, the precious seed of the kingdom, while, according to the means given for this use, grants of books, tracts, catechisms, and periodicals have been sent to the needy in every part of the land. The Board's Sabbath-school work grows in interest and value, and is enlisting in its behalf the hearts and hands of those in every part of our Church who are engaged in promoting the religious education of the young. Take it all in all, we believe that in no former year has more work, or better work, been done by this branch of our Church's system of aggressive agencies, than in that just ended. While we take note of this and rejoice therein, we would gird up our loins and press forward to do a still better and still greater work in the years yet before us.

THE FISCAL YEAR.

Periodicals.

This Department of the work of the Board continues to increase in volume and in importance. All the Periodicals heretofore published show an increased circulation, with the exception of the German Lesson Leaf, the field to be occupied by which is limited; and a new paper has been added to the list, the Forward, as will be noted below. Everything in connection with this part of the work of the Board is eminently encouraging. Words of approval come from all quarters, and the subscription-lists attest the truth of these words. There has been an increase of about fifty thousand in the number of subscriptions, during the past twelve months. The prices of these papers are low, as low as is consistent with excellence and financial security; but, whenever safe, they will be made still lower.

The helps to Bible Study and the Illustrated Papers published by the Board are as follows:

The Westminster Teacher is a monthly magazine of forty pages, octavo. It aims to meet the wants of our Sabbath-school teachers and officers, by a full exposition and illustration of the International Bible Lessons, and by articles bearing upon the various departments of this branch of church work. It is also designed to aid parents in the home instruction of their children, in connection with the studies of the Sabbath-school. The large increase in the circulation of the Teacher, during the past year, as well as direct communications, give gratifying evidence of its measurably fulfilling its aims and the wishes of its editors.

At 60 cents a year to single subscribers, and 50 cents where six or more copies are addressed to one person, it is certainly very cheap.

The Westminster Question Book is mentioned under the head of "Bound Volumes," but is a part of the series of publications for use in Bible study by Sabbath-schools. It has been popular in the past, but has been made still more worthy of approval. The kindly criticisms of friends have been heeded, so that we think the Question Book for 1882 can fairly be pronounced the best yet. Though called a "Question Book," it is a complete manual for the study of the International Bible Lessons of the year. The Shorter Catechism is given systematically in it, one question for each Sabbath, as in the other Periodicals of the Board. It is intended for use in Bible-classes and the senior classes of the school. Price, $15 per hundred, net.

The Westminster Quarterly is a help to the study of the Bible lessons, adapted to use by the more intelligent classes of our Sabbath-schools. It is published in the form of an octavo of thirty-two pages. One appropriate hymn accompanies each lesson, so that each quarterly number contains eleven or twelve hymns adapted to use in the school. The increase in its circulation is the best evidence of its approval by our churches. Single subscription, 20 cents; school subscriptions, to one address, 15 cents each per annum.

The Westminster Lesson Leaf fills the place of an "intermediate leaf." It is issued monthly, but is now so arranged that the lesson for each Sabbath occupies the two sides of one leaf. Thus those who prefer a monthly distribution of the leaf are satisfied, and those desiring to have a weekly leaf have only to tear the leaves apart. As in the other papers, the Shorter Catechism forms a regular part of each week's lesson. Its low price meets the means of a vast number of schools. It is furnished to schools at the rate of seven and a half cents a year for each scholar.

The Westminster Primary Leaf, for the youngest classes studying the International Bible Lessons, is still prepared by Mrs. G. R. Alden ("Pansy"), and has largely increased in its circulation. It is furnished at the same rate as the Westminster Leaf.

The German Lesson Leaf is doing a good work in meeting the wants of our German congregations, to whom it proves a satisfactory aid. It is sold at the same rates as the English Leaf.

The Sabbath-school Visitor, the oldest of the periodicals of the Board, not only holds but increases its circulation. It is a handsomely illustrated paper, published weekly, with articles adapted to reading by boys and girls. It is furnished at the following rates per year:

Single Subscription.		School Subscription.
Once a month,	25 cents.	To one address at the rate of
Twice a month,	40 "	$12 per 100 copies once a month
Thrice a month	55 "	24 " " " twice "
Weekly,	75 "	36 " " " thrice "
		50 " " " weekly, 52 Nos.

The Sunbeam continues to smile on its increasing army of young admirers. It is a weekly illustrated paper, with easy reading, in short words and big type, adapted to the very little ones of the home and school. It also carries help on the International Lessons for the primary classes and the little ones at home. Single subscription, 30 cents; school subscriptions at the rate of $25 per hundred a year.

Forward.—With January, 1882, the Board commenced the publication of Forward, an illustrated monthly paper, sixteen pages quarto, to meet the wants of that class of our young people who have outgrown the "children's papers," and who demand something more mature. Some of them are in our older classes, some in Bible-classes, some are teachers, and some entirely out of the Sabbath-school. Forward is made attractive by pictorial illustration, whilst its articles constantly keep in view the tastes and wants of those for whom it is prepared. It seeks to be helpful, to be elevating, to lead heavenward, whilst aiming also to be sprightly and wide awake to topics of present interest to young men and women. Single copies, 50 cents a year; for five or more copies sent to one address, 40 cents a year each.

When we add that, in all cases, postage is paid by the Board, and that any of these papers may be taken for nine, or six, or three months, at the same rates as by the year, it will be admitted that the Board has made good provision for the wants of the churches and their schools.

The Presbyterian Monthly Record, the organ of the Assembly's Boards and Committees, continues to be published, in octavo pamphlet form, by the Board of Publication, but only as the publisher for the Assembly's Boards and Committees, the control of its pages resting entirely with the several organizations represented. The monthly circulation of the magazine has been between nine and ten thousand, including the copies sent gratuitously to each of the ministers of the Church. The loss incurred by its publication and distribution is shared by the Assembly's Boards in the ratio of the space occupied by each.

II. DISTRIBUTION.

1. The Bookstore.

In the large, handsome, and well-arranged bookstore of the Board, at No. 1334 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, will be found a full display of all the publications of the Board, which all are invited leisurely to examine. Its Catalogue now contains over 2500 publications, of which about 1500 are volumes, the remainder being tracts and pamphlets. They are of wide variety and scope, and are adapted to interest and benefit all kinds of people. They comprehend numerous and valuable works on the doctrines and polity of the Church, on religious experience and Christian duty, on church history, missions, and nearly every Christian topic. They are suited to help the unconverted soul, the Christian believer, the ruling elder, and the minister of the gospel. Choice selections may be made for the Sabbath-school or the church library, or for family use. Few persons are aware how wide and comprehensive is their variety.

In addition to these, the Board offers in its bookstore a large stock of the publications of other publishing houses—the chief ones in all our large cities. Orders for other books, if not on hand, will be filled, if possible, by promptly procuring them elsewhere.

2. Missionary Work.

The missionary work of the year now under review began with a considerable balance of indebtedness on the part of the Missionary Fund. In the progress of the year, the contributions from the churches were in advance of those of the preceding year, but not largely enough to throw that balance on the other side. It was not until the very close of the year that that indebtedness was obliterated, and the Board itself, by a large appropriation to the Fund from the profits of its business, placed the Missionary Department in a position that will enable it to begin the work of the next year with more freedom and hopefulness than it has done for several years past.

Meanwhile, the demands for missionary work, both in the employment of Book, Tract, and Sabbath-school Missionaries, and in making grants of the Board's various publications, have been incessant and earnest; and these demands have been met, as far as possible, with the inadequate means placed at the disposal of the Board for this purpose. Some of our missionaries have extended their labors over two or even more contiguous Presbyteries. Applicants for grants have been induced themselves to raise as much as possible, as a condition of receiving help from the Board. But, after all had been done to make its narrow means accomplish as much as possible, many times the sum actually received and expended could have been most usefully applied in this direction.

The entire number of missionaries in the field, for the whôle or portions of the year, has been 54, who have labored in 33 Synods and 64 Presbyteries, one being in Canada. These have distributed during the year 44,948 volumes by sale; while 21,876 volumes and 4,008,838 pages of tracts have been gratuitously distributed by them, and by the Missionary Committee acting through large numbers of uncommissioned, unpaid, and volunteer distributors. The commissioned missionaries have also visited 43,737 families, with a large proportion of which they held religious conversation and prayer, accompanied often by the reading of the Holy Scriptures. Large numbers of prayer-meetings, in which many families united, have also been held, and other religious services as opportunities occurred.

Our Missionaries and Sabbath-schools.—It has been made a duty of the Board's missionaries to visit and encourage all Sabbath-schools on their respective fields of labor, and to encourage and help such as are feeble, looking after destitute localities where schools may usefully be established, sparing no pains, under the supervision of the Publication Committee of the Presbytery, to effect organizations and supply them with the library books, catechisms, lesson papers, and periodicals published by the Board. The work of the missionaries in this direction grows in interest and value from year to year.

They report having visited and encouraged 997 schools during the past year, and organized 78 new schools in such destitute localities. By these means, several thousand children have been brought under regular Sabbath instruction in the truths of God's holy word, and have been brought to feel, more than ever before, the benign influence of Christianity.

This branch of the Board's missionary work was begun about seven years ago; and within these years its missionaries have visited and aided 10,668 Sabbath-schools, and have organized 640 new schools in places before entirely destitute. More than twenty thousand children have thus begun to receive instruction in the Bible, and guidance in the way towards heaven and its eternal blessedness.

Grants of the Year.—So far as means have been placed at its disposal for this use, the Board has gladly continued, during the past year, to make grants of its varied publications—books, tracts, catechisms, lesson helps, periodicals, etc.—to parties needing help in every part of our land, and even in foreign lands. These have been made to Sabbath-schools, pastors, missionaries, charitable institutions, and Christians generally who needed and applied for such assistance. Some grants have been sent to China, India, Japan, Liberia, Mexico, Brazil, and our own Indian tribes.

We earnestly appeal to Sabbath-schools for their help in the prosecution of this important branch of the Board's work. No Cause can have a more appropriate place in their prayers and gifts. While they are themselves enjoying abundantly the use of library books, papers, and all the other facilities provided for their Sabbath instruction, surely they should rejoice to help the Board in furnishing similar supplies to the poor and needy who cannot supply themselves. And if they properly appreciate the rich blessings of the Sabbath-school teachings they themselves enjoy, they will delight to help us in gathering the neglected and untaught children so numerously found in many portions of the land into schools, where they may share those blessings. But it is a sad truth that, while our Presbyterian Sabbath-schools raise every year in the aggregate a very large amount of money, comparatively few send offerings to help this Board in doing this great and good work for other children. We respectfully urge our pastors and Sabbath-school superintendents, to press this matter upon the attention of their schools, and secure and send us contributions. The General Assembly has repeatedly recommended that this should be done; and the last General Assembly (Minutes of 1881, page 556, Res. 7) expressly requested "that Sabbath-schools aid the Board by contributions to its Missionary Fund."

The Term Colporteur.—The Board would respectfully request the approval by the Assembly of the resumption of the title Colporteur, to be applied to the field laborers engaged in the service of this Board. The term Colporteur is now well understood throughout this country, is a more distinctive designation of their work, and is used by nearly all Societies employing similar laborers. The word Missionary is, on the other hand, of very wide application, and is generally used in reference to ministers of the gospel.

III. THE SABBATH-SCHOOL WORK.

The Rev. James A. Worden, Secretary of Sabbath-school Work, has, during the past year, devoted himself with fidelity and energy to the duties assigned him. He presents the following Report:

In presenting this brief account of my labors for the year ending April 1st, 1882, I return earnest and humble thanks to Almighty God and to the Head of the Church for manifest tokens of favor to this work.

In the Report for 1881 were given at length the principles and plans of the Secretary of Sabbath-school Work. These, as there set forth, are:

1. More closely to identify the Sabbath-school with the Church.
2. Practically to elevate the standard of Bible teaching.
3. To secure thorough reports from all our Sabbath-schools.
4. To prevent the Sabbath-school from becoming a substitute for parental training.
5. To prevent the Sabbath-school from becoming a substitute for the preaching service of the church.
6. To bring all our Sabbath-schools to the position, that Presbyterian mission work is best performed by Presbyterian agencies, and that such agencies, in preference to others, should receive the benevolent contributions of Presbyterian Sabbath-schools.
7. To subordinate all machinery, methods, and expedients to the spiritual life and work of our Sabbath-schools.

In the present Report a brief statement is given of the advance made in practically carrying out the above purposes.

1. There has been noticeable progress in still more closely identifying the Sabbath-school with the church.

At no previous time were so many of the members of our churches engaged in this work, as teachers or as scholars. The instances are becoming rare, where the mistaken endeavor is made to conduct the Sabbath-school independently of church control. In most of our churches, the Sessions are heeding the injunctions of the General Assembly (see Minutes of 1879, page 558), "asserting the right and duty of Sessions to exercise authoritative supervision of the Sabbath-school work of their congregations."

It is very obvious that there has been a decided advance in the Sabbath-school work of our Presbyteries. Four years ago, perhaps twenty-five Presbyteries, through Sabbath-school Committees, were overseeing this work within their bounds. To-day one hundred and fifty-three Presbyteries have Sabbath-school Committees, the names and addresses of which are enrolled by the Secretary.

Many of these Committees are performing a noble service to our Church. By various methods they are elevating, developing, and systematizing the Sabbath-school work of the churches under their care. It will be found that the faithful labors of these Presbyterial Committees are the key to the situation, in our struggles thoroughly to Presbyterianize our Sabbath-schools. That our doctrines are taught in these schools, to an increasing extent, is shown by the fact, that our Shorter Catechism is more and more a part of their regular instruction.

2. The progress in practically qualifying teachers for their office, and thus elevating the standard of our work, has been through the Sabbath-school Assembly, Institutes, and Normal Classes.

(1) From August 2d to 12th, 1881, by authority of the Synod of New Jersey, was held at Asbury Park, N. J., the Sabbath-school Assembly. The object of this meeting was to take advantage of the presence of thousands of our workers at the seaside, to increase the Bible knowledge, educational skill, and spiritual earnestness of the teachers. At the same time, different parts of the Presbyterian Church being largely represented, the unity and esprit du corps of the workers were developed. Numerous and able lectures were delivered by such men as Rev. Drs. A. Alexander Hodge, Francis L. Patton, William P. Breed, Herrick Johnson, Frank F. Ellinwood, Henry Kendall, Prof. C. A. Young, etc., and the lessons on practical Bible teaching were given by competent instructors.

So large was the attendance—representing all our Northern States and many of the Southern, and Canada—so sustained was the interest, that the Synod at its autumn meeting unanimously approved the work, and directed its Sabbath-school Committee to hold a similar Assembly at the same place in August, 1882. To this Assembly the Sabbath-school workers from all sections of our country are invited.

(2) The last year has been distinguished by the number of Sabbath-school Institutes held by our Presbyterial Committees. By means of these meetings, a further impulse and guidance have been imparted toward higher and more thorough Bible study and teaching.

The Secretary has addressed such Institutes and gatherings, in the Presbytery of Westminster, at York, Chestnut Level, and Park Centre, Pa.; of Jersey City, at Hoboken; of St. Lawrence, at Gouverneur, New York; of Philadelphia and Philadelphia Central, in the Chambers Church of Philadelphia Central, and at Olivet Church, Philadelphia; of New Brunswick, at Kingston, N. J.; of Northumberland, at Danville and Williamsport, Pa.; of Carlisle, at Carlisle, Pa.; of Baltimore, in the First Church; of Troy, in the Fifth Street Church, etc. etc.

Besides this Presbyterial work, he has visited and marked with gratification and encouragement the interest in Sabbath-school work shown by the Synods of Indiana South, at Connersville; of Cleveland, at East Liverpool, O.; of Harrisburg, at Clearfield, Pa.; and of Columbus, at Granville, O. He has also co-operated with brethren of other denominations, e.g., attending and addressing the International Sabbath-School Convention, at Toronto, Canada; the Jamesburg Convention; Mercer Co. Convention, N. J.; District Convention, at Lancaster, Ohio; and the Institute of the Brooklyn Sunday-School Union—the last two of which he conducted, He also represented the Presbyterian Church at the Annual Meeting of the International Lesson Committee at Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

(3) Normal Class work has advanced. The second volume of the series approved by the General Assembly of 1879 has been prepared by the Secretary, and published during the past year—THE WESTMINSTER NORMAL OUTLINES, MIDDLE COURSE.

Many regular Normal Classes are in operation, and much training work is being done in connection with Teachers' Meetings. The Secretary of Sabbath-school Work has established a specimen Normal Class at Philadelphia, and one at Baltimore. At these he gave fifty-eight Normal lessons during the last winter. It is certain that, through our Sabbath-school Assembly, Presbyterial Institutes, and by Normal Classes, a further impetus has been given towards better Bible teaching. Not the least part of the pleasant labor of the Secretary, during the last year, has been the preparation and delivery of a series of lectures on the Sabbath-school Work, to the Theological Seminaries of Princeton, N. J., Allegheny, Pa., and at Bloomfield, N. J. It is hoped that our future pastors may be thoroughly acquainted with the true theory and practice of Bible teaching in Sabbath-schools.

3. There is need for greater attention to the matter of Sabbath-school statistics. True, eighty Presbyterial Committees have sent to the Secretary statistical reports. To many of these great credit is due. Still there are eighty-three Presbyteries which have not reported. In the nature of the case, unless statistics are completed and secured from all Presbyteries, there is little gain in their publication. It is believed, that the action of the last General Assembly in relation to this subject will insure more complete and systematic collection of the statistics of this work. (See Minutes of 1881, page 592.)

4. It is certain, from the reports received, that our Westminster Series of Bible and Catechism Lessons are being used in tens of thousands of Presbyterian homes. The effort has been to some extent successful, to make the Sabbath-school, not a substitute for, but a stimulus and an aid to, parental training.

5. Increasing efforts are being made by our workers to secure the attendance on the preaching service of the Church of all our Sabbath scholars.

6. The benevolent giving of our Sabbath-school is a matter demanding careful supervision of our Presbyteries and Sessions.

7. That there has been an increase of spiritual power in our Sabbath-schools is evident from the large numbers received into the church from them.

Prayer-meetings are held in many schools in behalf of the scholars, and the weekly season of secret and united prayer for Sabbath-schools—Saturday afternoon and evening—has been observed by multitudes of our teachers. For another year of toil, and joy, and fruit, we give thanks to the Giver.

IV. SUSTENTATION.

The Receipts into the Treasury during the year from all sources, including the balance of $39,506.95 from last year, were $270,230.02, and exclusive of that balance, $230,723.07.

The entire Expenditures of the year have been $231,643.47.

The Balance in the Treasury at the end of the year, March 31st, 1882, is $38,586.55.

The aggregate of Sales has been $180,502.62. This aggregate does not agree with the Treasurer's account, because it includes credit sales, while that account exhibits only cash received.

The Missionary Fund.—The publishing and bookselling department of the Board sustains itself wholly by its sales. All contributions to the Missionary Fund are used exclusively to carry forward the Board's missionary and Sabbath-school work in supporting the book, tract, and Sabbath-school missionaries, in paying for the books and tracts given away, and such other expenses as belong legitimately to this benevolent branch of the Board's work.

STATEMENT.

For this missionary work there has been expended:

1. For compensation to missionaries of the Board engaged in the distribution, by means of personal efforts and solicitations, of a sound religious literature in accord with the views of our Church,	$20,044 27
2. For traveling and other expenses of missionaries,	5,685 66
3. For freights on publications forwarded to missionaries, and on grants by Committee,	827 35
The retail value of the books sold through this agency has been $24,922.18; while the missionaries have, at the same time, been performing very large and purely benevolent services in religious visitation from house to house, in holding religious meetings, and in organizing and visiting Sabbath-schools.
4. For net value of publications given away by the Missionary Committee and its missionaries (the retail price of which was $6885.05),	4,681 67
5. Expenses of Sabbath-school work, including salary and traveling expenses of the Secretary of Sabbath-school Work, printing, and incidentals,	3,581 71

6. For salaries, share of Annual Report, postage, boxes, stationery, printing, incidental and other expenses not included above,	$4,845 60
7. Share of deficiency of Monthly Record chargeable to Missionary Fund,	322 09
Total expenditures,	$39,988 35
To which add the balance due last year,	8,272 71
Total,	$48,261 06

The receipts of the Missionary Fund during the year were as follows:

Total from churches,	$30,600 25
Legacies,	8,017 48

The Annual Collection.—The First Sabbath in May has often been designated by former General Assemblies as the most suitable time for the churches to take an annual collection for the Board's Missionary Fund. Except where some other preferred arrangement has been made for this Cause, every pastor and stated supply is earnestly requested on that day to present this important object to his congregation, and solicit their liberal aid.

All money given to the Board's Missionary Fund, whether by churches or individuals, or received from legacies, is wholly and carefully expended in carrying forward the Board's missionary or benevolent work.

The number of churches which contributed to the Missionary Fund during the year now under review is 2322, against 2121 in the previous year. We rejoice in the co-operation of these churches. Would that their number might be very greatly increased in the year to come!

Grants of Bibles.—The Board would gratefully acknowledge generous grants of Bibles and Testaments, in various languages, from the American Bible Society, and from the Female Bible Society of Philadelphia.

In behalf of the Board,

WILLIAM E. SCHENCK, Corresponding Secretary.

Twenty-eighth Annual Report.

In submitting to the General Assembly their Twenty-eighth Annual Report, the Trustees of the Presbyterian House have occasion to record the decease of another honored associate. Mr. William E. Tenbrook, who, for more than thirteen years, had been the Board's efficient Treasurer, entered into rest on the ninth day of August, 1881. He was a fine example of enlightened piety, of large-hearted charity, of sanctified zeal, and of consecrated energy. His death is a loss not more to the Board than to the Presbyterian Church and the Christian community.

The Trustees, at their first meeting after Mr. Tenbrook's decease, elected Mr. Charles M. Lukens Treasurer.

The Trustees report that the receipts and expenditures of the year, as shown by the Treasurer's Report, duly audited and herewith submitted, have been as follows:

Total Receipts, including balance, ...	$18,905 98
Total Expenditures, ...	14,918 98
Balance on hand, ...	$3,987 00

Of the balance awaiting investment at the date of the last Report, nine thousand nine hundred dollars ($9900) have, during the year, been invested.

The Trustees further report that, during the year, they have not accepted any new trusts.

The term of office of the following Trustees expires during the present sessions of the Assembly; namely, Rev. Villeroy D. Reed, D.D., Rev. Charles A. Dickey, D.D., Mr. Alexander Whilldin, and Mr. Charles M. Lukens. A Trustee is also to be elected for two years, to fill the vacancy in the Board caused by the death of Mr. Tenbrook.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS JAMES SHEPHERD, Secretary.

Abstract of the Twelfth Annual Report.

During the past year, your Board of Church Erection, whose special work it is to shelter the flock, have made glad the hearts of many thousands of God's dear people, by helping them to find "a resting-place for the ark"—"a habitation for the Lord"—"a sanctuary for his people," in this wilderness through which they are passing to the better country, and to that temple "not made with hands." In the joy of these churches your Board has participated. For, notwithstanding the labor and responsibility of our work, it has been to us a real pleasure, as the servants of the Church, and the almoners of God's bounty, to be permitted to help these weak churches in their self-denying labor to "build the Lord's house," not merely for their own comfort, but for the honor of God's name; and more especially has it been a real joy to us, to strengthen the hands and increase the usefulness of our dear brethren, who are laboring to build up the Church of Christ in the midst of so many discouragements and hindrances. We are glad, very glad, to be able to report to the Assembly encouraging progress in all the departments of our work. Never have we received so many applications for aid, made so many grants, or disbursed so much money to churches, or received so much into our treasury during any one year as during the last—an account of which we now give in the following order:

RECEIPTS.

Our gross receipts during the year, together with the balance from last year, amounts to $157,185.58, which constituted our working capital. This is an increase of $33,921.58 over the receipts of the preceding year. This increase is not so much the result of enlarged liberality on the part of those who gave, as the increased number of contributing churches. We have received collections from two hundred and thirty-five more churches than in any former year. It will be seen from the Treasurer's Report, that (as in former years) we have received more than half as much from the dead as from the living—in the form of legacies. Nor is it any wonder that Christian men and women, in view of their stewardship, for which they must account, should wish to make some permanent investment of their substance, that may prove a blessing to hundreds, long after they have gone to their rest.

The money realized from a portion of the estate of the late Judge Edwards has secured the completion of at least forty church buildings, in which there are probably 4000 worshipers gathered from Sabbath to Sabbath, to hear the word of life and join in the praise of God. And, from the portion of that estate which still remains to be disposed of, we hope to realize enough to secure the erection of as many more such sanctuaries.

The money given by Mr. Robert L. Stuart and his brother, the late Alexander Stuart, has secured the completion, during the last ten years, of not less than two hundred and seventy-six churches, in which probably not less than 28,500 souls are, every Sabbath, fed with the bread of life.

Another considerable item of receipt is from the sale of old church buildings. It occasionally happens, in the formation of a new town or community, that the church has been badly located—the growth of population is in another direction, or the town itself is abandoned for a better location; and hence it becomes necessary to build a house of worship in another place, leaving the old one unoccupied and uncared for. We have taken special pains to recover, as far as possible, the money of the Board, by the sale of such useless property. This our mortgage system helps us to secure. During the last nine years, we have, from the sale of such property, realized the sum of $31,539.84, which has enabled us to secure the erection of sixty-four new houses of worship. And here we would beg the Presbyteries, through their Committees on Church Erection, to look after such property within their several bounds, remembering the words of our blessed Lord: "Gather ye up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost."

APPLICATIONS.

During the year under review the Board has received two hundred and eighty-seven applications, formal and informal, calling for $184,500. Many of these calls did not fall within the rules laid down by the General Assembly for our guidance, and were therefore necessarily declined. We wish it distinctly understood, that no application which has not the approval and recommendation of the Presbytery under whose care the church is, and the certificate of the Attorney, designated by the Presbytery, as to the competency of the church to furnish the requisite papers, can be entertained by the Board. The want of such indorsement and certificate makes it necessary to return the application for correction or completion, and this causes the delay of at least a month, as the Board meets only once a month. We will (when requested) furnish the blank form for application.

APPROPRIATIONS.

Since April of 1881, appropriations have been made to two hundred and thirteen churches and missions, amounting in the aggregate to $104,130, an average of $488 to each church. This is an increase of thirty-seven churches over last year, and of $10,460 in amount. Twenty-five of these grants have been for churches and chapels in Utah—a larger number than for any other State or Territory in the Union. "There is hope in Israel concerning this thing.

For the Freedmen in the South we have given liberal aid, in the erection of ten places of worship. Some of these buildings serve for schools as well as churches. Nor have the Red Men of the forest been overlooked. In the Indian Territory, there are three church buildings in process of erection, and six more in other tribes. In New Mexico we have given liberal aid in the erection of nine buildings that will do more good for the people than the Mexican war did, and at far less expense. As usual, our work extends from ocean to ocean, embracing all the States and Territories west and north of New York, with the exception of Nevada and Arizona, which we promise not to overlook next year.

During the year the grants made to seven churches, amounting to $3000, have been cut off, because the conditions were not fulfilled within the prescribed time. Some of these grants have been renewed, on receipt of fresh applications.

To meet the urgent necessities of our missionaries in Utah and New Mexico, where they could not comply with the rules of the Assembly, nor give us the mortgage required, a temporary loan was made from the Special Fund. But now that the Presbyteries of Utah and Santa Fé have been incorporated, and are thus qualified to hold real estate and execute mortgages to the Board, the Treasurer was ordered to pay back this loan to the Special Fund. This leaves our Treasury for the present in an almost exhausted state.

Appropriations have been paid during the year to two hundred and three churches, amounting to $100,232; and now that the winter has passed, and work suspended for a while has been resumed, we shall very soon be called upon for the fulfillment of our promise to others who are in pressing need of the money. The feelings of joy and gladness occasioned by the reception of our checks, which remove all incumbrance, and enable these little churches to dedicate their houses to the Lord as his own, cannot be fully appreciated by those who have never been without a comfortable sanctuary and the stated means of grace.

INSURANCE.

It will be borne in mind, that one of the conditions, on which all our grants are made, is the perpetual insurance of the money granted by the Board. During the last year, two hundred and seventy-eight policies on as many different church properties have been taken out to the amount of $233,828. Some of these were renewals of policies that had expired. We have now 1101 policies, amounting to $800,500. Such is the character of the Companies in which we have insured, that if all these 1101 churches should be destroyed by fire, not one cent of our money would be lost. Two of the churches that we aided have been burned during the year, for which we received $1000, the full amount for which they were insured. We have learned that fifteen other Presbyterian church buildings during the year have been consumed, the estimated value of which was $172,250. The amount of insurance realized was $56,500, making the total loss for want of insurance $115,750. In consequence of the large amount of our business the Companies here allow fifteen per cent rebate—the benefit of which we give to the churches.

DESIGNS AND PLANS.

On this subject we desire (if possible) to be better understood. Some years ago, for the benefit of our churches at a distance from architects, or too poor to employ them, we had some designs of church buildings, with estimates of quantity and cost of materials, prepared at small expense, and published in our Report. For two of these designs (Nos. 1 and 2) we had sets of mechanics' plans carefully prepared, at a cost of nearly $100 each. Having a large number of these drawings lithographed, we offered them at $5 the set, as advertised in the Report. This has brought upon us a vast amount of correspondence—beyond our expectations or ability to continue. Nothwithstanding our explicit statement in our Annual Report, we find that other churches, not of the class that need pecuniary aid, many of other denominations, are disposed to avail themselves of this opportunity of practicing economy. We send a copy of our Annual Report (post-paid) to each of our pastors or stated supplies, and to each vacant church of our connection. The names of the architects may be seen in connection with the designs in our Report. If any of our churches wish our aid, in applying to either of these architects, we will cheerfully give it. But they must make their proposed changes to the architects and not to us.

THE OUTLOOK FOR THE COMING YEAR.

From the number of church organizations, reported through our religious periodicals within the last few months, as well as from the many letters of inquiry that we have received, we have reason to expect, that the demand for aid in church erection will be greater, during the year upon which we have entered, than it has been during the past year. The unprecedented multitude of immigrants coming to our country from Europe, and spreading themselves over our Western States and Territories, must have the gospel. The Board of Home Missions are resolved to send out scores of missionaries, to feed with the bread of life these thousands and hundreds of thousands of famished souls. For every missionary sent out we should be ready to build at least one house of worship, if these brethren are to be of permanent use in establishing the Church of our blessed Master. We must, in love and faithfulness, tell our churches in the Eastern and Middle States, that their meagre offerings of five or ten dollars will not meet the demands of the day. They must not only greatly increase the amount of their offering, but, like the good people who built in the time of Nehemiah, they "must have a mind for the work and give willingly to build the walls of Jerusalem." When our churches learn, under the faithful teaching of their pastors, to appreciate more highly the sacredness and importance of this work of "building the Lord's house," then shall "Zion arise and shine—her light having come, and the glory of the Lord being risen upon her."

OFFICE,

No. 1334 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Abstract of the Twenty-seventh Annual Report.

The embarrassment of the Treasury, arising from inadequate funds after the financial crisis of 1873—trying alike to the Board and to those who were dependent on the Fund—has been removed; and all the applicants who, with just claim, have been regularly recommended by Presbyteries or their Presbyterial Committees, have received appropriations and have been promptly paid. There has been no delay except when recommendations have failed to arrive in due season, through a change in the Chairmanship of the Presbytery's Relief Committee, or through the miscarrying of letters by mail.

On the 15th of November, 1881, the action taken by the Board, October 28th, 1879, requiring a reduction of twenty-five per cent on all regular appropriations, was rescinded; and, for the last four and half months of the fiscal year just ended, there has been a return to the old plan of determining, in each case, the amount granted, by the circumstances of the applicant, and the state of the Treasury. The fact, that the balance of April 1st, 1881, $9288.46, was exhausted by the payments in April and May before the meeting of the Assembly of 1881, and the want of entire certainty as to the total of the receipts for the year, constrained the Board to exercise a prudent foresight by not making this change at an earlier date.

Throughout the year, by a vigilant inspection, each month, of the work in hand, a small working balance has been retained in the Treasury, thus avoiding repeated and constant depletion, which sometimes rendered it impossible to provide for sudden emergencies or extraordinary cases. As such a working balance is desirable, there will be a steady endeavor to guard against exhausting the Treasury, overdrawing the bank-deposits, or running into debt by borrowing. The Board appeals with confidence to an intelligent Christian public, to enable it to maintain, without interruption, this healthy condition of its finances.

Because their recommendations had not come in at the date of the Board's last meeting for the fiscal year, several ministers and widows, who depend on the Relief Fund for subsistence, have not received the usual appropriations. These will be paid as soon as the cases are regularly reported by their Presbyteries, but it must be out of the balance in hand.

The fact that the collections in June, July, and August are generally not large in amount, furnishes an additional reason why a reserve should be kept on hand, in order that the Board may carry out, seasonably, and without failure, its great purpose of ministering relief. It is obvious also that, as the rule of reducing the grants one fourth has ceased to operate, there must be heavier drafts on the Fund, demanding an addition of thirty-three per cent to the ordinary resources. Besides, the urgency with which applicants are pressing their suit for larger grants, amounting, in some cases, to one hundred per cent. increase, admonishes the Board to be cautious, and to temper its generosity with impartial justice.

It is beginning now to be well understood that the annual income of the Relief Fund, however encouraging, is not sufficient to make the average appropriations as large as they ought to be. It is but a little over one hundred and fifty dollars. The merits and just claims of the applicants, as well as the ability of the whole Presbyterian Church, should make that average double in amount—about three hundred dollars.

It is to be hoped that the day has passed when any Board shall be regarded and treated as though it needed no further supply of funds, simply because, at the end of the fiscal year, it has a surplus to meet the ordinary and special necessities of the work during months in which receipts are small. Sound-minded, practical business-men see, that it is unwise to tempt any Board to expend its resources and to accumulate debt, with the view of giving pungency and force to an appeal for larger contributions.

Of those who were named on the Relief Roll of April, 1880–81, forty-nine will not be found on that of 1881–82, the year just ended. Twenty-two have already been reported as having died during the previous year, 1880–81. Of the remaining twenty-seven, three ministers have returned to their chosen work of preaching the gospel; one minister has left this country to spend the remnant of his days, with his kindred, in the land of his birth; three other ministers have so far recovered, that help from the Relief Fund is no longer a necessity; three widows have married again; and the others, widows and orphans, have in some instances declined to renew their applications, and in others have been provided by kindred and friends with the means of support.

The whole number assisted during the year ending April 1st, 1882, is four hundred and sixty-six,—four less than in the year previous,—namely, one hundred and ninety-six ministers, two hundred and forty-four widows of ministers, and twenty-six orphans. Forty-five of these were new applicants, consisting of thirty-one disabled ministers and sixteen widows, and one orphan of a deceased minister, the number of ministers being more than twice that of the other two classes. These four hundred and sixty-six are found in one hundred and nineteen Presbyteries, from New Hampshire to Florida, from California and Oregon to the Atlantic Coast, and even touching the shores of Western Africa.

Within the year, April 1st,1881–82, twenty-four of those who enjoyed the benefits of the Fund have departed this life: one the young orphan daughter of a deceased missionary; six aged widows, one being in her ninety-sixth year; and seventeen ministers of the gospel, the youngest at the age of thirty-six, but the others, venerable for years, and held in honor for their long service in the gospel ministry, verified the saying, "Thou shalt come to thy grave in a full age, like as a shock of corn cometh in in his season."

Comfortable raiment, nutritious food, good medical attendance, careful nursing, and an honorable Christian burial, are small returns for the Church to make to those who, through faithful watching for the souls of men, have been instrumental in securing for them imperishable riches.

The gratitude of these saints for the aid ministered to them—the high appreciation by their survivors of the Christian sympathy of the Church—and the prayers and benedictions of the sick, the infirm, and the dying, are an ample recompense for any sacrifices that have been made.

The entire financial operations for the year, from April 1st, 1881, to April 1st, 1882, may be represented by the following statement in three particulars:

	Total of funds for current use, . .		90,656 91
	Total, ...		$116,347 32

The actual receipts for current use, for the year ending April 1st, 1882, were greater than those of the year ending April 1st 1881, by	$6,621 41
The receipts for 1880–81 exceeded those of 1879–80 by .	6,024 83
And the receipts for 1879–80 exceeded those of 1878–79 by .	7,149 77

Thus it appears that for three years past there has been a decided financial improvement; and further, the receipts for current use, between April 1st, 1881, and April 1st, 1882, were greater than they had ever been before, being $834.90 in advance of the unusually large income of the Memorial year, 1872–73.

Collections have been received from Peking, China, from the Presbyteries of Western Africa and Corisco, and from the Freedmen in the South. Sabbath-schools with a manifestation of hearty interest have sent in contributions; the kindred of those not now living, and who were once on the Relief Fund, have presented gifts as testimonials of their grateful sense of the kindness shown to the dead; ministers and widows have esteemed it a privilege to return to the Lord thank-offerings for the comfort and relief obtained through this fund; year before last the son of a deceased minister gave seventy-five dollars, and last year one hundred and fifty dollars, in consideration of the aid granted to his widowed mother; and another son of a deceased minister has not only withdrawn his mother's name from the Relief Roll, but has paid over to the Treasurer of the Board eighteen hundred dollars, being the sum, principal and interest, of the appropriations made to that widow for a series of years.

Three of the churches connected with the General Assembly, in the Presbyteries of Albany, Lackawanna, and Carlisle, furnish, respectively, annuities to the widows of the ministers who were formerly their pastors. An aged ex-pastor has for several years received six hundred dollars annually from the church that he once served. In another instance a pastor, after a faithful ministry to the same people for more than thirty years, was relieved from all official duties on account of impaired health, and elected Pastor Emeritus, with an annuity of twenty-five hundred dollars for life. Another minister, obliged by failing health to resign his charge, was voted by his church four thousand dollars a year for life, one thousand more than had been his regular salary, and the children of the Sabbath-school presented to him three hundred dollars, with a letter of sympathy. Our informant says: "I think it a good thing for a church to get into the way of giving so much that they cannot stop, and will not want to." This devoted servant of Christ has gone up to his reward, but the liberal provision made by his loving people comforted and cheered him during the last months of his life.

These examples of liberality on the part of individual churches are greatly to be commended, and the more they are imitated, the larger will be the amounts available for those whose churches have less ability.

The Secretary of one of the Ladies' Associations, who have been engaged in supplying boxes of clothing, making her report of the work of the past season, writes: "If every church would do a little more than it does, the winter would not close with one minister's family who needs it, unsupplied with a box." The willing hearts and ready hands, that have prepared these fifty-three boxes, deserve the grateful recognition of the whole Church, as they have already received the warm thanks of those families, who have wept for joy as they have looked on these valuable and much-needed gifts. Letters from these Associations give the encouraging assurance, that they will "Be not weary in well-doing," but be "Always abounding in the work of the Lord."

At the time of the Re-union in November, 1869, the amount held by the Trustees of the Relief Fund in both branches of the Church was $63,581. Since that date more than two hundred thousand dollars have been added, the whole fund in trust being as follows :

Held by the Presbyterian Board of Relief, ...	$76,697 15
" Trustees of the General Assembly, . .	164,731 05
" Trustees of the Presbyterian House, . . .	35,828 57
Total, ...	$277,256 51

The income from this fund for the year ending April 1st, 1882, was $13,109.77.

The increase of the Permanent Fund is greatly to be desired. It should be large enough, to impress every young man who enters the ministry with the conviction that, if he gives himself wholly to the Lord's work, he shall be cared for in sickness and old age, and in case of his death his widow and orphan children shall not be destitute.

Those who contribute, either by gift or legacy, can in this way continue to do good long after death, and thus make their wealth a blessing to many generations of Christian ministers.

Respectfully submitted,

By order of the Board,

GEORGE HALE, Secretary.

Abstract of the Twelfth Annual Report.

There has been an increase of one hundred and three contributing churches, and, while the entire receipts of the year have not been what was hoped, there has been such an increase as to encourage your Committee to enlarge and extend their work, and enable them to expend on account of Missions, during the year, $54,902.58, against $48,102.59 the year before. Though this enlargement of the work was made at the beginning of the year, the contributions from the churches enabled the Committee to make all the payments promptly, and left in the Treasury a balance of $2064.47.

In addition to this, your Committee, by special effort, has raised in cash and reliable subscriptions, for Biddle University, the sum of $24,449. This, with $8000, contributed and paid for an additional building for Scotia Seminary, and the sum of $10,828.18, received from colored churches and schools and expended on the field under the direction of the Committee, together with the balance of $6038.58, left in the Treasury last year, makes a total from all sources, for the work of the year just closed, of $106,176.26. The colored churches and schools have advanced over their last year's contributions more than a thousand dollars, out of their deep poverty.

PERMANENT FUNDS.

There have been placed in the hands of your Committee, in the past few years, for permanent investment, as follows, viz:

For the general work,	$1,000
For Scotia Seminary, Endowment Fund,	1,000
For Biddle University, Endowment Fund,	4,000
For Biddle University, African Scholarship Fund, from the United Presbyterian Church, Scotland,	6,120
For Biddle University, toward endowment of President's Chair,	2,000
	$14,120

MISSIONARIES.

These are preachers, catechists, and teachers; and in the work under the care of the Committee the present year—including assistants in schools—the number is as follows:

Ordained ministers, of whom	56	are colored,	68	76
Licentiates,	8,	all colored,	8
Catechists,	19,	"		19
Teachers, males, of whom	29	are colored,	32	78
" females, "	28	"	46
	140			173

Most of the ministers have large fields to care for, including, in some cases, four, six, and seven churches. The catechists are very useful assistant missionaries, and have done a large amount of valuable church and Sabbath-school work. The teachers are commissioned, not as mere educators, but as Christian missionaries.

As a rule, your Committee employs as teachers only members of the Presbyterian Church; and, in general, they seem to regard their mission as not educational merely, but as religious as well, making prayer, praise, Scripture lessons, and catechetical instruction a constant accompaniment to the daily routine of school exercises.

Our schools continue to be strictly parochial; and statistical reports from the field show that, besides the large amount of "good seed" sown in the hearts of the young by our missionary teachers, their work still tells encouragingly in the way of training instructors for their own race. These schools may be grouped as follows:

I. Chartered Institutions.—Biddle University, Charlotte, N. C.; Wallingford Academy, Charleston, S. C.; Scotia Seminary, Concord, N. C.

II. Normal Schools.—Brainerd Institute, Chester, S. C.; Fairfield Institute, Winnsboro, S. C.

III. Graded Schools.—Medway, near Dorchester, Liberty Co., Ga.; Mount Tabor, Columbia, Tenn.

IV. Common Parochial.

Biddle University, Rev. Stephen Mattoon, D.D., President.—Standing upon an elevated plat of twenty-four acres, in the suburbs of Charlotte, N.C., its location is healthful as well as beautiful. Established for the special purpose of training colored preachers, catechists, and teachers for their own race, its location has special advantages for this purpose. It is among the best of their class, and at the terminus of six railroads.

The buildings comprise the President's house, and three houses for Professors; the University, 50x54 feet, and three stories high; a boarding-hall, and two small dormitories. The estimated value of the grounds and buildings is $41,000.

Of the 164 students reported for the past year, 127 are professors of religion, 56 studying for the Gospel ministry, and 15 serve as catechists; 68 have taught part of the year, enrolling over 4000 pupils; and 55 of these, while teaching, have superintended Sabbath-schools, enrolling over 2900.

For a time after its organization a regular Classical Course was not attempted; but now, besides a Preparatory English Course of two grades, Higher and Lower, and an English Normal Department covering a four years' course, it has also a Classical Department requiring the same time, and a Theological Department requiring a three years' course.

Wants.—1st. Scholarships of $100 each, for a single year, for a number of years in succession, or until the close of a student's course of study. 2d. A General Aid Fund, to assist students who can support themselves for but part of a single year. 3d. Clothing.—Boxes of substantial clothing, for distribution among needy students, are always in demand, and can always find grateful wearers. Bed-clothing of all kinds is also needed. 4th. Endowment.—As yet the Institution has but $6000 endowment fund, and, save the proceeds of this, the members of the Faculty have to be supported just as other missionaries are, from the Treasury of your Committee. Hence, permanent endowment funds for the adequate support of its Professors are an imperative want of the University. 5th. Buildings.—With comfortable accommodations for 65 students, while 164 are on the ground, and but four houses for six Professors, more room is a pressing necessity. The growth attained by Biddle University requires a large college building, that it may be able to do what is expected of it. Both in the building used at present for teaching purposes, and in the sleeping apartments for the young men, they are crowded to excess. A large new building has become an imperative necessity. There have been raised, towards this new building, about $24,000; but we need more than this to erect such a building as the wants of the College demand.

Scotia Seminary, Rev. Luke Dorland, Superintendent.—The Seminary is located at Concord, N. C., and now reports 202 pupils, of whom 105 are professors of religion; 28 have taught, part of the year.

Buildings.—Some five years ago a neat and very convenient but plain main building, in the form of a T, was designed. The funds on hand, however, allowed of only the front part (head of the T) being erected. It is of brick, 75 by 42 feet, three stories above the basement, and cost about $12,000. The remainder of the building is now under contract, and will be finished this summer, the money having been contributed by a generous friend. The old Seminary building, the Home, the Library, and Store-room are small but useful buildings. The entire property of the Seminary, including the grounds and about $1500 endowment fund, is estimated at $16,500.

Wants.—1st. Scholarships of $45 each, and partial scholarships. The demand for these is constantly increasing with the increase of the number of pupils. As a rule, orphans and pupils from large families must be aided, or an education must be denied to some of the most promising and enterprising of their race. Tuition is free, and $45 will furnish boarding, fuel, and light for one pupil for the entire term (year) of eight months. "Patrons," says the Superintendent, "have been a double blessing to their wards by their correspondence. Some of the most promising girls have been thus led to the Saviour." 2d. Clothing.—Boxes of good second-hand wearing apparel are always in demand, to be worn as sent, or cut and fitted by the pupils themselves. 3d. Endowment.—This Institution should be permanently endowed. At present it has but $1500 for this purpose.

Wallingford Academy, Rev. Thomas A. Grove, Principal.—This Institution is located in Charleston, S. C. It reports as enrolled during the past year 612 pupils—64 more than were reported for the preceding year. Paid by pupils for tuition, $549.65.

The ground on which the Academy stands is a city lot, about 60 feet wide by about 200 feet long, extending entirely through from Meeting Street to Nassau Street. The main building fronts on Meeting Street, one of the principal thoroughfares of the city, and is 70 feet in length by 40 in breadth, with a porch in front, and an addition in the rear for a recitation-room. The upper part is used for church purposes; the first floor, divided into four rooms, is occupied by the school. On the other end of the lot, fronting on Nassau Street, is the Teachers' Home, a house of moderate size, but conveniently arranged for its purpose. These buildings are comparatively new, and were erected at a cost of about $13,000, of which about $7800 were paid by the Freedmen's Bureau. There is no debt on the property.

In order to make this school more efficient, apparatus, maps, charts, globes, and the means of illustrating the more common facts and principles of natural science would be of great advantage.

Brainerd Institute, Rev. Samuel Loomis, Principal.—This school is located in Chester, S. C., the whole county embracing sixteen thousand colored people. Around the Institute are clustered the nine churches that have constituted Brainerd Mission, and on every hand public and Sabbath schools instructed by Brainerd scholars.

This school was organized with a graded course of study, and the scholars from the mission churches and surrounding country, as well as those from the town, enjoy the advantages of this graded course. The Normal Department is well provided with various appliances so essential to successful study, such as blackboards, maps, charts, and apparatus for illustration in the natural sciences.

But the most important measure of the past year, making progress in the right direction, has been the inauguration of an Industrial Department of the Institute, and to some extent the formation of plans for its successful operation. The design is to enable students to aid themselves in obtaining an education; to develop the strength and hardihood that come from self-help; to maintain and promote habits of industry; to counteract the danger of sickness and disease so often the result of sedentary occupation; to provide more wholesome living from orchard, farm, and garden; and to impart a practical acquaintance with improved systems of agriculture, now the all-important need of this Southern country.

As a beginning of the Industrial Department, one hundred acres of land have been obtained by the Institute, at convenient distance from the town, with about thirty acres woodland, well situated for cultivation, improvement, and instruction. It needs but a small outlay, and the foundation is successfully laid for the practical education of multitudes of colored youths through generations to come.

Buildings and Grounds.—The Institute buildings are beautifully situated on nearly two acres of ground, not far from the centre of the town, and near the three railroad depots. These comprise the chapel, Institute building, and two cottages containing dining-room and kitchen, with rooms for students. Two other school buildings, at a little distance, are provided by the public-school authorities. The Committee has just purchased a large two-story mansion, 50x80 feet, with extended piazzas, airy, well-finished rooms and ample accommodations for a large number of students. This building has attached to it about ten acres of ground, and is situated on a level plateau on the range of hills east of the town, two sides pointing on main streets.

Fairfield Institute, Rev. Willard Richardson, Principal.—This is located at Winnsboro, S. C., and reports 405 pupils enrolled—125 of them professors of religion, of whom 32 are studying for the gospel ministry. Forty have taught part of the year.

Specialties.—While the Principal has the oversight of five churches, in whose welfare he is deeply interested, seeing the great want of properly qualified colored teachers for the schools of the State, he makes the training of such a specialty in his Institute.

Another specialty of this school is to train workers for Africa.

The ground is a town lot in Winnsboro, of over one acre. On the front is a "Home," a neat two-story frame, containing six rooms. On the rear stand the church and school building, frame, 60x33 feet, divided into three rooms, one 33x42 feet, the others about 18x15 feet each. There is a farm also connected with the Institute, carried on by the students. Besides these there are a small dilapidated frame, and a "barn," worth about $75 each. The entire property is valued at $3900.

STATISTICS.

The five Institutions just referred to have each sent up statements for the past year, which combined give the following:

Whole number of students enrolled,	1,641
Number of these professors of religion,	391
Number of these in the Presbyterian Church,	96
Whole number studying for the gospel ministry,	96
Number of these that are Presbyterians,	87
Number who have acted as catechists,	24
Taught school part of the year,	156
Whole number of months taught by all, this year, over	440
Whole number of pupils in all their schools, about	8,250
Amount of pay received, in cash and board, by all, about	$8,852
Number who superintended Sabbath-schools while teaching,	108
Whole number of scholars in these Sabbath-schools,	6,063

In considering these figures, it should be remembered, that those pertaining to students for the gospel ministry, catechists, and superintendents of Sabbath-schools, came from but four of the five Institutions named, as Scotia Seminary is for girls only.

THE OUTLOOK.

Seventeen years ago, when our work among the Freedmen was commenced, its importance was not realized by the Church or the country. Many thought that it was impracticable; others, that it should be done by the Southern people; and others still, that it was a political movement and had better be let alone. Amid these divergent sentiments at the North, and the bitter opposition of the South, it was not strange that the work progressed slowly. But there were those in the Church, who felt most deeply that there was a solemn duty which we owed to these people, who had just emerged from the darkness of two centuries of degrading and cruel bondage. The matter was then laid before the Assembly, and in June, 1865, the Presbyterian Committee of Missions for Freedmen was organized by the authority of the Assembly. At once faithful men and women, moved as we believe by the Holy Ghost, offered to go as preachers and teachers to these poor people. At that time it required no little self-denial to enter upon such a work. The bitter feelings engendered by the war were prevalent throughout the South, and little or no sympathy was extended to any persons who came to labor among the Freedmen. Opposition in various ways and often serious dangers attended them. But God blessed them in their work. It was carried on with the same earnest and self-denying spirit which characterized our first foreign missionaries. Each year the work was enlarged and extended; and, as the Committee's limited means were increased, churches were organized, schools opened, and institutions founded. And now, after seventeen years of experience, and after becoming well informed as to the condition and necessities of the Freedmen in the South, your Committee feel more and more impressed with the truth, that our Church is engaged in no missionary work which is more important, more urgent, or more promising of great and speedy results, than that of educating and evangelizing the negro. Only a few years ago these people were all slaves, ignorant and degraded, and thought of only as chattels to be bought and sold, while their children could only look forward to the same sad life of toil and degrading servitude. Now we have fifty-six colored men regularly educated and ordained to the ministry; 27 educated licentiates and catechists; 79 teachers; 168 churches, with a membership of 12,456, and 58 schools with 6088 scholars; three chartered Institutions with 967 students; two normal schools and two graded schools with 976 pupils; and157 Sabbath-schools with 10,249 scholars.

When it is remembered that the means of your Committee have been very limited, we have great cause to be thankful, that so much has been accomplished through this agency. A brighter day, we believe, is about to dawn upon our work among the Freedmen. The Church is beginning to awaken to its great importance, as is seen by the increased contributions and the number of new churches contributing to the Cause.

The work has considerably enlarged during the past year, and a number of new fields have been opened. At Scotia Seminary, Concord, N. C., the number of girls applying for admission imperatively demanded increased accommodations, and an additional building, at a cost of $8000, is now under contract, and will be finished during the summer, the money for its erection having been already raised by a special donation.

To meet the increasing demands of Brainerd Institute, at Chester, S. C., your Committee has purchased a large mansion with ten acres of land attached, which will greatly enlarge the work and increase the usefulness of that Institution.

At Franklinton, N. C., a large and elegant school building has been erected and paid for, at a cost of $5000, in which the district normal school is to be taught under the superintendence of one of our missionaries, the salaries of the teachers being paid by the State. The erection of this building will greatly increase our influence in that part of the State, as it will concentrate in it all the educational interests of the colored people in the whole region surrounding it. Your Committee, feeling that the time had come for placing Biddle University, also, on a firmer basis, and to enlarge its usefulness, and to meet an imperative necessity of our work in the South, has made special efforts, during the past winter, through the Secretary and Rev. Thomas Lawrence, D.D., one of the Professors of the Institution, to raise funds for the erection of a new college building. Toward this they have raised subscriptions amounting to $24,449.

Another indication of a brighter day for our work among the Freedmen is the present attitude of the Southern people toward it. We have long felt the need of the co-operation of the people among whom the Freedmen are located. For a number of years, indeed until within the last two or three, they were unfriendly, and in many parts of the South opposed and greatly hindered the work. But a great change has come over the Southern people. They now feel the necessity of educating and Christianizing the colored people, both for the good of themselves and the Freedmen. Our Presbyterian brethren especially, in many parts of the country, stand ready to co-operate with us; their churches are grateful for our help, feel kindly toward our missionaries and teachers, and are willing, in some quarters, themselves to help build up our schools and extend our churches. This feeling on their part is mainly owing to the prudent and conservative manner in which our work has been prosecuted, which has won their confidence. And we believe, that one of the most efficient influences, though a silent one, operating in the South to-day, whose tendency is to bring the Northern and Southern churches closer together, is our work among the Freedmen. We believe the day is not far distant, when Southern and Northern Christians will see eye to eye, and stand shoulder to shoulder, in this undertaking.

The work, which your Committee, under God, has been enabled to accomplish, is a great and good one; and, so far as it has gone, is a solid work, and speaks for itself, in the improvement of the moral and physical condition of the negro, in the communities where our schools and churches have been planted. From an extended visit of the Secretary through the field this last winter, and from other sources, your Committee has had this impression confirmed and deepened.

We sometimes fear that the Presbyterian Church does not appreciate or realize the good which has been done among these poor people. Could our people have been in their midst seventeen years ago, as the Secretary of the Committee was, and beheld their wretched condition as they came out of their long bondage, their ignorance, and moral and physical degradation; and now could they look on these same people in the communities where our churches and schools have been carried on; could they enter one of these churches in the pine forests of the Carolinas, where the most ignorant and degraded of them were once to be found, and sit down with them in the house of God, and mark their earnest and decorous manner of worship, and listen to the word of God preached to entire edification by an educated Presbyterian minister who was once a slave; then turn aside into the school-house which stands near by, and see two hundred dusky children neatly dressed, and hear their answers to questions on their studies, the Scriptures, and the Catechism; then follow them to their humble cabins, which were once mere hovels of filth and wretchedness, and see now the home-like appearance of their lowly abodes—the neat bed, the chairs, the table, and now and then a sewing-machine, and the whole surrounded with a well-tilled "patch" of land, bought and paid for and cultivated by the man who was a slave a few years ago, but now a freeman indeed;—could brethren look on scenes like these, for they are real scenes, we are sure they would begin to appreciate to some degree the good work done for the Freedmen through this Committee.

But, after all that has been said, the Committee feels humbled in recognizing the disproportion between what has been done and what ought to and could have been done, had the means been placed at their disposal. The work of the Committee is, by the limitation of its funds, confined to four of the Southern States, the two Carolinas, Virginia, and Tennessee, with a few missions and schools in three others, Georgia, Kentucky, and Florida. There are the great States of Alabama, Mississippi, Texas, Louisiana, and Arkansas, with a colored population of 2,360,381, not touched yet. Add to this the fact that the colored population of the South is increasing at the rate of 34 per cent., and that of the white only at 28 per cent.; and the further fact that there are over 1,300,000 voters among them, most of whom cannot read the ballot that has been put into their hands, and that these people have equal rights of citizenship with the white race,—and it becomes evident, that motives of patriotism as well as religion should join to support and extend our mission work in the South.

When we consider these millions of people, the most of whom are ignorant and in need of the most elementary instruction, the Committee is pained to think how far short our educational and evangelistic force comes of at all overtaking the responsibility, which God's providence has laid upon the Church, in giving churches and schools to these people. What a wide field stretches out before us for occupation—a field limited only by the faith and gifts of the Church. And for our great Church to touch only a few of these destitute regions, with the small force of 68 ministers and 79 teachers, is not manifesting the earnestness which the Lord of these poor and helpless people has the right to expect at our hands. They are ready to receive the gospel, and are hungry for an education that will qualify them for the duties, which the citizenship we have laid upon them requires at their hands; and the earnestness, perseverance, and self-denial which they manifest to obtain an education, and procure for themselves and their children religious privileges, ought to prompt and encourage the Church to extend our mission work through all this broad and ripening harvest-field. Why should not our Church enter all the Southern States with her missionaries and teachers? It could be done, if the faith and gifts of God's people were equal to their privileges and responsibilities.

CONCLUSION.

In concluding this Report, the Committee would beg leave to quote from the Narrative of the State of Religion, issued by the Assembly of 1837, the following:

"By reports from many Presbyteries, both in the North and in the South, it appears that the attention of many has been turned prayerfully to the too long neglected descendants of Africa, scattered in every part of the land. Active exertions have been made in several places to elevate them intellectually and morally, and, so far, with encouraging success. Schools have been established where the laws will admit of it, and great anxiety for improvement has sprung up in the minds of multitudes of them, who, a few years ago, seemed destined to ignorance with its attendant trains of vice and misery. The work is arduous; but it is of vast importance. To what source so promising can we turn for missionaries to traverse the sands of Africa, as to this numerous people? They are providentially placed among us; and their circumstances call upon us for that moral and religious instruction which will conduce to their happiness, and prepare them to perform their duties as men and Christians. The prayer of every benevolent heart should ascend to God for their best interests, and especially that all classes of them may be delivered from that worst of bondage, the thralldom of sin and Satan. The genuineness of our philanthropy, in sending missionaries to the heathen, may well be questioned, if we have no bowels of compassion for the poor and needy at our door, and make no effort for their conversion."

Your Committee would most earnestly ask, if it was important, forty-five years ago, when these people were all slaves, and numbering only about three millions, to make "active exertions to elevate them intellectually and morally;" if it was important to establish schools among them "where the laws permitted;" and if in their enslaved condition a "great anxiety for improvement has sprung up in the minds of multitudes of them," what must be the obligations resting on the Presbyterian Church to give them the gospel and the means of a Christian education, now that they number nearly seven millions of souls, have come out of slavery and into the full inheritance of American citizenship, and are literally hungering and thirsting for Christian privileges and an education for themselves and their children? The Committee feels most deeply that if these privileges, so much desired and needed by these our lowly brethren, are withheld from them by the Christians of the North, it will be done at the peril of some of the most vital interests of the Church and the nation.

Respectfully submitted,

By order of the Committee,

RICHARD H. ALLEN, Secretary.

Abstract of the Third Annual Report.

This Committee was re-organized and enlarged by the last General Assembly. It has held two meetings during the year—one at Saratoga Springs, in August, and another at Cleveland, in April. At the first, eight of the twelve members were present, and of these only three were ministers, showing a commendable interest on the part of the lay members. At this meeting, Elder Dan P. Eells, of Cleveland, was elected Secretary. The work was thoroughly discussed, and entire harmony prevailed as to the methods for carrying on the work under the instructions of the General Assembly. A Committee was appointed to prepare a circular to be sent to every pastor and session in the Church. This paper, entitled "The Work Revised and Renewed," was sent out in October. A Committee was also appointed to prepare a blank for securing statistics, from the churches, on Systematic Beneficence, as authorized by the last General Assembly.

Reports from all sources give evidence that the Cause of systematic giving has advanced during the year.

Our Reports from Presbyteries are rather few and fragmentary. This has arisen partly from the fact, that the new statistical blank was issued rather late in the year to secure full attention, and also because it was not well understood. The blank itself does not meet the views of the Committee as a whole. In order not to multiply meetings and expenses, it was issued without due deliberation in full session, and a simpler form will be given for future use.

There is, on the part of some pastors and sessions, a disposition to undervalue statistics. Our ministerial brethren seem at times to forget the important place of mathematics in the sciences. Yet in every department of knowledge they are becoming more and more valuable. The physician now takes the statistics of the patient's heat, as well as those of his pulse. He judges of the dangers of cities and communities by the death-rate. The dry statistics of railroad time-tables are very important to meetings of the General Assembly, and the smallest business house must have large books for its figures. Nevertheless the Committee will endeavor not to lay a yoke upon the churches which they are not able to bear.

The reports which have been received show that the work has been carried on by Presbyterial Committees with increasing faithfulness. In none is the work more efficiently pushed than in that of Baltimore, where one of the fathers of the Church, whose name is known and honored by all Presbyterians, has it in charge. His words are worth quoting and pondering: "The Presbytery requires each session, immediately after the October meeting, to take the subject into formal consideration, adopt the best plan, and report to the next meeting. The Committee gives information about plans, and sends circulars until they report. The churches are improving, so far as recognizing the obligation to do something and comply with the directions of the Presbytery. They are all endeavoring to have full columns. The Committee, in full, formal reports at the spring and fall meetings, seeks to urge and enforce the duty." The circular spoken of above says, "All that is required to bring every church into the rank of giving churches is, systematic effort on the part of ministers and elders."

There are other indications that this work is receiving increasing thought in our own and other churches. Mr. Thomas Kane, of Chicago, who is a member of this Committee, is doing as much, at least, as any man in the world to advance proportionate giving. His work is carried on independently, but it deserves to be noticed as an important element in this Cause. During the present year, he has offered a prize of one hundred dollars for the best essay on Proportionate Giving, and one of twenty-five dollars for the "best short, plain, practical, and easily understood set of rules and instructions for putting in practice Proportionate Giving." In response to this, seventy essays and twelve sets of rules have been received from all parts of the country. It is a matter of interest, that a similar effort in England some years ago secured the publication of some very valuable essays on this subject, five of which were printed in one volume, entitled, "Gold and the Gospel."

We are informed that the Synod of Cleveland printed for circulation an abstract of Rev. Francis A. Horton's address on this subject, delivered at its last meeting. There was also issued "A Parting Message to the Churches of the Synod of Central New York from their Synod." This was a condensed copy of the Report of the Synod's Committee on Systematic Beneficence, and was printed for distribution in all the families of the Synod. All the ministers were requested to preach on the subject in connection with its distribution in the several churches.

The brief extracts of Presbyterial proceedings published in the denominational papers show that more attention has been given to the subject in their meetings. Of the Presbytery of Denver, Col., it is said: "The Report of the Committee on Systematic Beneficence revealed a remarkable increase in gifts to the Boards—fourteen contributing churches giving to all the Boards a total of $4281, over against $1397 given last year by fifteen contributing churches. The gifts to Home Missions were doubled, and to Foreign Missions nearly trebled." Of Cedar Rapids: "More than ordinary attention was given to the Boards of the Church, and to church work and benevolence in general." The Presbytery of Council Bluffs resolved very wisely: "Ministers and churches are urged to have contributions made to all the Boards, and division of funds merely for filling the blanks is denounced." Rochester reports a gain of over twelve thousand dollars.

This advance is, however, by no means uniform. Of the Presbyteries reporting to this Committee in detail, six show a decrease in the amount given to the Boards, and six in the number of churches contributing to all the Boards. These losses show the need of continued and increased diligence in this matter.

There should be in each Presbytery a Committee representing each Board; and there would be such if the former recommendations of this Committee were followed. The value of such Committees is shown by a recent paragraph in the Foreign Missionary: "We are indebted to many of the Stated Clerks and Foreign Missionary Committees of Presbyteries for their careful co-operation in putting us in communication with the churches with respect to the circulation of the Foreign Missionary. We also acknowledge gratefully the receipt of lists of such Committees, reports of which have been in the past exceedingly scarce." Whether the Committee on Beneficence is made one with the Committee on Boards or not, it can accomplish good for the benevolent work of the Church by endeavoring to secure an efficient Committee for each Board in each Synod and Presbytery.

We believe that the number of Synods and Presbyteries organized for this work by the appointment of Committees on Systematic Beneficence does not differ much from last year. A larger number, however, have failed to communicate the names of their Committees. Fifteen Synods and fifty-seven Presbyteries have not been heard from.

We ask that particular attention be given to the appointment of efficient

Committees on Beneficence in the new Synods which are to meet this fall. Their work is of a different kind from that of the Presbyteries, because they do not come directly in contact with the churches. But much can be done to further the Cause by careful reports and addresses at the meetings of the Synod, and by securing a working Committee on Beneficence in each Presbytery.

TOTAL CONTRIBUTIONS TO BENEVOLENT WORK.

An advance has been made on the encouraging report of last year. There has been a forward movement along the whole line, except in Education and Sustentation. The former of these, however, has closed with a small balance, and the latter with a large but reduced one.

These sums represent the amounts under the control of the Boards, from all sources, for the year's work, including balances from the previous year. All the Boards have closed the year with a balance except that of Home Missions, which, although it has received more than ever before, has of necessity so enlarged its work that it closes the year with a deficit of $15,862. The large increase of expenditure, in this and the Foreign work, shows how much more money could be profitably expended for the advancement of Christ's kingdom than the churches furnish.

Besides the above, the Permanent Funds of the Board of Education have been increased by $2000; and $27,000 have been raised for building, by the Freedmen's Committee.

Net increase, $71,441. Last year, $66,185.

Leaving out individual contributions, the amount from churches alone (including Women's Societies and Sabbath-schools) for the benevolent work, was $920,353. This is an increase of $46,825 above last year, and it is an increase under the most encouraging head—that which gives the regular supply of funds.

The average of gifts per member, for all objects outside the individual church—having therefore some claim to be called benevolent—i.e., for Boards, General Assembly, and Miscellaneous, was, for 1879–80, $3.91; for 1880–81, $2.54.

According to the reports of the Boards, the average for the last two years is about $2.46 per member.

For Congregational Expenses, 1879–80, $10.54 per communicant; 1880–81, $10.90.

Thus for all church purposes we give, in 1880–81, $13.44. If this is one tenth of the income of each member, the average income and expenses of each Presbyterian are remarkably small.

The Minutes of 1880–81 show a decrease in miscellaneous gifts of $137,199; an increase in gifts to the objects which the Boards represent of $145,517. This last amount was given outside of the regular channels of our church work to similar causes.

These figures show how many churches there are unfaithful to their duty in this matter. Are they poor? So was the widow with the two mites. So were the churches of Macedonia, "yet their deep poverty abounded to the riches of their liberality." Granting that some Causes are more important than others, is there any excuse for hundreds of churches that omit all alike? In one Presbytery, only a single church is reported as contributing to all the Boards, the last two years—"Among the faithless, faithful only she."

INSTRUCTIONS IN PRINCIPLES AND METHODS OF BENEVOLENCE.

The Committee has done nothing formally in this direction, except to issue the circular already mentioned for the guidance of Synods, Presbyteries, and Sessions. This was widely scattered, being sent to foreign missionaries as well as home churches, and printed in the denominational papers. Articles have been furnished by some members of the Committee for the religious press, and efforts have been made with some success to secure contributions on the subject from prominent ministers. At the last meeting of the Committee, three members were appointed to prepare a statement on principles and plans of giving, which can be indorsed by the Committee, and recommended to any who may ask for guidance.

There is no lack of literature on this subject, if pastors and sessions will take pains to secure it and distribute it among their people. Through the liberality of some individuals, The Christian Giver, published by Rev. William T. Wylie, of Butler, Pa., has been sent monthly to every minister of the Church. And Mr. Thomas Kane, of Chicago, has offered to supply gratuitously to any pastor who would apply, his own tract, "What We Owe to Christian Giving," or another, entitled "Thanksgiving Ann."

After all, this work of instruction belongs to the pastors, and can be done only by them. This is shown by what is reported from the Presbytery of Washington City. "One pastor assigns persistent presentation of the duty of giving as the reason of an increase of contributions in this church." The venerable chairman in the Presbytery of Baltimore states the matter pointedly thus: "Every reasonable, safe effort is made to awaken ministers to their duty, in teaching the people to observe what Christ has commanded in this matter. The last consideration was that they cannot earnestly urge others to perform what they do not practice themselves, that they must do their part, if it is but two mites. If they do, however others may neglect their duty, full columns will be insured and the example will be felt." Giving is a grace, and preaching is one of the most important means of grace. Prayer is still more important, and our "prayer and alms" should go up together before God.

The aim of this Committee is that every one of our members may learn to lay by him in store, as the Lord hath prospered him. The general laws and processes of nature exist for the individual. It takes a large tree to make a single cherry blossom, and to bring it to perfection. So the aim of all God's plans is the individual soul of man—to glorify Himself in its salvation. Our machinery will be successful, therefore, only as it furnishes channels of grace to beautify and perfect the heart of each Christian. As all the organism of plants is in vain without the rain and the sun, so all church machinery is nothing without the Spirit of God.

The continuance in some form of this much-needed work.

That each Synod and Presbytery be directed to appoint a Committee on Systematic Beneficence and communicate with this Committee.

That each minister be urged to instruct his people faithfully in this matter.

That each session be directed to adopt some proper plan of beneficence, and give the people an opportunity to contribute to each Board.

That each member be instructed to adopt the principle of Proportionate Giving as a part of his Christian life.

That the Board of Publication be recommended to print such documents for the Committee as may meet the judgment of their Publishing Committee.

That the expenses of the Committee for clerical service and postage, amounting to $224.99, be paid by the Assembly. The Committee have not asked that their traveling expenses be paid.

All which is respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR MITCHELL, Chairman.

Abstract of the First Annual Report.

At their first meeting, in June last, a free discussion was held as to the work before the Committee, and temporary sub-committees were appointed,—on By-Laws, on a letter to the Synods, on the codification of the action of the General Assembly, on correspondence with other evangelical bodies, and on conference with the Board of Publication.

At the second meeting of the Committee, held in September, these sub-committees reported, thus bringing before the Committee a large amount of valuable information as to the work of our own Church, and other evangelical Churches, in the Temperance cause, as well as many important suggestions with reference to the work of the Committee.

With profound sorrow we have to report the death of an esteemed associate, Rev. John W. Mears, D.D., which occurred in the autumn. Prof. Mears brought to the work of the Committee the intelligence and enthusiasm which have always characterized his efforts, together with a patience and a charity which won our admiration. He had thought his way far on through the work of the Committee, for whose establishment he had labored industriously. His plans had been carefully matured. He could state his convictions, as to the place and the work of this new and untried agency of our Church. Yet he was ready to wait upon the inquiries of his brethren, and to accept their more conservative suggestions.

The Committee has prepared By-Laws, which are submitted herewith, for the approval of the General Assembly.

We have carried on a correspondence with other evangelical Churches, which has revealed the fact that no other branch of the Church of Christ has, as such, entered upon the Temperance Reform. The Protestant Episcopal Church has many local Diocesan Societies. The Methodist Episcopal Church has Societies in the Conferences. But, so far as we can learn, the Presbyterian Church alone, through its supreme ecclesiastical judicatory, has intrusted the interests of Temperance to a Permanent Committee.

The letter to the Synods, prepared by Rev. John Hall, D.D., was well received, and undoubtedly awakened a new interest in this great reform. It was printed, in the April number of the Record, together with the Report of the late Prof. MEARS on codification. In the letter to the Synods, the position of the Committee is clearly stated in these words:

1. We do not attempt to supersede the gospel of Christ, by any preventive or reforming agency of our devising. We proceed on the principle, that to make men right in heart and life before God, and to lay the foundation of a true and high morality, there is need for the renewing power of the Holy Ghost, attending the preaching and believing of the gospel of Christ. We do not forget that, in the absence of this saving faith, men will live "according to the course of the world;" and the particular form of evil, presented in their lives, will depend in a good degree upon their personal history and circumstances. But Intemperance keeps men, in multitudes, from ordinary contact with the gospel.

2. When we single out Intemperance, as the Church has done Sabbath-breaking, to be distinctly and specially combated, it is because of two peculiarities connected with this distinctive vice. In the first place, it is intimately associated with social usages and customs, against which a true and strong public sentiment and concerted action are needful in the highest degree; and, secondly, the agencies, through which Intemperance is propagated, are so intimately associated with the legislation of the land, that special and exceptional organization against them is rendered necessary. These special efforts we would make, without any distrust of the power of God's grace, on the one hand, or any assumption, on the other, that mere abstinence from this particular vice is "the whole duty of man" towards his Creator or fellow-men.

3. In a land and in a Church like ours, covering so wide a region, and including so great diversity of mental habit and acquired knowledge, it will naturally happen, that the opposition to Intemperance will be rested on varying grounds, and maintained with a variety of weapons. It is to be our duty as a Church, to select for the battle-ground such positions as we can unite in holding, and to furnish and commend such weapons as will be effective in the highest degree. This we can do, without undervaluing or discouraging the efforts of any, even though they do not seem to us to make the best selection. We are to be in the van in the battle against this crying and deeply rooted evil, and we are to assume that all that are in the same warfare are our allies, to be succored, encouraged, and aided.

4. Among the methods, which we venture to suggest to the Synods, this is foremost: that they give the subject attention, in their meetings, by comparison of facts and of views, by a survey of the fields covered as Synods, by the selection of such methods as seem best adapted to these fields, and by inculcating on ministers and elders the diligent use of these means, among those of whom "the Holy Ghost has given them the oversight." In some instances, the preaching of special sermons on Intemperance has been found of great value. Better still, perhaps, is it when Scriptural teaching on this subject is incorporated with the ministry of the word, in some proportion to the need of the community and the aggravations of the sin, and where this teaching is followed up by appropriate organization, especially among the young. It may also be possible, to provide for the dissemination of such literature as will make our fellow-citizens intelligent regarding the aspects of this sin, in which it ought to be contemplated by the tax-payer and the legislator, and to stimulate them to the discharge of their duties as citizens in resistance to this and to every other corrupting force that insinuates itself into our social life, and procures for itself more or less formal and legal sanction. They are not to undervalue the labors of the Temperance lecturer and the wider organizations; but to see how each minister, and indeed each church officer, can become an effective Temperance agent, in the community where he is known and trusted as a disinterested and consistent Christian citizen, and each congregation an informal, inexpensive, but most effective Temperance society.

Last February, the Committee sent out a letter of inquiry to the Stated Clerks of the Synods and the Presbyteries, requesting answers to the following questions:

1. Is there a Permanent Committee on Temperance in your Presbytery or Synod? If so, what are its duties, and what success has attended its work?
2. Have you any plans of work in the Temperance Cause? If so, what are they?
3. Is there any special interest in the Temperance Cause in the churches of your Presbytery or Synod?
4. What is the state of public sentiment on the subject of Temperance in the section of the country which is occupied by your Presbytery or Synod?
5. Would you deem it advisable that the Permanent Committee of the General Assembly should employ a Secretary, who should devote his whole time to the advocacy of this movement? If so, will the churches of your Presbytery or Synod be willing to contribute towards his support?
6. Can you aid the General Assembly's Committee by making any suggestions?

This letter has served two purposes. 1st. We have brought the work of the Committee and the interests of Temperance before the Presbyteries at the spring meetings. Several of the Presbyteries have already taken action by the appointment of Permanent Committees on Temperance, and many others have been encouraged to most profitable discussions of this subject. 2d. The letter has brought to the Committee, in the answers received, a large amount of interesting information. We have received replies from the Stated Clerks of 23 Synods and 108 Presbyteries. In 8 of the Synods and in 17 of the Presbyteries there are Permanent Committees on Temperance. 11 Synods and 36 Presbyteries report, that they have special plans of work in the Temperance Cause. These plans differ, and yet they all seem to have been attended with the blessing of God.

The interest in the churches, especially in the central and western States of the Union, is thoroughly aroused. The Christian people of the land are rising to an appreciation of the evils of Intemperance, and in many sections are demanding of their legislators a prohibitory law. Forty-nine reports state that there is a good degree of Temperance interest; 17 state that the condition of public sentiment is doubtful; 37, that there is an earnest movement in favor of prohibition; 3, that rum rules; and 13, that there is no interest whatever.

The judgment which has been expressed as to the wisdom of employing a Secretary for the work of the Committee may be tabulated as follows: In favor of employing a Secretary: Synods—Yes, 4; No, 9; Doubtful, 8; Presbyteries—Yes, 37; No, 36; Doubtful, 29.

The question of chief importance before us is the expediency of employing a Secretary, who shall devote his whole time to the advocacy of this movement. If the work is to go on with efficiency, it is evident that such an officer must, eventually, be appointed. Pastors and elders have not the time for all the duties of the Committee. They can only be expected to meet for deliberation and counsel. They cannot be asked to enter upon and maintain correspondence with other churches, to visit Synods and Presbyteries, to devise plans of work, etc. etc. But, on the other hand, the Church is very jealous of the multiplication of official positions and the increase of official machinery. In all the history of the Presbyterian Church, there has not been known, until now, a Permanent Committee or Board, established to further a particular moral interest. The belief is wide-spread, that the preaching of the gospel and the missionary work of the Church are adequate to meet the demands of all reform work. Your Committee have felt the force of these representations, and have considered them with care. As the result of our consideration, we are not prepared, at this time, to recommend the appointment of a Secretary, and a large increase of the expense of this work. We prefer to advance cautiously.

We wish to hold the positions that we take. We do not feel that the indications of Divine Providence point now to the establishment of a Secretaryship.

What then is left to the Committee? We reply with caution. The whole subject is encompassed with difficulties. Intemperance, and the evils of the liquor traffic, are not to be destroyed by resolutions, nor in a day. A long severe conflict is before us. To prepare for this conflict, the Committee would suggest—

1st. The dissemination of information. Our Board of Publication is ready to co-operate with the Committee. Much may be done by the use of the press. Our religious newspapers and periodicals can render valuable assistance. The past year has witnessed the publication of several able articles, in the Presbyterian Review, on the subject of Temperance. There is work for the Committee in this direction; and this work will be productive of great good. Our brethren have already begun to appeal to us for a Temperance literature which is up to the demands of the times. The Committee may properly endeavor to supply that demand.

Again, there is work for the Committee in connection with other religious bodies. These bodies may be led, it is believed, to organize, as we have, for the promotion of Temperance interests and the defense of our rights.

Still further, it may be possible for the Committee to secure the organization of Permanent Committees on Temperance in all of our Synods and Presbyteries. If this can be done, the work of your Committee will be simplified, and we believe that a strong Christian public sentiment may be formed. Committees in each Synod, composed of one member from each Presbytery, with an additional member to act as chairman, can bring the Cause of Temperance before our churches, through the regular order of our Presbyteries and Sessions. For, the member of the Synodical Committee from each Presbytery will find it his duty to watch over the interests of this work in his own Presbytery, and thus, through the Synods, your Committee can reach the churches. In this way, also, each Synod, and each Presbytery indeed, will be left to carry on the work of Temperance, in the method which is approved by the members thereof.

Your Committee has been embarrassed by the inability to secure funds for the proper carrying on of the work. An appropriation of $250 was voted by the last General Assembly to meet the expenses of the Committee, but the terms of the appropriation were such, that no money could be drawn from the Treasurer until the close of the year. We shall require more than $500 during the next year for the general expenses of the Committee, and we would respectfully request that $500 be appropriated to this work, and in such manner as will enable our Treasurer to draw upon the same, from time to time, as the funds may be needed.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

By order of the Committee,

HENRY M. BOOTH, President.

DAVID M. STIGER, Secretary.

V. Miscellaneous.

I. THE MILEAGE AND CONTINGENT FUNDS.

Special attention is called to the Mileage and Contingent System adopted by the General Assembly of 1870, and amended by the General Assemblies of 1875 and 1877. As amended it is as follows:

"The Committee to whom it was referred to consider and report a uniform system of Mileage, whereby full provision may be made for the traveling expenses of the Commissioners to our General Assemblies, and to meet the contingent expenses of each Assembly, respectfully report:

"It is affirmed, Form of Government, Chap. xxii., Section 3, that, 'in order, as far as possible, to procure a respectable and full Delegation to all our judicatories, it is proper that the expenses of ministers and elders, in their attendance on these judicatories, be defrayed by the bodies which they respectively represent.'

"The principle is thus established, that provision should be made for the payment of the traveling expenses of Commissioners to the General Assembly. This provision should be made by the Presbyteries. As far as possible, the feebler Presbyteries should be aided in this matter by the stronger. It appears just and reasonable, and so has been found by experience, that the estimated contingent expenses of each Assembly, and the traveling expenses of the Commissioners in coming to and returning from the Assembly, should be fully met by the apportionment of the whole amount among the several Presbyteries, according to the number of their communicants respectively.

"It is, therefore, recommended—

"1. That the Standing Committee on Mileage, annually appointed, be instructed to present an estimate of the probable amount that will be needed by the next General Assembly, in order to meet their contingent expenses and the traveling expenses of their Commissioners, with a statement of the per capita rate, based on the number of communicants, that will be needed to secure the amount.

"2. That the Presbyteries, at their Stated Meeting next following the adjournment of the General Assembly, apportion the amount required of their churches as they deem best.

"3. That the churches be instructed to pay over their respective apportionments at the Stated Meeting of their Presbyteries next preceding the meeting of the General Assembly,—the whole amount due from the Presbytery to be forwarded to the Assembly by their Commissioners.

"4. That, as early as the fourth day of the sessions of the Assembly, the apportionment of each Presbytery be paid in full, and a bill of the necessary traveling expenses of its Commissioners be presented to the Standing Committee on Mileage.—N.B. It is understood that Commissioners, both in coming to and returning from the Assembly, will avail themselves of any commutation of fares that may be offered in season; and that in other cases they are to take, when practicable, the most economical route; no allowance to be made for extra accommodations on the way. Also, that no one will charge for return expenses unless he intends to go back to his field of labor; and that no one on a business tour, or excursion of pleasure, will make a convenience of the meeting of the Assembly and expect payment of his traveling expenses from the Mileage Fund. Also, that Commissioners, as soon after their arrival as practicable, are to report themselves to the Committee of Arrangements, and have their respective places of abode assigned them.

"5. That the Mileage Committee, after appropriating from the whole sum an amount sufficient to meet the estimated contingent expenses of the Assembly, be instructed to audit these bills and pay them, pro rata (if found accordance with the preceding regulations), as far as the funds will permit.

"6. That, in order to avail themselves of the proceeds of this fund, the Presbyteries must contribute their full proportion to it according to the per capita rate.

"7. That every minister, and every vacant church contributing to this Fund, connected with the Presbyteries thus complying with the provisions of this plan, be entitled to a copy of the Annual Minutes of the General Assembly.

"8. That the Commissioners from Presbyteries in foreign lands receive their necessary traveling expenses, pro rata, from their place of residence in this country.

"The Committee further recommend, that the General Assembly enjoin upon the Committee of Arrangements for the respective meetings of the Assembly, the importance of making early announcements (not later, if practicable, than the first week of May) in respect to commutation of railroad and steamboat fares."

In accordance with this system, every Presbytery is requested to pay in full, next year, to the Treasurer of the General Assembly, a sum equal to five cents for every communicant under the care of their churches, as determined by their Statistical Report, herewith printed. This will entitle their Commissioners to a full share in the apportionments for necessary traveling expenses. It is expected that these expenses will be fully met, if the Presbyteries comply with the recommendations of the Assembly.

They are expected, also, to provide for an ENTERTAINMENT FUND.

In addition to the Mileage Fund, the Assembly of 1877 made provision for a "Supplemental Contingent Expense Fund," to "be used for the purpose of meeting the expense of entertaining such Commissioners as are not otherwise provided for." Each Presbytery is requested to contribute to this Fund a sum equal at least to two cents per church member, and to forward it, with the Mileage Fund, to the Treasurer of the Assembly. It is to be disbursed by the Committee of Arrangements, whose bills for entertainment the Treasurer is authorized to pay, after they have been approved by an Auditing Committee.

II. THE ANNUAL MINUTES.

The Minutes for 1882 will be supplied at One Dollar per copy, postage included. A copy will be sent, without charge, to the Stated Clerk of every Presbytery, and of every Synod; also (in the case of every Presbytery that has paid its full apportionment to the Mileage Fund of the Assembly) to every ordained minister, and to the Session of each contributing Vacant Church, whose address is known; also to every ordained Missionary of the Foreign Presbyteries, through the Board of Foreign Missions.

III. SYNODICAL REPORTS.

A Statistical Report is to be forwarded to the Assembly by the Stated Clerk of every Synod; in which are to be stated the number and names of the Presbyteries within their bounds; the changes which may have been made in the number or arrangement of their Presbyteries; the names of the Stated Clerks of the Presbyteries; the place and hour of the next Annual Meeting; and the names of the Moderator and Stated Clerk of the Synod. A blank will be sent to the Stated Clerk of every Synod, near the close of the calendar year, which should be filled up, and forwarded, without delay, to the Stated Clerk of the Assembly.

IV. PRESBYTERIAL REPORTS.

It is required of every Presbytery to prepare and forward to the General Assembly:

1. A Statistical Report, according to the form exhibited on page 241 of the present Appendix; of which a printed blank will be furnished in due season, by order of the Assembly, to the Stated Clerk of every Presbytery. This Report should, if possible, embrace all the changes in the Presbytery previous to the first day of April.

2. A Narrative of the State of Religion within the bounds of the Presbytery, for the year ending April 1st. These Narratives should specify facts in regard to the particular churches, their state, trials, encouragements, and prospects; how many of them, and which, have enjoyed revivals of religion through the year; in which of them the Catechisms are taught, Sabbath-schools and Bible-classes organized, with the number of scholars and teachers. Also, the various arrangements of the Presbytery for Church extension; stating the number of their ministers, and the particular manner in which they are employed; the number of their churches, and how they are supplied; the number of new churches organized, and new houses of worship erected; what itinerant arrangements have been adopted for preaching the gospel; what and how much agency has been employed: together with all such other facts and suggestions as will show, from year to year, what has been accomplished, and what may need to be undertaken, to bring all the churches to a proper degree of effort to promote the kingdom of Christ. By order of the Assembly of 1880, a Blank for a Tabulated Statement of facts will annually be forwarded to the Stated Clerk of each Presbytery, to be filled properly and duly reported to the Assembly. As the Narratives are not to be publicly read, less care may be given to their style, and more to the detail of particulars, such as will aid the Committee of the Assembly in preparing their Annual General Narrative of the State of the Church.

V. STATED CLERKS OF PRESBYTERIES.

In preparing the Statistical Report, let the following RULES be strictly observed:

(1) Carefully copy the blank form and order of columns, etc., on page ☞ 241, if a blank has not been received.

(2) Record Ministers in the order of their MINISTERIAL AGE, with their CHRISTIAN names in full, without abbreviations, and their Address on the same line, in the adjoining column.

(3) ☞ Place the name of every Church and Mission Chapel opposite the name of its Pastor, or Stated Supply; never, opposite the name of any other minister; if the Church is Vacant, place it at the foot of the roll. ☜

(4) Place, after the name of every minister, an abbreviation, denoting his occupation; e.g., P., for a Pastor; P. E., for a Pastor Elect; P. C., for a Pastor of a Congregational Church; C. P., for a Colleague Pastor; A. P., for an Associate Pastor; S. S., for a Stated Supply; H. M., for a Home Missionary; D. M., for a District Missionary; C. M., for a City Missionary; T. (7) In the Additions to the church, distinguish between those on examination and those on certificate; in the Baptisms, between the adults and the infants; and be careful to observe the order of the columns in which these particulars are recorded.

(8) In the report of "Funds" contributed, observe the order of the columns, and the directions of the Assembly of 1871 (p. 589) as modified by the Assemblies of 1873 and 1874, as follows:

1. Home Missions. To include all moneys collected for the purpose, whether for the Board, or for any Home Missionary operation, including Mission Schools, carried on in connection with the Presbyteries. 2. Foreign Missions. To include all contributions for the spread of the gospel in foreign lands. 3. Education. To include all that is given for the education of Candidates for the Ministry, whether to the Board or otherwise; for Theological Seminaries, Presbyterian Colleges, Academies, and Parochial Schools. 4. Publication Missionary Fund. To include all moneys contributed to the Board for their Missionary work, and for Synodical and Presbyterial Depositaries. 5. Church Erection. To include all contributions for Church Erection, outside of the congregation, whether through the Board or otherwise. 6. Relief Fund. To include all moneys contributed for the support of disabled Ministers, and to aid the families of deceased Ministers. 7. Freedmen. To include all moneys contributed to the evangelization and education of Freedmen, whether through the Board or otherwise. 8. General Assembly. To include all given for Assembly expenses. 9. Sustentation. Contributions to the Board of Home Missions for Pastoral Sustentation. 10. Congregational. To include all moneys contributed for the congregation, the salary of the minister, the support of the parish Sunday-school, the relief of the poor of the congregation, building and repairing churches, liquidation of debts, and current expenses. 11. Miscellaneous. To include all other collections, for Bible and Tract Societies, etc., and for general benevolence.

Be sure to omit the fractions of the dollar, except in the General Assembly column.

(9) The names of the Licentiates are to be recorded immediately after the list of Ministers, in the same column, with their Address in the next column; but of the Candidates—including all who are studying for the ministry under the care of the Churches of the Presbytery—the number only is to be given.

(10) ☞ADD UP☜ and verify every column of figures, and Authenticate the Report with your signature.

(11) Annex a Statement of the number of licensures, ordinations, installations, dissolution of pastoral relations, organizations, reception and dissolution of Churches; also, any changes in the names of Churches; and the deceased (with age, date, and place) of Ministers since the last Annual Report.
